Does it have the optional AM filter and any others installed?

The keypad may develop "bounce" in that it becomes difficult to enter just one number. Be sure to ask about that.

If the radio has the optional VHF convertor there's an excellent chance the seller will want at least $300 more than a reasonable price. The VHF convertor has very limited coverage and is not worth the trouble.

If it is in good condition you will get a receiver capable of delivering performance on a par with other high-end receivers of that era such as Icom R71a and Japan Radio 525. I favor the R5000 because it's audio is noticable cleaner and the receiver footprint is smaller than the other two.

Exactly what is your name. DX Douche number Two. No wonder you call him your cousin. Is there something in your collective DNA that makes you an acehole.

I've caught Art and the group on 3807 most of the time. The phone/

That morning I had been listening on 3807 but at least then one of the guys mentioned that Art was up on 3815 apparently due to some differences of opinion.

Seems as though the same sort of thing happened when Art hung out on 3840.

Unlike the last couple of tiny insignificant spots that only lasted a day.. we now have couple of good groups of sunspots on the Sun ... not just the little tiny ones like before (i.e..... beginning of January).. but at least two good groups visible...and perhaps more will appear as the sun spins on its axis.
Good news for shortwave propogation.

We are into Cycle 24 for sure. Where we might have had doubts with the last couple of really little spots that only lasted a day.... now we need doubt no longer...

Enjoy !!! :)

Is your unquoted source sure these are from cycle 24; i.e., do they have the reversed magnetic polarity of Cycle 24 spots or the polarity of Cycle 23? Spots, per se, are not an indicator of the new cycle. A new cycle is determined by the reversed polarity of the 'new' spots...

from NASA:

> ... long known that sunspot magnetic fields reverse polarity from cycle to cycle. ...

Denny,

I own both the R-5000 and the R8A. The R-5000 is a nice radio that is very good for SSB and good for all around listening. If the radio you are looking at is in good shape at a good price, it may be an excellent value. The R-5000 can be had for a couple hundred less than a straight R8. The R8B model will run you about 3 times the price of the R-5000. That said, in my opinion, any of the R8 series are better for program (AM) listening. I bought my R8A specifically for this purpose. The R8 series also has a better feature set, and are usually more reliable. The prices on the R8 right now are on the high side, but they will fluctuate and you can get a good deal if you are patient. There is a lot of information on both radios on the internet, and I recommend you do some homework before making your purchase. Enjoy the hunt!

In 1995, Passport gave it 4 1/2 stars, noting that the core technology was ageing and that it lacked SSB and featured so-so bandwidth filters (upgradeable). Positive comments noted its capacity to handle "tough signals" and superior audio through an outboard speaker. The Drake R8 and the NRD-535 were the five-star choices that year.

I support Senator Hillary Clinton for President of the United States. Hillary is the best candidate for Asian Pacific Americans and for all Americans. She will return this country to the path of progress. She has a proven track record as an advocate on behalf of America's real needs, and will be ready to lead on Day One.

I know that for change to happen, the next person in the White House must be a proven national leader. That person must be strong, intelligent, and compassionate. Hillary Clinton is all of those things.

Hillary Clinton has an extraordinary amount of experience on the national level as a sitting Senator of our nation. She has 35 years of commitment to public service. She has been through many trying times. Not only did she survive, she has emerged a tough and experienced fighter, and I know that she will fight for us. She will work to help college students get a quality and affordable education, help working people by creating good jobs with good pay, and help the uninsured get the healthcare they need.

Though she is tough, she is also compassionate. When she graduated from law school, she could have become wealthy working for a corporation. Instead, she chose to work for the Children's Defense Fund, helping abused and neglected children. Her compassion has been a hallmark of her service all these years.

But it is her commitment to diversity that impresses me the most. It is not enough to talk in generalities about bringing people together. Instead, one must look at a person's actions. In her campaign, she was the first to start an API outreach office. An analysis of presidential campaign staffs found hers to be the most diverse, and to have the most Asian Americans. A national Asian American political advocacy group, 80-20, sent a list of 6 questions to all the presidential candidates on such issues as fighting workplace discrimination against Asian Americans and nominating Asian Americans to federal judgeships. Because of her willingness to commit, she earned the sole endorsement of the group.

Hillary has taken the lead in policy issues important to APA's, including making family reunification a priority in immigration reform. Many Asian Americans have been the victim of international politics. She has met with over 80 world leaders, is experienced in foreign affairs and will bring America back to its position as a respected world leader. It is no wonder that out of all the presidential candidates, she has the greatest number of endorsements from APA elected officials, including Senator Dan Inouye, Congresswoman Doris Matsui, former Governor Gary Locke and State Controller John Chiang.

As one of California's top 12 state constitutional officers and an elected woman myself, I deeply appreciate the strength that Hillary had to possess to get to this historic point in time. Her strength is what this country needs right now.

Hillary is our best and brightest chance for a better life for all Americans. She deserves to be the next President of the United States.

Jim,
Thank you for the help. How were the ergonomics, and did it receive a

I've owned several and they are excellent SW receivers. Very sensitive and selective. Very good value if you can pick one up around the $200 range. They do have a tendency of developing CPU problems that get worse over time, so make sure the radio works 100% before you buy.

2590. Kaito KA33 Active Antenna - Any Feedback?

Every now & again I feel an urge to throw some money into cheap shortwave stuff. I've played with the old RatShack amplified antenna - not too impressed, and a few months ago bought a Grundig Mini-World (digital) and though it doesn't compare to my Sony 7600G or Icom R75 it's kinda nice to carry around on my evening walk or to take fishing. So, I was thinking that for when I travel and just for farting around the Kaito active loop might be kinda fun. Has anyone here used one of these and if so, how does it compare to just clipping about 20 feet of wire to a whip antenna? Not interested in being pointed to links of reviews, I can use Google myself; more interested in feedback from this group.

Thanks in advance,
Greenhornet

I've listened for it several times and never heard it.
(I'm in San Diego.)

I haven't been able to listen to the .ogg file. I installed winamp but it isn't working and I haven't taken the time to figure out why.

I'm always interested in new types of signal so keep on postin'. I'll continue to check out 2750 too.

Didn't TBN pay an arm and a leg for that SW station?? "From the West to the

WHy would they want to shut it down and not sell it to someone else?

Is there anything worth listening to on WBCQ, or is he simply selling time

Hilarious!

"She says she's been to 80 countries and trips. And my travel agent has been to 150 countries and trips. That doesn't make him qualified to be president," he said.

He then went on to discuss what would have happened if John Kennedy had faced Mamie Eisenhower instead of Richard Nixon in 1960.

"Would someone say Mamie Eisenhower is better prepared to be president than John Kennedy? Being the wife of a president doesn't make you ready to be president," he said with a smile.

The doubled-over-with-laughter MSNBC interviewers then say Clinton's top supporters must be either crimson with anger or in a fetal position after hearing those comments.

It's about 5 minutes into the video. http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LX1JGJAc5hg

Do you realize what a total whack job Brzezinski is? Obama needs to deep-six that anti-Semtic piece of garbage. He was the stupidest of the stupid in the Carter administration. I would be proud to be dissed by such fucking trash as Brzezinski.

I hate to pick on the elderly, but Brzezinski should have stayed under his rock.

My info is from SOHO..... yes... I may have jumped the gun..... they could be cycle 23 spots.... in which case... we are still waiting for cycle 24. They are close to the sun's equator, Cycle 23 spots would start at higher or lower latitudes and then move down or up, and have reverse polarity as you say..... these apparently formed near the equator..
My bad..... sorry

He didn't cave in to 100% of Israel's demands during his tenure as Jimmy Carter's National Security Adviser. That makes him anti-semitic in his/their eyes. By the by, Arabs are Semites as are the Jews. But Nice to see that someone else knows the meaning of the word. By referring only to the tribe of Judah as Semite is roughly the same as referring only to US citizens as American, or only only the Republic of Congo as African.

Or perhaps more aptly, referring only to Germans as Aryan..

But then, it's so much easier to slander if one can pick a single word to use.

I have had all of the above receivers over the years, and I have a couple of comments..

I like the size of the NRD's, they are a good balance between size and usability. The R5000 and R71A are both a little too small, IMO. The R8 series scream "cheap" to me, and I really hate the looks of them, and the display is shameful in a radio that costs as much as the R8's did. I still regret passing up the R7A I did a few years back, that's the only Drake receiver I ever really wanted.

The R5000 has the best AM audio of any of them, the R71 is by far the worst. The R8/A/B is pretty close to the R5000, and is better for program listening. The NRD-525 isn't bad with the right speaker, and if you get a later production one, the famous hiss is greatly reduced. My first one, one of the very first ones sold here, hissed very badly, but the one I have now has only a slight hiss that disappears when the speaker is turned off axis slightly. The old one I had went in for repairs and a board was replaced, and the hiss was reduced about 80%.

The internal speaker on an NRD-525 is a joke. Almost useless, except to use to make sure the radio works.

Without the optional AM filter, the R5000 is a little deficient compared to an out of the box R71, R8X or NRD-525. It's not a cheap item to add, even the Inrad one is pretty expensive. And the Kenwood filter seems to be almost impossible to find, except for the one on Ebay a while back. I can't remember what it went for, but it was more than it was new.

The VHF converter for the R5000 isn't really worth it, but the NRD's UHF/VHF converter is useful, but coverage is oddly limited in the UHF area for some reason only JRC knows.

The R5000 runs very hot on AC power. There is a mod to move two regulator ICs to the rear heat sink. One of the ones I had was modded, and it was done very well by whoever did it, and he braided the wires that went through the rear panel and ran them through two rectangular holes he cut perfectly though the back. It looked almost like it was done by the factory. I kind of hated to sell it, but I had too many radios, and too little money, so off it went. Other than the heat, the R5000's weakness seems to be the keypad bounce issue.

In SSB mode, the rankings change a bit. With the speaker I found in my basement, the 525 is the best, the R5000 and R8s are close behind, with the 71A not doing too bad, if it's on a decent speaker. Mods can help the R71A, but it's still nasty on AM. I heard one with a lot of mods that had an audio out jack added to the back panel and fed into a small car amp/EQ and a decent speaker, it sounded almost as good as the R5000, but it cost a lot of money to do it, and ECSS tuning made it kind of pointless.

After all was said and done, I kept only a few of my many HF receivers, the newer NRD-525, my now almost 30 year old NRD-515, still the king on SSB, and my modded to insane levels Hammarlund HQ-100. I have a Kenwood TS-850 that I got pretty cheap, and after replacing a lot of caps, works perfectly. I also have an old Allied SX-190 that is a work in progress. Almost works 100% now, after changing all the electrolytics in it, along with a bunch of other caps and a cracked resistor. A lot of cracked solder joints were found too. Just something to play with...

Yes, I'm aware of what a Semite is. [Local radio host Christine Craft goes into this often.] However, the meaning of anti-Semitic is pretty clear these days.

Could anyone in the group who has a copy of Passport to World Band Radio from 1991 to 1998 please give me a review and star rating (out of possible five stars) for both the Drake R8 and R8A receivers, including whether either one was awarded "Passport's Choice"? I have owned all four radio's:
Kenwood R5000. Nice radio but not in the same league as the Drake R8 series. Reliability problems will haunt you and the keypad is sure to go if it hasn't already gone. This will drive you mad and the set is so old Kenwood no longer have keypad spares. My opinion = don't touch it.

Drake R8 is a serious and reliable radio with excellent backup service from Drake. A great buy. Much better than the Kenwood 5000.

Drake R8A - substantially better than the R8 and with much better SSB. Still the standard for many of my serious DX buddies. Sadly the sync detector hardly works on this model, a big minus if you are an AM program listener.

Drake R8B - a superb radio with outstanding synchronous detector. You will be supremely happy with this fine radio if you can find one at a reasonable price. It will do serious DX with the best of radio's and AM program listening to SW concert's is unbeatable.

I have also owned the '5000 and sold it shortly after the R8 was introduced. I still have an R8, which is my everyday 'workhorse' radio.

I do have an R8A and an R8B which get occasional use as does the R7.

I agree that getting an R-5000 might be iffy these days due to failures of various bits, though when working properly they are a good radio.

Actually when the White Paper was written in 1987 or thereabouts the R5000 was given 5 stars.

Yeah, I tried like crazy to like the Drake R8 and R8a but found the ergonomics were cheap feeling and the audio was somewhat better than the NRD radios but not close to the R5000.

I have had MANY higher end receivers, including a NEW R-5000 receiver.

It was very sensitive, excellent for SSB/CW/UTE listening, but my NRD-525 was just as sensitive, and produced (very surprisingly) better recovered audio on AM. I had always heard that the R-5000 had outstanding receive audio, but I found it very tiring to listen to....The 525 was used 95% of the time, and I ended up selling the R-5000....

You would do well to find a good clean LATE model NRD-525, or even a 535.....

For about the same amount of money, my Kenwood TS-450S runs rings around the R-5000, covers from 30khz to 40 mhz and with the BCB attenuator-bypass mod, is an awesome receiver wherever you tune it.....The 450 also has a good history for reliability...Just my opinion.... 73....J.....

Radio Ink -reports- Radio Must Seek New Strengths In Digital Era
-sub-title- "Digital Media Trends Radio Needs to Embrace"

http://www.radioink.com/HeadlineEntry.asp?hid=141387&pt=todaysnews

* AM/FM Radio still reaches 93% of the American Population.
* With Population Growth, its Audience has never been Larger.
* Yes AM/FM Radio is showing Declines in both Cume and in AQH, especially with younger Demos, this is worrisome.
* Also the Average Time-Spent-Listening to AM/FM Radio has Declined.
* 70% of Consumers now use multiple media simultanously.
* AM/FM Radio is particularly easy to Consume alongside other media.
* AM/FM Radio is the "perfect companion" for Internet use.
* AM/FM Radio can have an equal footing on the Internet with TV and Newspapers.
* AM/FM Radio people have to Think Inter-Active.
* The Focus for AM/FM Radio needs to be on "How can you turn Listeners into Participants?"
* Inter-Active plus AM/FM Radio is much better way to Engage your Audience that, again, drives new Revenues.
* AM/FM Radio's new HD Data Capability is "far superior to anything analog radio has had to offer in the past".
* AM/FM Radio HD Receivers offer the "BUY" Button for Music and 'other' Content and that's been part of the Digital Radio plan since the beginning.
* The AM/FM Radio profit centers have Expanded with HD-Radio and they are nearly limitless as the Internet.

- Pocket-Radio,
- The Genesis {Theme} of all that I have Posted recently is :
- That the Survival of "Free" Over-the-Air AM/FM Radio is
- dependant on the Blending of both :
- * Old Media AM/FM Radio Stations
- * Coupled with New MediaInter-ActiveWebSites etc
- * Creating Active Listeners Involvement by the 'next

- * Doesn't Matter -if- the Broadcast Mode is Analog or Digital.
- * The Inter-Active WebSite will Be Fully Digital and that is
- what 'matters' to the younger and future Audio Consumers.

- Pocket Radio - Indeed HD-Radio may be a Farce.

- But Wishing That HD-Radio Will Go Away :
- Won't Make HD-Radio Go Away

- When the AM/FM Radio Broadcast Industry is committed to

"DEAD AIR: Radio's Great Leap Forward stalling in the Valley"

"Nearly two years after the Valley's four Clear Channel stations went HD, several high-end car manufacturers have promised to offer HD radios as an option on new models. But while Ford announced in September that it offers the radios as dealer-installed upgrades -- as have Mini, Volvo, Jaguar and BMW -- local Ford and Lincoln dealers had not heard of HD and said they don't offer the option."

"Are Ford and HD Radio in Sync?"

"The radio industry will, of course, promote Ford for free in exchange for this development as part of the presumably soon-to-expire pledge of airtime to the HD radio effort."

Look what Ford pulled - Mercedes sales are down, and just like every one else, they are using HD Radio for free publicity.

That's an old guide from the era of BBS's and pre-dates web-browsing - there's not an URL to be found in it, only snail-mail addresses.
Better to refer newbies to something more contemporary - Googling the phrase "Guide to Shortwave Radio" turns up several, including http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Shortwave_listening which has many links for further exploration.

2639. IBOC : HD-Radio and the Implementation of Technological Change - Begins in the American Car and Truck

IBOCcrock,

You Don't Get It ! - The Automakers are using "HD-Radio" as a Premium Option on the High-End "Status" Cars and Trunks. Because they believe that "HD-Radio" confirs
"Status" and will Help-to-Sell New Cars and Trucks.

STATUS = New + Innovative + Interesting = Sales !

Yes the Automakers are Using "HD-Radio" for any and all the Free Publicity that they can get from the HD-Radio Alliance.

-ps- The Automakers make Premium Money on Each Premium Option : It is only incidental that this Premium Option is an "HD-Radio".

This simply follows a Tried-and-True Marketing Scheme that has been used forever by the Automakers : They use something that they consider "New + Innovative + Interesting" as a Premium Option on the High-End
"Status" Cars and Trunks for 1~3 Years.

Next the Automakers will make "HD-Radio"a Standard Feature on those High-End "Status" Cars and Trunks; and a Premium Option on their 'other' Vehicles for another 1~3 Years.

-ps- The Automakers make make Money on Each Standard Feature inclued in the New Higher Price of the New and Better Car and Truck even when that Feature is an "HD-Radio"
Plus The Automakers will be making much more Premium Money on Each Premium Option Sold : It is only incidental that this Premium Option is an "HD-Radio".

Then with another for 1~3 Years the Automakers make
"HD-Radio" a Standard Feature on all Cars and Trucks.

-ps- The Automakers make make even more Money on Each Standard Feature inclued in the New Higher Price of All the New and Better Car and Truck even when that Feature is an "HD-Radio".

HD-Radio and the Implementation of Technological Change :
[Begins in the American Car and Truck]

The most direct path to the vast majority of "Free" Over-the-Air AM/FM Radio Listeners has always been -via- the Radios in their Cars and Trucks. What Happens Audio Wise in the Cars and Trucks follows-through in the Home and Office; again with-in 1~3 Years.

Do-the-Math : 3 + 3 + 3 = 9 Years which is about a Decade.
The vast majority of new Cars and Trucks will have a new "HD-Radio" in them and many used Cars and Trucks will have a new "HD-Radio" in them too.
+ Add-in another 3 Years and in little over a Decade the vast majority of American Homes and Offices will have a new "HD-Radio" in them too.

Don't have to Like or Hate "HD-Radio" to understand the Path of Change and Trends that 'cause' Change to Occur.

Probably high electricity costs to run something like that. Not sure what type of transmitter they have but I am sure that in Utah it is costing a pretty penny to run that sort of operation. Maybe TBN is figuring out that Shortwave isn't their high priority medium as well. Figuring that they are on Direct TV, Dish Network, Insight, and others. Its easier to do the video part of it and probably more profitable. More than likely they would see SW as a sinking ship except for overseas in the Developing World.

I have the Kaito KA35 which has interchangable antennas one for SW and one for MW. I bought it for MW and sitting next to my CCrane+ it does and acceptable job on MW but the plug in, where the antenna connects to the amplifier is really cheaply made and fell apart the first time I removed the MW ferrite bar. I never did try the whip on SW. I did some repairs myself to fix up the plug and it now works ok. I would not recommend buying this antenna due to it's poor build quality. I am not sure about the KA33.

You don't get it:

"Ford Gets More Sirius"

"Sirius Satellite Radio and Ford announced today that they are targeting a 70% installation rate for the Ford and Mercury brand of automobiles. Ford had previously announced that their Lincoln brand was effectively at standard equipment. This commitment with the Ford and Mercury brands is a substantial step for Sirius, as it brings Ford up to a similar installation pace as Chrysler."

http://siriusbuzz.com/ford-gets-more-sirius.php

"Ford to make Sirius Factory Standard in Canada"

"Here's some incredible news for Sirius Canada: Ford of Canada has announced that they will make Sirius Satellite Radio a factory-standard feature in virtually all Fords sold in Canada, by the end of 2007. That's a total of 20 vehicle lines. Absolutely great news, and hopefully a sign of things to come for the U.S."

http://www.orbitcast.com/archives/ford-to-make-sirius-factory-standard-in-canada.html

"Ford SYNC, HD Radio and the state of competition"

"Now here's the killer: Ford is making SYNC available as a factory-installed option for just over $300. And for the top-end trim levels, like the Focus SES, it'll be a standard feature."

http://www.orbitcast.com/archives/ford-sync-hd-radio-and-the-state-of-competition.html

"Radio: Internet Radio or HD Radio. You choose!"

"The first video is a pitch from Ford for their new optional SYNC, which, among many other things, allows one to listen to any Internet Radio from anywhere in the world... I searched in vain for a Ford pitch video on HD Radio but, wisely, they didn't do one."

"iBiquity Digital Investor Information"

"iBiquity's investors are global leaders in the technology, broadcasting, manufacturing, media and financial industries all supporting the development and rollout of HD Radio broadcasting:
Leading Manufacturers include Ford Motor Company, Visteon Corporation...."

http://www.ibiquity.com/about_us/investor_information

"Lincoln Mercury, Visteon and iBiquity to Showcase HD Radio?"

"Both Ford and Visteon have agreements with iBiquity Digital, the sole developer and licenser of digital AM and FM radio in the United States, with Visteon already developing HD Radio capable OEM receivers for the 2004 model year."

"WSJ: Clear Channel deal is near collapse"

Ouch, that's got to hurt. Just as Sirius and XM edge closer to finalizing their own merger, the Wall Street Journal is now reporting that Clear Channel Communications Inc. is having trouble closing their own.

Indeed, they're saying it's nearing a complete "collapse."

According to WSJWhat-Murdoch-Must-Do-With-Dow-Jones sources, the private equity firmsRecruiting-Under-the-Radar behind the deal (Thomas H. Lee and Bain CapitalMitt-Romney-MBA Partners LLC) and the banks financing it have failed to resolve their differences over the terms of the credit agreement. Those banks are Citigroup, Morgan Stanley, Deutsche Bank, Credit Suisse, RBS and Wachovia.

"The sponsors do not want to do this deal," said one person involved, referring to the private equity firms. "No one wants to do this deal except for the seller."

Aw shucks.

Very good,but no keypad. Has high performance front end,Collins filters.Audio output stage uses a Philips IC and sounds exceptionally well (5 watts and low distortion). As far as I know the first few versions had problems,but it has been resolved and the unit I have is trouble free. Try to get one made in the last 3 years, or better, a NEW one.Good radio!

The T2FD antenna is probably the best overall if: it is installed away from any metallic objects and is fully stretched out according to the instructions. Have built one some years ago using gauge 10 (an overkill) electrical wire,a Palomar balun (9:1 ratio) and PVC tubing. Worked extremely good here in NYC.How high is your location? I believe there is a minimum heght required and it must be sloped at an angle either 15 or 30 degrees. Very low noise,broadband,good gain-even tried a VHF scanner and, surprisingly, got good results !

Imhotep,

No one asked George bush if he would be a president for all the people.

So why are they asking that of Barack?

No one asked any of the Republicans to leave their preachers, or friends they admired who made some incredibly hostile, racist, and violent statements.

So why are they asking Barack to separate from Rev Wright?

How many bombs has Rev Wright ordered to be dropped on Middle Eastern babies, children, pregnant women, adults and senior citizens?

Which of you hundreds of thousands on these forums can show proof that Rev Wright is incorrect with ANY of the statements he has made?

If you can't , then you need to accept what he has said about your ethnic groups as fact, and change your behavior accordingly, if you don't want the world in general and African Americans, Native Americans, Hispanics, and Asians to view you in the manner that they do.

Actions speak louder than words.

Be ye not just hearers of the word, but rather DOERS!

As a human being thinketh...so are they.

White folks analyze Black people all day every day. We deal with it Ok.

Why do Whites turn into psychopaths when intelligent Black people point out the historical and current atrocities for which the Caucasian ethnic groups is responsible?

Could it be that you all are afraid that if we gain control of this country, we will do the same things to you that your ethnic groups has done to African Americans the past 200 years?

Why are you all afraid of a Black President?

You are the one that does not "get it". Most people don't even know what HD radio is and if they do they don't generally want it. Most people that are serious about music get satellite radio.

Sloping the antenna near the ground helps make it less directional but it would pick up more signal if it was higher off the ground.

On receive the most important factor is capture area. The same antenna in the shape of a circle or square would have a greater capture area and lower impedance so you would not need the 9:1 transformation.

Replacing the front end FET is relatively easy and would greatly increase the resale value of your 2010. The FET only costs a few dollars. If you know how to solder, I suggest you consider doing the repair before selling the radio. You can find the information online for testing the FET and how to change it. It doesn't require any test equipment, just removing the rear cover of the radio and a small circuit board which has the FET.

That's right, if everyone liked the same radios, only one company would stay in business. I've wanted an R7 or R7A since I saw one for the first time at a friend's dad's place, but I never really was even slightly interested in buying an R8X, they never "grabbed me" in the slightest. I only bought the R8A I did to help a friend out who needed money, with the agreement he could buy it back later on for the price he sold it to me for. I got to use it for a year and a half for free, and got a $50 gift card for Red Lobster as a bonus. I actually liked the R71a better than the R8A. I don't think the R8X deserves to be mentioned along with the R7s, it's not in the same class.

In the ergonomics race, JRC leaves everyone in the dust.

Here is what he had to say about Bear Stearns, 3 days before it's collapse.

Why is Barack "_" Obama Afraid of Being Viewed as Half-White and the First Bi-Racial Candidate for US President ?

Knowledge / Imhotep,

Truth is that Barack "_" Obama is a Half-Assed White Man that the Vast Majority of what you call "Whitey" {Caucasians} would Love to Vote for : Except for his Uber Liberal Politics.

Barack "_" Obama is Down Right Friendly and Likeable :
But His Uber Liberal Politics Suck.

Barack "_" Obama is More Liberal than Hillary "Rotten" Clinton : But She is Down Right Un-Friendly and Not Likeable.

To Be Honest - To Call Barack "_" Obama an African-American or a Black Man : Buys Into the Oldest Racial Stereo-Typing in the USA. The Concept of One Drop of African {Black} Blood
-Means- THAT YOU ARE ALL BLACK : Which Is Bull Shit.
Point-of-Fact Barack "_" Obama is Multi-Racial American and Can Stand as a Figure of Unity Between the Races.
* Barack "_" Obama needs to Embrace the White-Man Within Him as an Equal to the Black-Man Within Him.
* Barack "_" Obama needs to Change the Racial Dynamic in America By Being Who He Really Is : A Half-White-Man a Euro-America who also happens to be Half-Black and an African-America.

You should be able to find an R8B for less than $1K these days. I got mine for $950 a few years ago. I encourage you to hold out for the 'B' model. It's really much better than the earlier ones. You won't be disappointed. Good luck.

Sure, most of the remote-controlled receivers on the Web can do 11m/CB.
The ones that I have used (besides my own online receiver) are in upstate NY, NC, FL and MN. Search the Web for "web controlled receiver". Also check the Yahoo Web Receiver group and Lost DXers' Forum. I haven't looked for new ones in awhile, perhaps you'll find some in other parts of the U.S.

There are no words to describe how stupid you are. Obama's only chance of being elected is to convince enough Whites that he will be President for all Americans. That idiot Wright may have done more to sink Obama's nomination than those racist Whites you are so busy spouting off about.

What is the difference between a Whte racist and a Black racist such as you?

You are total racist moron and the only way you can help Obama is to keep your mouth shut until after the election and hopefully after the election.

from whatever has become known about him in the primary season, it's clear that he's no less hypocritical than any other politician. Change... Hope.. is all hogwash. His actions do not follow his speeches. Resko, Wright, negative attacks on Clintons when promising a positive campaign, making racist statements when convenient... is now making people squeamish about him and they naturally are suspicious about him. With Clinton and McCain they know what they are getting.

Obama is the best of the three. Vast right wing conspiracy Hillary is nothing but lies and Songbird McCain is no better.

Obama denounced Resko and Wright but we will never see Hillary denounce the "I had no sex with that woman" husband of hers. We will find out a lot more about McCain's "heroics" when the campaign gets going. He is no hero but a piss poor pilot who made 32 VC videos condemning America.

How about Hillary dodging bullets in Bosnia? She calls that a misstatement, others call it a bald-faced lie.

I take the Black guy over these phonies, any time.

Obama in no uncertain terms told everybody that he is a 'phony' when he wrote a memo to the Canadian NAFTA officials. His talks on being tough on NAFTA was all phony and there's a written evidence to that.

His talk about healthcare reforms is all phony when his wife sits on the board of directors of the University of Chicago hospitals and gets quarter of a million dollars a years so that those hospitals can bill the uninsured patients 35% over normal insured rates and send collection agencies to the poor patients. The UC hospitals not surprizingly earned a profit of $300 million last year.

It's only been a few months since the media started looking into Obama's past actions and all sorts of phony things are coming out about him. The rate is alarming.
People don't completely know what's hidden in the Obama's closets yet.

Obama already released his tax return and every part of their income appears to be legitimate.
Hillary so far refused to release her return.

A totally false fabrication without anything to support it.

Other than the antics of Resko and Wright that the Clinton dirt machine tries to smear Obama with, I do not expect to see anything that the Clintons can smear Obama. I expect the Clinton dirt machine to regurgitate Resko and Wright many times in hopes of smearing Obama.
It might work with the uneducated rednecks but Obama's educated supporters can easily through it.

Hillary will not be able to claim "experience" and "immunity" from all the dirt she and Bill crawled through these past years. If Hillary tells me how she turned $1,000 into over $100,000 on short notice, I might even vote for her. Unfortunately, I do not have the insider trading option that Hillary had.

The stuff I find on McCain is getting better and better:

That is your opinion. He talks the talk but has yet to prove he walks the wlk. I remember the last time we elected (or appointed) an unknown quantity-it led to a war agaisnt the wrong folk and ignored the bin Laden guy. Or have you forgotten?

>Vast right wing conspiracy Hillary is > nothing but lies

The extremists in the right wing spent eight years undermining and attacking Bill Clinton-not because he was Bill Clinton-or for his affair-or his cover-up of hiis affair-but they were targeting the Office of the President in order to weaken it. Then when they came to power their goal was to undue all that they did in insure that the Office they now controlled became bloated with so much power that they can break the law with impunity, secret away emails, oversight, and appoint agenda-like minded people to positions in the courts, thumb their nosses at the Congress-THE OTHER BRANCH OF GOVERNMENT-a branch you right wingers find standing in your way. Unfortunately for America the Congress turned out to be a rubber stamp-with their balls cut off-for this extreme wing of the GOP. You are a liar of the highest order-much like the NEAeocons you adore. Fuck off and die, Nazi.

You are talking out of both sides of your mouth on this one. You slam Bill for breaking his vow of loyalty and fealty to his wife. You find fault with that. Such a finding on your part implicitly boasts of the virtue of loyalty. But yet, you slam Hillary for her loyalty to her husband and imply her loyalty is somehow a fault and Hillary should be spurned for it. Why should anyone, therefore listen to your harps?

McCain is a hero and no amount of torture he went through will change that.

2717. 900 kHz Image Problem with the Longwave Bands even on a Grundig G5 receiver

If you live in a city area or some rural area with a real strong AM station its likely it will be found on the longwave bands from 150 to 519 kHz (1050 kHz to 1419 kHz) the 900 kHz carrier image. Please understand that this station is not a real longwave radio station. Its a image from the broadcast station when the station is strong enough to bleed on other longwave frequencies. The radios that I have is the DX-380, DX-390, DX-392 and the yes the new Grundig G5. It has do something with the dual conversion circuitry . I am hoping that manufactuers, hobbyists, and technicians will use the 900 kHz formula to see other image stations to show that these AM stations should not be on the LW bands.

Desired AM Station (kHz) - 900 kHz = Image Station

The images I am getting here locally in Virginia Beach, VA on LW is

150 kHz = 1050 kHz WVXX -AM
210 kHz = 1110 kHz WYRM-AM
330 kHz = 1230 kHz WJOI -AM
410 kHz = 1310 kHz WGH-AM
450 kHz = 1350 kHz WGPL -AM
500 kHz = 1400 kHz WPCE-AM

AM Band Images that are annoying

550 kHz = 1450 kHz
650 kHz = 1550 kHz

Yes. I've taken an older version out into the North Woods, with excellent results using a random wire antenna, against an earth ground.

Off the whip it's not nutslappingly impressive. But with an external antenna, very nice, indeed.

Given the quality of local radio in and around the North Woods...DX, MW and SW, is a sanity saver.

You are seeing a problem that is common to many inexpensive radios.
If you tune down 900khz from a strong nighttime station on the 6mhz band you will hear image signals too. The solution is to pay more for a better designed radio.

I forget. What is the proper context to shout "God Damn America."

Throwing Reverend Wright under the bus is not good enough. He should be thrown under a train. In any event, Obama didn't throw Wright under the bus. Thus he approves of the hate speech of Reverend Wright and thus has lost any chance of my vote. The "typical white person" speech was a low point.

Obama is just another sleezy politician. He couldn't throw Wright under the train because he needs the black vote. So he will do anything to win.

Obama gave Reverend Whack Job $30k last year. Need I say more?

I never voted for a Republican for president, but I'll take McCain over Obama.

Then, after SEVERAL YEARS, became an option on most cars. I am surprised that so many people are so clueless as to how new products start and develop into the mainstream. That's what they said about cable. And later satellite TV.

It's all about content, Gary. What you want, you'll pay for. Cable TV has taught us that.

HD has failed to deliver on its promise of better audio. And it's never made a case for content.

Cable subscribers signed up for content not available over the air. Satellite TV subscribers signed up for content not available through Cable.

Satellite radio subscribers have signed up for content not available on terrestrial radio.

HD could offer the same alternatives, but has not. So, HD has been of interest to gadgeteers and geeks, broadcasters and those with a vested interest in the technology. But the public has been unwilling to drop $200+ on a radio that only provides what is already available free.

Radio listening is about content. Until HD is promoted for it content, it will not garner much interest with the buying public.

If the radio is not playing what the listener wants to hear....it doesn't matter what it sounds like.

that's not the point. The Obamas were/are in a good position to make a start at healthcare reforms he touts about right there in Chicago. Why did they not have the hospitals adopt more humane policies toward the uninsured patients instead of allowing them to 1. fleece the uninsured and 2. send collection agencies at the doorsteps of those poor patients. Why did the UC hospitals increase his wife's salary by about $200K after he became a US senator? It's clear Obama doesn't care about healthcare for the poor and the uninsured. He will say anything to anybody for profit or money.

IGOR,

Yes Zbigniew Brzezinski helped lay the foundation for Today's more Fair and Balance approach to Israel and an American Foreign Policy which is both Pro-Israel and Palestine Peace Accord; plus Balanced toward all countries in the Middle East.

Once of the few things I give Zbigniew Brzezinski and former

2740. Re: 900 kHz Image Problem with the Longwave Bands even on a Grundig G5 receiver

What you are seeing are 3rd order intermodulation products that are being generated in your 1st mixer. If you will notice, the frequencies that you are hearing the stations on are mathematically related to the station minus 900kHz.
The way that you can eliminate them is to use a low-pass filter that cuts off at 500kHz at the antenna input of your receiver. Some of today's receivers use a 1MHz low-pass filter as the first preselector range. Not a good idea, since in the Chicago area, you can get 3rd order mixing products from WGN 720 mixing with WBBM 780, with a resultant on 60kHz.
Another example would be WGN 720 mixing with WIND 560. The resultant product would be 720 - 560, or 220kHz. Please note that the 3rd order IMD products are not only difference frequencies, but you can also have the sum of the two frequencies showing up as an upper sideband in addition to the lower sideband that manifests itself in the LW band.
That other fellow's post about the (2 X 450kHz) image was a good suggestion, but in this case, you are encountering 3rd order mixing products.
Two solutions.....use band limit filters ahead of the receiver's front end, or use a mixer that requires a much higher LO injection level. A diode ring mixer or some kind of FET switching mixer will fill the bill here. The key is having a high enough LO injection level in this case, so that the LO is actually turning on and switching the devices in the mixer instead of the signal that appears at the RF port of the mixer.
This is one of the things that you pay for when you purchase a more expensive communications receiver. In the old days, this problem wasn't really an issue, since receivers of that time either used a tracking front end that had a multiple gang tuning capacitor that would tune the input circuits as you varied the frequency.....or, they had a separate preselector control that you would peak to the desired frequency.
I hope this helps.

Murdoch is far from being the only media baron around. There's a document called "Who Rules America?" which gets into the details. It can be easily found on the net. You may not agree with the author's underlying thesis, but it is nevertheless a useful piece of research.

HD radio wasn't created because listeners were demanding better sound.
Demand was created by radio, in response to satellite radio. If automakers can't sell radios because theirs no demand from consumers, how then will dealers make money from a preimum option?

Here are some content examples.

Texas. Austin, Houston, Dallas, McAllen., E lPaso. Tejano HD programming on one Univision station per market, giving these markets their only Tejano service. Tejano is a music style of third to fourth generation Hispanics in Texas, and has considerable following, but not enough for a main channel service.

LA. Amor Celestial. On KLVE HD2, only contemporary Christian all music format available in LA metro, with signal most usable in the Inland Empire as well. Has its own studio, not just a computer, with PD, jocks, artist interviews, etc.

It's more than car listening. Only about 30% of radio listening is in the car.

GEE, WHERE ARE THE BULLETS? Hillary Rodham Clinton is hardly fleeing snipers on the tarmac in Tuzla, Bosnia, in 1996 http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8BfNqhV5hg4

March 26, 2008 --

WASHINGTON - Hillary Rodham Clinton's lies about risking her life under sniper fire during a visit to Bosnia as first lady have infuriated the US military brass and troops.

"She has no sense of what a statement like that does to soldiers," fumed retired Maj. Gen. Walter Stewart, the former head of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

"She is insulting the command in its entirety," he said yesterday.

Clinton came under fire after saying she "misspoke" about what happened during the trip and claimed it was the first time she erred in describing her visit - an assertion Barack Obama's campaign quickly disproved by finding at least three prior occasions over the last few months where she's claimed there was sniper fire.

Stewart, who was assigned to the Army's European headquarters at the time of Clinton's visit in 1996, called her statements "really astonishing."

"Believe me, heads would have rolled all over" if the military put the then-first lady at "unacceptable risk," added Stewart, who is supporting Barack Obama.

Air Force Lt. Gen. Buster Glosson, a John McCain supporter who ran the air attack in the first Gulf War, said, "It bothers me any time anyone running for the highest office in the land fabricates a story.

"That should bother any American, whether you're military or nonmilitary."

Another source, a former Army analyst who was stationed abroad when dignitaries visited, said, "You know, we have soldiers overseas now who are getting shot at by real bullets from real enemies who really want to kill them.

"Getting shot at by snipers is not something you forget - or make light of," he added.

I disagree. Radio is a timeless, elemental technology which is probably going to be around as long as humans inhabit this earth. It will probably decline in popularity as new technologies come around, but I doubt it will ever completely go away. If large commercial broadcasters are leaving (analog) radio, that can only be a good thing, IMO: it will free the airwaves for smaller, independent broadcasters to operate with little government interference.

BTW, out of the technologies you list, only one is truly obsolete: 8 track tapes. Dial-up is still used by a lot of people, and in rural areas, it is often the ONLY way to get online. 45s are still a popular release format among indy rock bands, and a lot of smaller labels are still releasing vinyl. As for cassettes, they're still widely available, so presumably, people are still buying them. As a matter of fact, someone mentioned an article to me a few months ago that was titled, "Cassettes: the format that refuses to die."

Then, I'm guessing that HD radio sales in Austin, Houston, Dallas, and McAllen have spiked in response to Tejano HD programming.

No? Hmmmmmm....

You present examples. But you don't show where a case has been made for content. Thank you for making my point for me.

HD is largely ignored. First because its promise of higher audio fidelity hasn't materialized, but secondly because there's been no case made for alternative content.

Let me give you a classic and dramatic example. WLS is unlistenable at my location in Lake County, well within (what used to be known as) the WLS Chicago ADI. Low signal, high noise, IBOC interference from out of market. Unlistenable. I'm not the only one who's noticed.

WLS IS, however available on WZZN's HD-2.

Right there is a ready market for HD.

Has this been ever promoted? Ummmm....no. I know it's there because the WLS PD told me in a casual conversation at lunch last year.

Otherwise, like everyone else in Chicago, I'd never have known.

No case has been made for alternative content for HD.

If it's there, Brother David, it might be a good idea for someone to start talking about it.

As I said, HD has been ignored for two reasons. One the promise of superior audio fidelity, the cornerstone of EVERY HD promo I've heard to date, hasn't materialized. And second, because a case hasn't been made for content.

I've said since the beginning, here, that if HD uptake is going to be increased, it has to be through content.

But content is the one thing absent from HD promotion.

Have anyone but me noticed that David rarely actually addresses a statement made here. But rather, picks a script that hits one of his pseudo-statistical drumbeats, and repeats that, without really addressing the issue.

Kind of makes you wonder if his professional education came at the Customer Service training seminar at Microsoft.

GENERAL USE TESTS & COMPARISONS WITH OTHER RADIOS

After using the E5 for several days I am very impressed with this little radio. It is the most sensitive radio in this size I have ever tested (matched by the DE1103/KA1103 of course). I plugged in the supplied SW wire antenna and my reception improved noticeably. It gives a real boost to weak daytime SW signals...with it the E5 will pull in most of what's available on any SW portable radio...yes it really is that good! I tuned in AFRTS and a few Hams and can verify that SSB performance was solid and stable. The Local /DX switch often improved things substantially in this mode. I have other more sophisticated radios which make tuning SSB a bit easier and allow more control over SSB reception, but for a small travel portable the E5 acquitted itself very nicely in SSB mode.

Comparing it with my trusty Sony 7600GR, the E5 proved slightly more sensitive on AM & SW and noticeably more sensitive and selective on FM. But before anyone exaggerates this comparison let me put it into perspective.

Tuning for extremely faint daytime AM and SW signals...ones which I could barely hear at all, there was just a SLIGHT superiority in the E5. For example, WWV on 15 MHz was coming in weakly one afternoon...it was just at the threshold of audibility where I could hear the tone reliably enough to set a clock by it. As this signal faded in and out of the noise, it remained a bit longer on the E5 than on the 7600GR. The difference was slight, but always in favor of the E5. Listening for the beeps which occur exactly on each minute there were several times I heard it on the E5 while the 7600GR had only hiss. As the signal faded in a bit more it became more equal on the two radios...so as signal levels rise a bit the two radios become closer.

I have a 7600GR & a G-5. The 7600 is better built but the G-5 sounds considerably better. If your primary intrest is DX, the 7600 has an edge (although the G-5 is every bit as sensitive). The G-5 is much better for general all around listening. I put my 7600 back in the box to keep for later and use the G-5 bedside, and to take along in the motor home. I also have an E-100 for a pocket radio, that works better than you would expect.

Yes, it has. In the Texas markets we have done station displays in stores promoting the channels, and estimates are around 20,000 receivers sold in Houston.

The post made it seem like in-car was the end-all to HD sales. It isn't,

Than that would make you unique. Oh...who knew.

Sony ICF7600GR, (I have an earier version... the ICF2002 also sold as the ICF7600D). Kaito KA1101, Kaito KA1102 (with SSB) also sold under the Degen label as the DE1101 and DE1102

Grundig G5/ Eton E5......

Super portable...you give up some features for small size and portablility, but these are good for their size....
Eton E100...... Kaito KA11/Degen DE11

I own each of those radios,, and I like them all. The small ones are great for throwing in a backpack along with a extra stretch of antenna wire, or my compact TG34, (DE31MS) active loop. If you have more money, and don't mind a larger active loop rig, see if you can find the Sony active loop. It's better.... but not as compact and costs a lot more.
Take a look at the reviews at Radio Intel http://www.radiointel.com/and Eham http://www.eham.net/ at Eham go to "Reviews" then "Receivers: General Coverage"

Also buy a 2008 copy of Passport to World Band Radio for their reviews of receivers in the price range you are interested in.

I bought one of the original ones when they first came out.I have the board with the red solder mask vs the new units that have the green solder mask. Even before I did the upgrades, the radio worked very well. Early on, the input coil for the 455kHz I.F. strip was changed to a tunable one, to compensate for variances in the resonating capacitor. Eventually, a higher stability trimmer cap for the reference oscillator was used. As the Murata CFR series of metal cased filters became unavailable, mechanical filters were used for both I.F. bandwidths.
AGC action is very good.....this radio can handle 1 volt of RF at the antenna input before the unit goes into clipping. A UHF LO is used, and it is divided down by 8, so that you get the advantage of fine tuning steps along with fast settling time of the synthesizer.
Even though the LF preselector range switches over at 1MHz, the 1st mixer is very good, so there is no evidence of 3rd order IMD products on the longwave band. One of the best receivers ever made; mine is a keeper!

I currently use a Kenwood R2000 and am considering upgrading to a new rig.

Has anyone here used an amateur radio transceiver for shortwave listening? I'm considering the Yaesu FT-950, FT-2000 or IC-7400 and would be interested to hear how they sound relative to a dedicated receiver such as the R2000.

The ICR75, IC8500 and AOR-7030 seem to be less value for money relative to amateur radio transceivers as they incorporate less features and lack performance.

No, it woud not. There are quite a few individual markets where locally inspired HD stuff has had an impact on sales.

It should be able to provide a link if there was such a memo from Obama.
The smear story is a fabrication.

The point is that you are just trying to smear Obama and have no proof for what you claim. The Obama and Clinton healthcare proposals are nearly identical. Obama healthcare reforms will not be planned in secret as Hillary tried to do.

In any case, it is meaningless to talk about Obama's tax return while Hillary is hiding hers from the American public.

Given the sales curve, about the same impact as Kevin Tekel's AMS

Obama was against the war before it started. Obama is still against the war. The American people do not want war. Only the zionazis want to murder millions of people for Israel and they do not care if it ruins America.

The problem with Hillary is that she is so desperate that she does not

Other POWs tell us that he was not tortured. Instead, he received special treatment because he collaborated with the VC.

I watch CNN also :) Obama's claims are not fully supported but they are not lies. Hillary just lies.

I do not have to talk about McCain's record. There will be plenty of vets who know him and they will. The sad part about McCain's hero lies is that no one can stand torture for long and he would not be condemned for making those VC propaganda videos. The problem is that he lied about his conduct because he wanted to look special. That makes his record fair game.

I'm getting an American English evangelist on 6088khz.

The only reference I have for this station lists it as being in Chile.

Any insights?

I have the newer SW8 in addition to an R8B. The SW8 is a very good receiver for listening to international broadcasters and occasional SSB stations but it doesn't have the features or performance of the R8B for "serious DX'ing". If you are currently using a Sony-2010, I don't think you would be that impressed with an SW8. The R8B is the way to go for someone in your situation that wants to upgrade to a high end receiver.

IIRC, he's in the US Virgin Islands. Last I heard, they are part of the US.

I can't comment on the Yaesu's, but the Icom IC-7400 is a great rig to use as an upmarket DSP receiver (great value for money too for what you get). A listener BM has two of them and is very satisfied with them. However, if you want to DX on MW/LW you would have to remove the factory attenuation in those bands. See http://arcticdx.blogspot.com/ the 7400 is also sold as the 746Pro

I am using an Icom IC-756PROIII which I am extremely happy with as a listener. See:
http://www.dxing.info/equipment/icom_ic756_plimmer.dx

Also consider a SDR Perseus sold by Martin Lynch. See:
http://www.hamradio.co.uk/acatalog/Microtelecom.html#a3181
Many DXer's are moving to the SDR's.

A few of the reviewers at eHam (http://www.eham.net/reviews/detail/6815) have reported quality-control issues with the G5. One guy even says he got 3 bad G5's in a row! Have you had any such experiences with your G5? (This question also goes for the other Jeff who responded.)

No problems. I haven't dropped it or anything, but it's pretty well

If you had a proper radio, knew how to tune it, and knew how to use reference material you'd most likely find that it was Dr. Gene Scott on 6090 kHz.

Hey, It's March break and all the kids take a vacation! How can anyone campaign non stop without a couple of days off? Rev. Wright seems to be the only one who can do that :-) Your McCain-Clinton ticket sounds interesting. Anything to break the deadlock.

Problems like this come from two problems. On some radios, the ferrite antenna used for AM and longwave is not tuned and therefore provides no selectivity that can provide image rejection. This is combined with first IF filters that do not have high ultimate rejection.

If ultimate rejection of the first IF is only 30-40 dB, then that is all the image rejection you will see. (What matters here is the rejection of signals 900 kHz away from the center of the filter's passband.

CC Gets Restraining Order

A TEXAS judge ordered banks to fund the proposed $19 billion buyout of CLEAR CHANNEL COMMUNICATIONS by two private-equity firms CLEAR CHANNEL said in a statement on early this morning (3/27), reports MARKETWATCH. District Court Judge JOHN D. GABRIEL of BEXAR COUNTY, TEXAS, granted a temporary restraining order against the banks and CLEAR CHANNEL.

"He found in favor of CLEAR CHANNEL's claim that irreparable harm would result if the banks were not immediately enjoined from tortiously interfering with the merger agreement," the company said.

"Accordingly, Judge GABRIEL ordered that the banks, among other things, must not 'interfere with or thwart consummation of the merger agreement' by refusing to fund the merger transaction, insisting on terms that are inconsistent with the commitment letter, or refusing to act in good faith in the drafting of definitive loan documents," the company added.

CLEAR CHANNEL has agreed to be purchased by THOMAS H. LEE PARTNERS and BAIN CAPITAL. But lenders including CITIGROUP, MORGAN STANLEY, DEUTSCHE BANK, CREDIT SUISSE, ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND and WACHOVIA have declined to provide the financing that they once said they would issue.

"It seems clear that lenders' remorse set in when credit markets worsened," BAIN and THOMAS H. LEE said in a statement WEDNESDAY. "Now they are trying to walk away from their commitment letter which clearly states that they bear all the risk that conditions in the debt markets might change."

CCU Up In Pre-Market: 29.50 +2.58 (9.58%)

He may be right but he is scary. He looks scary and talks scary.

What bothers me is that racists such as Wright probably hate me even if I had nothing to do with slavery and have never done any harm to "his people". Obama would do well to keep his distance.

In a church is the perfect place. Religion is bullshit.

The USA is not perfect and will just keep getting less perfect until we collectively see ourselves for what we are. It ain't pretty.

The Clinton dirt machine may sink Obama's nomination but it will cost

As someone who lived radio from the age of 13 onward, I ONLY listen in the car; and then only to Sirius for the BBC, FNC and music; and a little AM New Talk (usually DXing at the same time). The FM here is terrible. I use web radio at home and at work.

Did my monthly check at Best Buy to check on the sales status of HD radios. Same three on the shelf. One box is empty. It's the demo unit. These three have been there for six months or so.

I decided to give the demo unit a try. Of the three local HD stations in town (two of which are NPR stations) it could pick up only one of them. WOW.

The only way I knew it switched from analog to HD mode was to look at the screen. You sure couldn't discern any significant change in audio quality.

Not sure what the point is. Who would want one of these?

He has done more than me. And you.
But I served on active duty for 9 years which I think counts for something.
And the point is as a state and US Senator he hasn't done shit. All you have is hope..that he will do something.

"Radio: Ponzi's back!"

In 1918, we had Charles Ponzi.
Ninety years later, we have Peter "Sgt. Bilk-o" Ferrara.
Schemes.
*
From Ponzi to HD Radio.
Ibiquity has the license and collects the fees. The HD Radio Alliance, which Sgt. Bilk-o runs, does the fast-talkin', slow walkin' hype. Right?
Like the other schemes, the HD Radio edition begins with a hard-sell sales pitch to hook you in and establish the product. Right?
How about promoting and marketing HD Radio to the masses? Don't worry. The HD Radio Alliance will do that for you. All you have to do is give up a large chunk of your inventory to run a hefty schedule of their creative - for free! Right?
To get involved in HD Radio, a company has to invest in, buy the products, and pay licensing fees to become a participant. Right?

When someone's invested in the operation in addition to buying the services, you've got a lock. Right?
An average HD Radio package for a radio station runs between $100,000 and $250,000. Right?
HD Radio is run by a monopoly - Ibiquity. To use their system - the only one approved by the FCC back when Michael "where's my taste?" Powell was its chairman - you have to pay an annual license fee. Its cost is determined by - you guessed it - Ibiquity. Right?
*
Selected radio consultants, writers, and media organization heads are hired as carporegimes who act like press flacks and indie promoters to back Ibiquity and the HD Radio Alliance. Right?
On certain planned occasions, these hired guns will intentionally disagree with the HD Radio Alliance and Ibiquity on their promotion and marketing creative. That way you don't think of them being on their payroll. Right? Clever but transparent. Right?

Tech problems? Chances are your engineers told you about them up front - before the install. And those HD Radio salespeople jokingly whispered in your ear how all engineers overreact toward new technology. They even added a "how many engineers does it take..." joke to reassure the decision makers that "all engineers are like that." Right?
And the HD Radio Alliance even went one step further by putting a few of the more influential engineers - those that love to read their expert names in the trades - on the payroll to help preach the word. Right?

I'll leave HD Radio's tech disasters for engineers to discuss. I'll just say one word. Hash. Right?

I've heard you can make a pretty good buck if you drum up positive HD radio press. Right?

Here's an example. Dress a bunch of radio station interns in Devo outfits and send them through the barren streets of downtown Detroit passing out flyers that read "have you heard HD Radio lately?" Though most of them are still lying in the gutters in and around the safe haven of Greektown, the Coot, who put on that dog and pony show, brought along his digital camera to shoot the shot that appeared in a dozen trades. Right?

You've got to give credit where credit is due and the Coot deserves his for being real good at what he does. It's like mayor of his native Detroit. He's got the combination of Third World-style corruption and incompetence down. He makes Sgt. Bilk-o a happy man. Right?
Bilk-o really, really loves ya, Cootie, baby! Right?
*
HD Radio has to be one of the more bizarre schemes of the twenty-first century. Make all the money while radio does all the cash payments and heavy lifting. Right?
Ferrara's a smart guy. He runs the HD Radio Alliance joint from behind the screw factory aka the Clear Channel compound in San Antonio. You have to wonder who's zoomin' who in that building this morning. Right?
You already know who's zoomin' who outside the building. Right? Right.

Well, you drunken pig, I'm well aware of Gene Scott on 6090 Khz.

http://tinyurl.com/2pjth3

I am also aware of this:

==========
Today, Temuco is home to Chile's newest shortwave broadcaster, Evangelical station Radio Esperanza on 6088 kHz. Radio Esperanza is sometimes on the air 24 hours, especially weekends, so the early morning around 0700-0900 is a good time to check for this station. They have been widely heard despite using only 500 watts, and a new 6000 watt transmitter to have been installed in early 1993 should make reception even easier. Station director American Ray Woerner has been a missionary in Chile for over thirty years, so English reports are fine on this one, too!

I am also aware that there is a 1996 addendum on the page.

You may now return to your bottle, cretin.

You'd better return to learning how to tune your radio and ID stations, Canuck.

Today, Temuco is home to Chile's newest shortwave broadcaster, Evangelical station Radio Esperanza on 6088 kHz. Radio Esperanza is sometimes on the air 24 hours, especially weekends, so the early morning around 0700-0900 is a good time to check for this station. They have been widely heard despite using only 500 watts, and a new 6000 watt transmitter to have been installed in early 1993 should make reception even easier. Station director American Ray Woerner has been a missionary in Chile for over thirty years, so English reports are fine on this one,

2871. RW Online: "In Armenia, RFE/RL Turns to 'Outmoded' Method -- Shortwave -- And Says It's Working"

http://www.rwonline.com/pages/s.0100/t.11969.html

Countering a government blackout on news in Armenia, Radio Free Europe/ Radio Liberty said it has restored broadcasting on shortwave frequencies to that country.

RFE/RL President Jeffrey Gedmin said in a statement, "It is disappointing that because of restrictions imposed by the Armenian government we have to take this step backward to an outmoded frequency we stopped using in Armenia three years ago, but I'm happy to say it is working."

Its Armenian Service reinstated broadcasting on two shortwave frequencies after regular broadcasts on FM frequencies were taken off the air by two local affiliates, who complied with a decree by the government that allows only government-sanctioned news to be aired.

"RFE/RL is the only Armenian language foreign radio in the country," the organization stated. "Broadcasts are now one hour daily on shortwave, instead of the previous three hours on local FM. But all programs can be heard on RFE/RL'S Armenian language Web site."

The service also said Armenian bloggers are posting RFE/RL news and that its news programs are being posted on YouTube.

Well, you certainly know a lot about cartoons and other childrens programming. Next, you might devote a wee bit of time learning how to tune your radio and ID stations, in particular the ones that will be easy for you broadcasting in English.

Sounds more to me like the banks unilaterally and arbitrarily decided to pull out of an ironclad contractual commitment they made, and the court told them to live up to their contract.

Gee, I wonder if we should include Pat Robertson, the TV evangelist, in that toss because of his remark that New Orleans deserved hurricane destruction because of its sinful nature? Ya think?

>In any event, Obama didn't throw Wright under > the bus. Thus he approves of the hate speech of Reverend Wright and > thus has lost any chance of my vote.

What Obama actutally did was to turn his back and deny Jesus. For that, I lost respect for him. The Church of God, Assemblies of God, the Holiness Churches, some Baptist churches, snake-handler churches, the various revival meetings throughout the country who preach the Rapture and Armageddon-all adhere and preach that America is damned and they wail against America's sinful, worldly nature. All preach that America will be punished unless it repents. If you slam Wright on this point, then you have to slam all of the Fundamentalists of every sort. This would include Jimmy Swaggart, John Hagee, and oh so many others you can see on television.

This may be surprising to you but it is no surprise to me-John Ashcroft who is a member of The Assembly of God out of Springfield, Missouri,- is an organization with similar beliefs But, Ashcroft, like Obama, probably would deny he felt in line with his Churches precepts-a denial of their particular beliefs of Jesus-for expedient political purposes. A true believer in the Fundamental beliefs holds the views of Rev. Wright about America's sinful nature and its damnation.

Obama, like Ashcroft could not be a true believer.

This view has been preached at least from the days of Billy Sunday-a guy who based his preachings on the morality of his day. In the present age the view is based upon sodomy, perversion and abortion, as well as materiality and worldliness of the sexual nature. Thus the Damning of America is compared to the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

If you did not live in a bubble you would know all that, and you would know it is preached on the revival and tent meeting services all across this land.

> The "typical white person" speech

Not so. Again, your bubble-life is showing. Have you ever walked down Stoney Island and 187th Street on the South Side of Chicago, Illinois at 2 am in the morning on a weekend? I thought not...

I don't know. To many in the Fundamentalist churches and Pentecostal churches he has seemed to deny the Churchs' preaching about the sinful nature of America. That denial may not set well. We shall see. His denial plays well on Fox Noise, and the mainstream media, but may be devastating to some in the Holiness movement.

That is why the GOP governor and the GOP Statehouse in Florida passed legislation moving up the primary in Florida...think about it.

As for me, I may not vote at all. I am pissed because the Democrats do not have Bush and Cheney and company in jail yet for war crimes and High Misdemeanors. The Demmies have failed in their promises they made before they were elected in the last election.

If I were to speak of this I would say Hold fast to Hillary-Obama as VP-Obama as President in 8 years.

Ah..here it is:

I really don't want to say this, my many shortwave friends, but I find that I am giving up far to much of my increasingly valuable those who tote..

Therefore, I've simply decided to give up RRS.

Goodbye, I sincerely hope that you all find your niche in the Disclaimers up front: I am a relative neophyte, having been SWLing about 4 months, and I live in Oregon so I'm listening in what is apparently the de facto world band Dead Zone.

That said, I have 3 of the 4 radios (G5, SW7600GR, and KA2100) and my experience seems to be the opposite of that of the other posters. I find the G5 too small and its controls too small and tightly packed, that and navigation among various bands seems cumbersome. I've done a number of comparisons between the G5 and the 7600 and, generally, found that SW signal strength is stronger on the Sony; more often, cleaner and clearer with less hiss and noise. Also, when I hook up an external antenna (in my case an outdoor-mounted slinky), the Sony consistently has stronger signal, less hiss while the G5 has increases in both, hence a net gain of zero. There have been a couple of exceptions but this is the general rule. FM reception is likewise superior, albeit slightly, on the Sony. I just like the Sony's larger size as it makes the radio easier to handle and position and provides room for better spacing of the buttons. The lack of a tuning knob (which the G5 has) is a significant flaw in the 7600, and I can't deny that the G5 has a richer, fuller sound out of the speaker than does the 7600, though it's not anything like night and day. The Sony is okay, the G5 just more pleasant for extended listening. In fact, since I don't need, in effect, two of the same radio, I just put the G5 up on eBay.

Also, the 7600GR has separate settings for USB and LSB sidebands, whereas the G5 just has a single SSB for both. I found the Sony MUCH better for SSB listening. More pickups, stronger signals.

Now the 2100 is a somewhat different species. Big and study and solid and incredibly well-built with a big (5') speaker that offers room-filling sound (I posted a long review on Amazon on this 2100). It's really more what they call a "portatop". AM and FM reception and sound are exceptional, but SW falls just a bit short of both the G5 and 7600GR, though when you do get a strong signal, i.e. Radios Netherlands, Taiwan, Cuba, etc. it's a huge gain in listening pleasure. All in all, it's a hell of a radio and a nice complement to the smaller, slightly more sensitive 7600GR

From what I've read, the Sangean 909 is inferior to the other 3.

Could I have only 1 of the 3, it would be the 7600GR. Hope this helps more than confuses.

This can also occur in multiple conversion receivers, depending on the ultimate rejection of the roofing filters.
In this case, image rejection has nothing to do with it. What is being experienced are 3rd order IMD products. Do a Google search on 3rd order IMD products in mixers, and it will become very clear.....

I'm wondering how ironclad that is. This deal has been in negotiation for a while, and market conditions, stock values of the company, and earnings projections have all changed. The conditions under which the letter of commitment were made no longer exist.

I can't see the courts forcing the banks into a deal they know is a bad deal, especially when the banks are expected to shoulder all the risk.

From AllAccess.com:

Update: Judge Order Doesn't Force CC Deal, But Prevents Its Demise.

CC Gets Restraining Order ... Which Stops The Bleeding

A TEXAS judge's order that banks fund the proposed $19 billion buyout of CLEAR CHANNEL COMMUNICATIONS by two private-equity firms does not guarantee that the sale will go through, two analysts told REUTERS.

"This is a decision made having seen only the plaintiffs' papers," KAYE SCHOLER LLP attorney JOEL GREENBERG said. "It obviously indicates some sympathy with their case, but it's hardly a decision in the merits."

The NEW YORK attorney, who isn't engaged in this litigation, also told REUTERS that the judge's order will keep things in their current state of flux until APRIL 8th, when the judge will hear from all the parties at a preliminary hearing. "It's the first step of many but one that banks would rather not have happened," he said.

That perspective was seconded by RBC CAPITAL MARKETS analyst DAVID BANK, who said, "I don't think this necessarily means that the banks are going to be forced to fund the transaction today ... but it keeps the deal from falling apart for now."

Fighting Clear Channel's Home Court Advantage

If you needed proof that the banks aren't going to succumb to the demands of CLEAR CHANNEL and the private equity buyers, TODAY they just filed suit in a TEXAS court to move the case to a federal court in the state.

Clear Channel's Happy ... For Now

CLEAR CHANNEL released the following statement after District Court Judge JOHN D. GABRIEL of BEXAR COUNTY, TEXAS, granted a temporary restraining order against the banks:

"We commend Presiding District Court Judge JOHN D. GABRIEL of BEXAR COUNTY, TEXAS for awarding a Temporary Restraining Order in favor of CLEAR CHANNEL WEDNESDAY evening.

Judge GABRIEL carefully considered the claims made in our lawsuit, and clearly recognized the importance of the Banksï¿½ agreement and duty to provide debt financing to the Merger of the Company with CC MEDIA HOLDINGS, INC. He found in favor of CLEAR CHANNELï¿½s claim that irreparable harm would result if the Banks were not immediately enjoined from tortiously interfering with the Merger Agreement.

Accordingly, Judge GABRIEL ordered that the Banks, among other things, must not ï¿½interfere with or thwart consummation of the Merger Agreementï¿½ by 1) refusing to fund the Merger transaction, 2) insisting on terms that are inconsistent with the Commitment Letter, or 3) refusing to act in good faith in the drafting of definitive loan documents.

We are pleased that the Banks and the Purchasers will now be able to move quickly to complete the loan documents and fund the Merger."

CLEAR CHANNEL has agreed to be purchased by THOMAS H. LEE PARTNERS and BAIN CAPITAL. But lenders including CITIGROUP, MORGAN STANLEY, DEUTSCHE BANK, CREDIT SUISSE, ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND and WACHOVIA have declined to provide the financing that they once said they would issue.

"It seems clear that lenders' remorse set in when credit markets worsened," BAIN and THOMAS H. LEE said in a statement WEDNESDAY. "Now they are trying to walk away from their commitment letter which clearly states that they bear all the risk that conditions in the debt markets might change."

Though Shortwave Remains Valuable, the Right ï¿½Media Mixï¿½ Is the Only Way to Reach a Global Audience

by Vincent Nowicki, 3.26.2008

Vincent Nowicki is the director of the engineering and technical operations at the International Broadcasting Bureau. IBB provides the engineering and technical operations for BBG broadcasters.

Jack Quinn and Nick Olguinï¿½s guest commentary on the Broadcasting Board of Governors (ï¿½Donï¿½t Close Shortwaves, Improve Them,ï¿½ Feb. 1) is out of step with the realities of todayï¿½s sophisticated audience and the strategic media markets for U.S. international broadcasting.

The BBG is keenly aware of the value of shortwave in distinct markets such as some parts of Africa and parts of Asia. Shortwave sustained international broadcasting throughout the Cold War and still makes a significant mark today in the global war on terror.

However, nostalgia for Cold War methods does not get the job done in the new millennium. We need only look at a few recent events to vividly illustrate that point.

Old meets new

In September 2007, Burmaï¿½s junta cracked down on the demonstrations led by Buddhist monks. BBG doubled Voice of America and Radio Free Asia (RFA) Burmese broadcasts in shortwave and medium wave. At the same time, daily Web traffic to VOAï¿½s site increased by 186 percent and remains 95 percent above pre-crisis levels. There were real-time exchanges of video and sound from eyewitnessesï¿½ cell phones and handheld devices.

Here, old and new technologies were blended with great effect. The Web supports a dynamic interactive with our audience, allowing us to get news and then share it with remarkable immediacy. The Boardï¿½s FY 2009 budget request reflects the need to invest in these transformative technologies while sustaining the proven broadcast facilities as appropriate.

In November 2007, the Pakistani government shut down all independent media inside Pakistan including VOAï¿½s TV programs on local channels. We expanded VOA Urdu-language broadcasts from five to 12-1/2 hours daily using primarily medium wave.

Research tells us that in Pakistan, after TV, FM is the dominant medium followed by AM. Shortwave is the least popular by a wide margin, with only 8 percent ownership. Notably, there is a sharp rise in mobile phone ownership and along with it, FM radio access. In this hostile climate the solution requires determination and creativity but clearly not shortwave.

In Russia we face an even more complex challenge. The Committee to Protect Journalists described in August 2007 that: ï¿½In the run-up to parliamentary and presidential elections ï¿½ Russian authorities have consolidated their control on the influential broadcast media.ï¿½ The CPJ described restrictive media laws, pressure, intimidation and imprisonment of journalists. Specifically, ï¿½14 journalist murders committed since President Vladimir Putin took office in 2000 remain unsolved.ï¿½

BBG access to domestic radio and TV outlets has dropped, due to Russian government pressures, from 97 in 2005 to 19 today. However, only 2 percent of Russians use shortwave radio on a weekly basis, and AM usage is similarly low at just 5 percent weekly, while weekly Internet use stands at 15 percent. The Internet and other new media have become the default delivery options. Transforming our programming and shifting technical resources to reach both the policy-influencing elite and the ï¿½digital generationï¿½ is our immediate test.

Effective distribution

Our strategic approach, including network realignments and expanding our broadcasting platforms in places like the Middle East, has been pivotal to increasing our audience.

It is true that we closed our transmitting stations in Playa de Pals, Spain, in 2001 and Kavala, Greece, in 2006. However, surplus equipment from such shifts is economically and effectively redeployed at other BBG facilities on a regular basis.

In general, the shortwave broadcasting mission European-based stations have capably served for more than half a century has shifted eastward to Asia.

Our engineers successfully added more than 50 FM transmitters to our inventory over the past several years. Most operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week. In 2007, the BBG transmitted more total hours of radio than any previous year in the last decade. In addition we operate four local television transmitters in Iraq to broadcast one of three 24-hour streams of our Arabic news and information channel, Alhurra.

Since 2002 VOAï¿½s television production has grown significantly and its worldwide TV audience has quadrupled with television programming in 25 of its 45 languages. Collectively, this new broadcasting has boosted the BBGï¿½s global audience levels from 100 million to 155 million in the past six years.

The single greatest challenge we face is to ensure effective distribution. Too many of the countries to which the BBG broadcasts try to jam our direct broadcasts, limit or prohibit local distribution via affiliates, enforce laws that restrict broadcast content and block our Internet sites.

We broadcast in 60 languages to more than 80 countries. Our global network of more than 60 transmitting facilities includes about 175 transmitters and 400 antennas with a combined power capability of more than 38 million watts. To track the effectiveness of and drive continuous improvements in our broadcasts, the BBG spends $9 million a year on market and audience research.

The BBG has its eyes wide open as it directs U.S. international broadcasting. Using the correct media mix ï¿½ be it Internet, TV, AM, FM or shortwave radio ï¿½ preferred by the audience, and not simply grasping on to old approaches, is the only way we can reach todayï¿½s worldwide audience.

This is a challenging assignment, but U.S. taxpayers can trust that we are doing our homework.

You don't have a strong bone in your body do you. Anything that has to do with the black and white race or white and black race, you're on it like a cheap suite. Everyone sees you for what you are, and there is no doubt about it. KKK is stamped all over your forehead in big bold letter.

Oh...and you're easy to filter with NFIlter. I just chose to fuck with

The you must like yourself too. I am not wrong either about you. You had better look at yourself hard in the mirror I'll tell you why you can't filter. You're like a insect flying into some insect paper. I pull you off the paper, but you fly into it time and time again. Maybe, I

I haven't found that to be the case. I tried the 7600 before buying and found the sync function didn't do anything. That and the lack of real tuning knob pushed me towards the 909. I liked it well enough to get a dx-398 from Radio shack to keep it company.

Thanks for your help RHF and John.

After reading the reviews within the latest edition of Passport to World Band Radio, I'm left uninspired by the current selection of dedicated shortwave radios. The only receiver I would consider from these reviews is the AOR-7030, based upon their third order intermodulation performance; have a look at - http://www.w8ji.com/receiver%20IM3%20sorted.htm

http://www.sherweng.com/table.html

http://www.remeeus.eu/hamradio/pa1hr/productreview.htm

These websites really opened by eyes.
Unfortunately the ergonomics and interface of the AOR-7030 make me cringe. Too many features hidden in menus, hence my look into Amateur Radio transceivers. The Elecraft K3 has fantastic receiver performance at reasonable cost but I'm unsure about its audio fidelity.

Hi: I have the TG34 antenna which is the same antenna... different label. tquchina on ebay is the dealer for this antenna and the factory that makes them just puts TG34 on it for him instead of DE31MS, or KA33

He claims to have made a deal with the factory to do more quality checks of the ones the he purchases from them. Tao Qu has an excellent feedback rating on Ebay.

TG34 is the same as the DE31MS is the same as the Kaito KA33.

I bought one from him and liked it enough to buy a second.
Delivery is fast and packaging is excellent.

It is not as sensitive as the Sony active loop, but it is better then twenty feet of wire. If you have the money, and can find the Sony active loop, buy it instead. It cost quite a bit more then the Degen loop, and is not as compact, but it performs better.

But for the price, and being so compact, the Degen active loop is a bargain, and performs very well for such a compact small loop. But don't expect it to perform as good as the Sony active loop.

I like the TG34, (DE31MS, Kaito KA33)

Cheap price if you order it from tquchina on Ebay, it is not constructed like a tank, so take care of it. Get a little pouch to put it in.

Best regards. Rob

I'd say most Caucasians may be afraid of a black president due to the fact that once a black is let in, there are sure to be more to follow. Look at your large cities as proof of what they fear! I, for one, would have voted for Colin Powell. Of course, he knew someone would try to assasinate him if he did become president and probably figured it wasn't worth it.

Lets See Did Pat Robertson Target and Call-Out the

Lets See Did Pat Robertson Target and Call-Out the

Lets See Did Pat Robertson Target and Call-Out the

Somehow I don't see how the Reverend Wright's Blatantly Racist "HATE WHITEY" Remarks for the Pulpit are the same as Pat Robertson's remarks Condemning Sin and

I should have mentioned.. his Ebay store is called RADIO AND COMPONENT ,
He sells it for $22.90 plus $9.00 shipping from China. Prices in U.S. dollars.

U.S. dealers sell the same loop antenna under the Degen or Kaito label for anywheres from $34.95 up to as high as $49.95.

The Sony AN-LP1 active loop is no longer in production or in stores apparently.... but there may be stores that still have some if you are lucky.
I found only one, on Ebay, and it is at $41.00 with nine bids and five and a half days left in the auction, so it will go higher for sure. I would guess it will go for more then $100.00 for sure, by the time the hammer drops.

Thanks for the first-hand review/info. Didn't expect it to be quite up to the Sony in performance but am a bit intrigued being it is better than a short wire.

All right.....another 909/398 vs 7600g(r) debate!! In true SNL (original version) I must respond: Mike you ignorant slut!

I have the RatShack 398 and 7600G and have found that their weaknesses are almost complementary. For instance, I like the 40 Hz tuning of SSB on the 398 vs the clarifier on the Sony - they each work but the 398 is a bit 'easier' for me to use. Agree with you on the tuning knob, do miss it on the 7600G. Memory is much better in the 398 and it has the variable attenuator. However there have been many instances in which I've found the 7600 picks up a station with better clarity & less noise than the 398 - using the same external antenna.
For general listening with an external antenna they are often the same, again the weak signals have been better received on the 7600G.
On the whip the 7600G wins as I've found the 398 nearly deaf, likewise if only using a 20 foot (or so) wire the Sony still wins. The sound is different on each and I believer 'better' or 'worse' is truly a personal preference - for me the Sony is 'clearer' and I can better discern the spoken word. Synch on the 7600G I have works okay - though it often helps I can't say it makes the difference between copying a station or not. As far as bang for the buck, a bit more compactness and battery economy the 7600G wins from my perspective.

And just for M II, Dr. Gene Scott on 6090!

Maybe they moved up to 6180 when the BBC was nearby. 5KHz spacing could be a problem for low cost SW gear.

Yes, I heard Dr. Scott. BTW, a long time ago LA and the SF Bay got Dr.
Scott on broadcast TV. He has been long gone from the SF Bay, though I did burn a CRT with 1-800-338-3030. Next time I'm in the southland I'll see if he is on LA TV.

Get real! Wright is no worse than Robertson and the rest of those "fundamentalist christian" hate mongers the Bush/Cheney/Zionazi gang is in bed with. At least Wright does not advocate wars and the murder of millions of people as these "fundamentalist christian" hate mongers do. All they want to do is more wars and murder.

Does anyone have these, or can tell me where to find them? I find references

March 28, 2008

LONDON -- Civil servant Mark Thompson wants to turn the British Broadcasting Corp. into an empire on which the sun never sets.

To do that, the BBC's 50-year-old chief executive is determined to get the world to watch more British drama, comedy and news online. His push has required radical job cuts and new business strategies -- and has put him in conflict with private media companies and BBC workers. On Friday, the BBC's union is expected to announce that members have approved job cuts and salary concessions that will free up funds for Mr. Thompson's vision.
[Mark Thompson]

Mr. Thompson's push raises a counterintuitive possibility: The world's oldest and largest public broadcaster may emerge as a pioneer of new ways of delivering TV news and entertainment. The taxpayer-financed BBC doesn't have to worry about advertisers or delivering results to Wall Street. It owns most of its own shows, so it can control how they appear online. As such, the 85-year-old global behemoth can focus on the industry's most pressing problem: keeping viewers in the Internet age.

"It's not about TV," Mr. Thompson says in an interview. "It's about content and ways of getting content to people."

The BBC's digital push is being watched by rivals with fascination. NBC Universal's Chief Executive Jeff Zucker says Mr. Thompson is changing the BBC in a way "that some people who are beholden to the old way of doing things don't necessarily like." Some of Mr. Thompson's initiatives are generating protest, particularly from rival media companies, who argue that the BBC's government funding gives it an unfair advantage.

British newspapers complain the BBC's expanded Web site is stealing traffic away from their sites. The broadcaster plans to set up dozens of Web sites to provide local news for towns and cities across Britain, for example, potentially harming already-struggling regional newspapers.

"We've learnt in this digital landscape the BBC's impact on other media players is much broader than when it was just a broadcaster -- it's now newspapers, magazines and Web sites," says Simon Waldman, group director of digital strategy and development of the Guardian Media Group PLC, which owns the Guardian and several regional newspapers. Other media companies complain about BBC initiatives designed to generate more revenue, steps needed to fund the BBC's technology push.

WSJ's Aaron Patrick discusses the BBC's plans to become a global media empire.

One of the BBC's competitors is News Corp., which owns a 39.1% stake in U.K. satellite broadcaster British Sky Broadcasting Group PLC. News Corp. also owns The Wall Street Journal.

A BBC spokesman says all projects that could harm commercial competitors have to be approved by the BBC Trust, an independent body set up to oversee the broadcaster.

Unlike U.S. networks, which have only made tentative steps on the Internet for fear of losing advertising revenue, the BBC has thrown almost its entire schedule online. To do that, the broadcaster has bet big on iPlayer, a free computer program offered via the BBC's Web site and Apple Inc.'s iPhone, which allows anyone in the U.K. to download and watch BBC shows that have appeared in the past week.

Launched on Christmas Day, the iPlayer is already emerging as a cultural phenomenon, particularly among young viewers. About 17 million BBC shows were downloaded in the seven weeks after iPlayer's launch, compared with one million videos sold in the first three weeks after TV shows were put on Apple's iTunes store.

"It's pretty cool," says Ella Bloom, an 18-year-old University of Stirling student, who recently used iPlayer to watch a fashion-model show on her computer. "My friends told me about it." BBC executives say they believe the iPlayer will become the industry standard in Britain and will be launched in the U.S. this year.

The BBC was established in 1922 by a government charter to inform the British people of the news. Today it is one of Britain's most powerful cultural institutions, commanding a weekly global audience of 233 million for its news programs alone. The BBC has an annual budget of £4 billion ($8.03 billion) -- dwarfing the U.S. Public Broadcasting Service's $522 million. The BBC is funded mostly by a £131.50 annual tax levied on each television owner in the U.K.

Mr. Thompson is part of a long tradition of graduates of top British universities joining the BBC. Educated at old-line boarding school Stonyhurst College and Oxford University, Mr. Thompson won highest honors in English, edited a literary journal and won a prize for literary criticism. Immediately after graduation in 1979, he joined the BBC as a research trainee. With his first-class degree and a reputation for disciplined work habits, he was quickly tagged a future director-general, the BBC's top post, colleagues say.

He is also preternaturally confident. He declines to discuss the influence of religion in his life, but friends say Mr. Thompson, fueled by his Catholic faith, is driven by a strong sense of destiny. "Self doubt, that's not a big issue for me," Mr. Thompson says.

The predictions proved true, and Mr. Thompson became director-general of the BBC in 2004. He lives with his wife, Jane Blumberg, a biographer, and three children in Oxford, and rides his bicycle to the train station to commute to London.

Soon after becoming director general, Mr. Thompson hired Tim Davie, a marketer from PepsiCo Inc. Mr. Davie studied about 5,000 people in panels, the largest research of BBC viewers ever.

What he learned was discouraging. One-quarter of 15-to-24-year-olds didn't watch, read or listen to the BBC at all in an average week. Many preferred to play computer games or socialize online. If the BBC stayed as it was, by 2015 only 60% of people in Britain would get some form of BBC news each week, the study found, down from 81% today. If that happened, the British government could argue it doesn't need to give the BBC as much money.

Mr. Thompson, who envisioned the BBC becoming a global media force, quickly concluded the broadcaster needed to try to make everything it created available online in some form, so viewers, particularly younger ones, could watch BBC shows whenever they wanted. "Everything should be digital," he says. "That was maybe the only really big idea I was going to bring into the place."

The idea quickly ran into the inertia of a state-run company. At the time, different departments in the sprawling BBC empire had separate Internet budgets. As a result, Ashley Highfield, director of future media and technology, says he couldn't move on even simple projects like a new children's Web site because many departments refused to contribute money.

So in November 2006, Mr. Thompson gave Mr. Highfield control of all Internet spending, increasing his budget to £400 million from £100 million, Mr. Highfield says.

One project that had moved slowly for years in development at Mr. Highfield's division was the iPlayer. The iPlayer "points to a world where you choose whatever you want" to watch on computers or even cellphones, says Mr. Thompson. He says he encouraged Mr. Highfield to move fast.

But finding money for the project wasn't easy. Already, the U.K. government had tightened the purse strings on Mr. Thompson in his most recent budget review, giving him about £20 billion in funding over the next six years through the TV tax, £2 billion less than he sought.

The government's decision forced Mr. Thompson to make some difficult choices. There wasn't enough money to carry out his expensive digital plans and maintain the level of TV and news output.

Budget debates inside the BBC are "sometimes vicious," with departments publicly lobbying for themselves, says Jenny Abramsky, the head of BBC radio and a member of the executive committee. To avoid a nasty fight, Mr. Thompson gathered his 15-strong executive committee at a hotel near London for a two-day budget conference after the government's budget decision in January 2007.

Mr. Thompson chose not to dominate the meeting, keeping his preferences quiet so the group could reach a consensus. After hours of debate, everyone agreed to put £131 million into the iPlayer over five years. Other technology projects got the green light, too, including MyBBCRadio, which will allow people to create a kind of personalized radio station of their favorite music, and a revamp of the BBC Web site.

Big name guests, like President Bush, appear on the BBC World News America program, despite its miniscule audience in the U.S.

To pay for these projects, the group had to find steep cuts. They agreed to eliminate some 2,500 of BBC's 23,000 staff. About half the cuts would come from the news and television divisions. The group also agreed to cut £100 million from the £1.2 billion TV budget. At the same time, they decided to hire an additional 700 people for digital projects.

The budget bombed with unions representing BBC staff. They threatened to stage a series of strikes, angry that the BBC was firing journalists to "close in on Google," says Paul McLaughlin, an organizer for the National Union of Journalists. "You have got to realize that 99% of the audience is more focused on the normal channels."

After negotiating through the night on Jan. 22 of this year, a day before the final strike vote, the unions and BBC reached a deal. The BBC made some salary concessions, and the unions called off the strike. BBC staff had until Thursday to accept the deal in a postal vote.

Mr. Thompson also saw another source of additional funds: BBC Worldwide Ltd., a separate for-profit unit that sells BBC shows, magazines and merchandise around the world. Mr. Thompson believed the BBC unit could do more overseas.

Over the next year, BBC Worldwide will be launching more than a dozen kids', entertainment and documentary channels, with new magazines and Web sites. The goal: increasing profit to £200 million by 2012, from about £100 million in the year ended March 31, 2007.

In the U.S., the BBC is spending heavily in hopes of building out BBC America, a cable channel that has struggled for years to attract viewers. To run the channel, early last year the BBC hired American TV-network veteran Garth Ancier, a former president of NBC Entertainment who had also held senior jobs at Fox, Turner Broadcasting and WB Television Network.

Mr. Ancier and other BBC executives are shaking up the BBC's distribution of its programs. Instead of selling them to other networks, Mr. Ancier has been keeping them for his own channel. The additional viewers -- and advertising -- should compensate for lost sales, he says. (The BBC is prohibited from showing ads in the U.K. but is free to do elsewhere.) As a result, since he took over a year ago, some of the BBC's most popular shows among foreign broadcasters, including "Torchwood" and "Robin Hood," are now on BBC America.

Mr. Ancier also cut back on costume dramas and miniseries, the BBC's bread-and-butter in Britain, because he thinks viewers come for such one-time events but don't return. BBC America also added a one-hour daily newscast this fall called BBC World News America.

Ratings for BBC World News America so far are minuscule -- Nielsen says the newscast has averaged 79,000 viewers this year. But it has featured some big-name interviews, including one with President George W. Bush, who appeared on the show last month to speak about his recent trip to Africa. A BBC spokeswoman says the channel is expected to become profitable, though she declined to say when.

Some traditional customers of BBC fare -- including TV networks in Canada and the U.S. -- don't like BBC America's more aggressive approach. For example, Mr. Ancier says he plans to renegotiate a deal with PBS to force its affiliates broadcast BBC news bulletins less frequently. The bulletins may be reducing interest in BBC World News America, he explains.

If the BBC limits access, PBS would likely lose funding from its corporate sponsors because of lost viewership and have to drop BBC news broadcasts entirely, says Terrel Cass, president and general manager of WLIW in Long Island, New York, which distributes BBC news to 220 PBS affiliates. Mr. Cass says he hopes to persuade the BBC to change its mind. "We reach 816,000 homes a day," he says. "Garth's numbers are infinitesimal compared with that."

A BBC spokeswoman said it is confident PBS stations won't have to drop BBC news.

Mr. Thompson has a simple reply: He says he would rather people watch BBC shows on BBC channels.

"The barriers to entry around the world are coming down," he says. "There is enormous potential to get BBC content to consumers around the world."

war, with Iran, that we need even less. Americans losing their jobs

You don't think endless war is a form of corporate welfare?

I suspect you support the Republicans who have (although you're too stupid to know it) have stolen trillions of future tax receipts and given them to the uber-wealthy inbred rich. You support a permanent elite aristocracy that lords above the rest of us.

These are things the USA was founded to do away with. You are a traitor to the Revolution.

Sir, I am a professional frequency coordinator and need no schooling on 3rd order IMD.

My trusty Philips AE-3805 (Sangean innards) has a big gap in coverage (7300 kHz-9.500 kHz) that can largely be overcome by tuning 900 kHz either side of the frequency of interest. 900 kHz is twice the IF.
This is the exact mathematical relationship described in the original post. I suspect we are arguing over word usage, not the science.

A mixer simply produces a desired intermod product.

One of the few positives of a dual-conversion receiver is their ability to keep the first image out of the downstream bandpass.

A local TV station here has made its switch to digital. One of its digital TV streams is a 24 hour news stream. The audio from this stream is also simulcast over a local over the air AM Broadcast station, kind of merging the two. Which begs the question....."Is it real or is it Memorex".

I have been an RF Engineer, specializing in low level RF design since 1992.
Why are we having this conversation in the first place? The reason for my post was to clarify which mechanism was responsible for the manifestation that the original poster was experiencing.
To glibly state that this was an image problem is clearly misinformation.
Too much of that going around these days. Mini-Circuits has a very good tutorial on this subject on their website.
Now, what does being a professional frequency coordinator have to do with RF engineering principles, specifically, small signal RF design? I have no doubt that you have experience in this area, and the 900kHz frequency that the original poster mentioned can confuse the issue if is is assumed that the receiver has a 450kHz I.F. which it may or may not have.....many receivers over the years used a 455kHz I.F. which would place the primary image 910kHz below the actual frequency. A simple analysis of this problem clearly shows that it is a 3rd order IMD problem.
For other folks out there that may be interested, 3rd order intermodulation products don't exclusively occur only in mixers.......they can occur in any nonlinear system, such as oxidized electrical connectors, saturated ferrite cores in front ends of receivers, bandpass filter switching diodes, crystal filters, and AGC diodes. It can also occur in rusty rain gutters, or anywhere else that galvanic corrosion can occur.
I am sorry if you took offense at my post, but next to doing everything to preserving life, truth is the most important thing in this world.....
thus, the reason for my reply to the original poster.

Back in the mid-1990's, R. Esperanza was a pretty easy and reliable night-time catch in Eastern North America. The Gene Scott broadcasts from the Caribbean (from around 1996/97) pretty much put an end to that.

Hi.
I'm new to shortwave radio so please bear with me.
I have a Target HF3 receiver (amongst others) that I like to listen to the Radio Amatuers on.
My antenna at the moment for this radio is a simple 65foot longwire, that is connected to 50ohm cb coax cable, I have a 50ohm balun in line and the antenna wire is connected to the one end (the one with a wingnut on) and the coax is connected via a pl259 plug. I have soldered a sturdy earth wire on the outer shell of the pl259 and rin it to ground, that is I have soldered it to the cold water mains input pipe.
Now I was looking at the handbook that came with the HF3 and it states that the antenna impendance is 75ohm's as it is a simple phono plug on the back of the radio.
I was wondering if I would get better reception if I took the balun out altogether and replaced the 50ohm cb coax with tv coax at 75ohm's.
Does anyone have any tips/advise please thanks

And the owner of that inexpensive radio has a couple of options:

1. Live with the repeats and realize that Radio Havana will likely not recognize a DX catch on 5100 khz. Owners of most inexpensive radios just ignore the stuff that doessn't make much sense. My Degen DE1103 shows repeats of strong stations 900 khz down (2x the IF).

2. Buy a better receiver.

Hi all,
I presently use a Realstic DX302, DX-394, DX160, DX200.
I am thinking of buying a FRG-7.
Can you tell me please if this is worth buying or not?
It is in good condition and fully working.

I use a 50` end fed long wire.

TIA,

Mike.

Unless you collect Yaesu receivers or happen to like the clumsy tuning arrangement and limited filtration the answer is no. Your DX302 should give you plenty of opportunities to enjoy fiddly tuning. There are many used receivers that will deliver better results.

Mike,
I recently sold my FRG-7 in January and sometimes wish I hadn't. In my opinion it outperforms at least the DX-160, as I sold my DX-160 to buy the FRG-7. There is also an FRG-7 group on Yahoo with a lot of members and also modifications to improve the peformance. If you do get it, get an addition 4KHz filter (the stock 6KHz is too wide for some listening), and do the mod to improve the fine tuning controll. The audio quality is excellent, the sensitivity may not be the best, but in the words of one ham operator when I asked about improving my FRG-7 one time was "antenna, antenna, antenna!) I hope this helps. Denny D.

I'm not quite sure what you're doing with the 'balun', but changing the coax from 50 to 75 ohms is unlikely to make a scrap of difference. [Is it really a balun, or is it (say) a 9:1 transformer (step-down from antenna to coax)? Such things are used on some receiving systems.]

Note that the antenna impedance of the receiver will only be a 'nominal' 75 ohms, implying that it will be suitable for a low impedance feed from the antenna (as opposed to 'high' impedance). But it's unlikely to be a 'good' 75 ohms.

Thanks, I shall take a further look I think.

I do know I shall get the Degen DE1103 any way up but I thought that the

IBOC : The Killer-App for FM "HD" Radio's HD-2 Channels

Joe,

You just point-out one of the two natural Killer-Apps for FM HD Radio's HD-2 Channels : TV Audio {Sound} !

The old AM/FM/TV Radios used to provide TV Audio for those who wanted it at Work where they could not be seen to be watching the TV. The TV Audio was limited to the Analog Sound from UHF Channels 2~13. Plus many Work Places restrict what you can Hear and See on you Office Computer. {At least in writing : Work Rules.}

Next Year in FEB 2009 : Analog TV Audio will be Dead.

What Audio Source Do the Average American Audio Consumers
"Listen To" more than AM/FM Radio : TV Audio Sound !

The FM HD Radio Station's that put TV Audio Sound on their HD-2 Radio Channel have an Instant Audiance for a Known Audio Product that many Audio Consumers Want-to-Hear : When theListeners are away from their TVs.

Plus TV Audio is an Audio Product with a Proven Advertising {Revenue} Base to Build-on and Expand.

Plus Plus + The FM HD Radio Station's that put TV Audio on their HD-2 Radio Channel have Expanded TV Audio to the Automobile ! - This is a Drive-Time Audiance that both TV Stations and Advertisers will Pay-For.

Foreign Languages :
For People like d'Eduardo who are in the Specialize Spanish Language Broadcasting Business : There is even a greater 'potential' for TV Audio Sound being the Killer-App for their FM HD Radio Station's HD-2 Audio Content. As well as 'other' Non-English Broadcast Languages on TV and Radio.

NPR and PBS :
Putting the Local PBS TV Station's Audio Content on the Local NPR FM HD Radio Station's HD-2 Audio Channel is a Win-Win Formula.

Reasons for putting TV Audio Sound on an FM HD
Radio Station's HD-2 Audio Channel :

1 - It Is Already There - It Exists and Does Not Need to be created. - No Extra Programming Required.

2 - Very Low Cost -ps- It's There Already.

3 - It Already has a Proven Audiance Base : Who Know and Like It as an Video-Audio Product.

4 - It Already has a Proven Advertiser Base : Who Know and Use It as an Video-Audio Product to Reach Customers.

5 - I Builds Listenership Overnight : Both the TV Station and the Radio Station Promote the HD-2 TV Audio Sound Channel for the TV Channel.

6 - Puts All HDTV Stations both VHF and UHF on an Equal Footing for TV Audio Sound via the Radio.

7 - Expands TV Audio Sound to the Automoblie during Drive-Time and all Hours 24/7

8 - Makes TV Audio Sound Truly Portable : Jogging, Bicycling, the Gym, Sporting Events, Campling, etc.

9 - If Radio -is- content, Content. CONTENT !
Then TV Audio Sound -gives- Radio : content, Content. CONTENT !

10 - Often there is an Existing Corporate Connection already in Existance for the Local TV Station and Local Radio Station.
Working Together is a Done Deal.

yes - another great idea from the brain of . . . ~ RHF
=PS= The 'other' Killer-App for the FM HD Radio Stations is a No Brainer Too. It is already being done on a small scale -and- IF done on a Large Scale with the FCC's Approval : Could change the face of Radio Boradcasting
in the USA.

- One of its digital TV streams is a 24 hour news stream.
- The audio from this stream is also simulcast over a local

Vangellis,

What you got is good enough -and- there is no need to change anything in your Set-Up.

Hello Bob,

For HF, changing to 75 Ohms will not give noticeable improvement.

It is important to also connect the braid to the 3.5mm plug (not to the center conductor but to the shaft). Grounding the braid outside your house is OK. It reduces pick-up of interference from other house hold equipment and (electronic) lighting gear.

I don't know your balun, when it has just one input for the long wire and a coaxial connection; it is probably just an impedance transformer (nothing wrong with that).

Make sure that you run your long wire away from sources of interference.

I checked http://www.mwcircle.org/res-receiver-akd.htm for a review (Radio Netherlands stopped the receiver reviews). With a 65-foot long wire, you may experience bad reception because of intermodulation products (kind of distortion/noise, etc caused by strong transmitters at other frequencies). Try the attenuator switch on the back of the receiver, this may give improvement. Best is to let somebody listen to the receiver that has experience with these types of distortion.

Best regards,

Somewhere in the reading material (which I'm having trouble finding now) there was a part where the contracted parties all acknowledged the changing nature of financial markets and the risk of entering into a contract early before the full impact could be determined. So basically the parties all said they didn't care if conditions changed.

There it is, the last paragraph of what you posted:

There's the part I was referring to. The banks made the commitment that "they bear all the risk that conditions in the debt markets might change."

> I can't see the courts forcing the banks into a deal they know is a

If the banks explicitly consented to shoulder all the risk, no matter what it might turn out to be, AFAIAC they're stuck. And it appears the banks did just that.

Myself, I think they're stupid for saying "things change, we don't care"
and not protecting themselves.

In spite of all the blather from BBC management, all they have accomplished,IMHO, is a royal s.....g of a heritage communications giant, BUILT ON RADIO, get that, built on radio. You'd think decades of building confidence in accurate news and cutting edge commentary somehow would convince those dolts that being lost in a sea of MW, FM, satellite etc. will NOT encourage listening, au contraire, it will lead to the gradual irrelevance of the BBC. Just another blip on the mass communications screen. BBC is unique and worth saving as a International Radio broadcaster. Nothing else will work. Don't believe me ?? Stick around until BBC World Service fades into the sunset, and is no longer respected worldwide. As I said in a previous post...it's Turkey time....Again.

I've not encountered the term 'letter of commitment,' before this.
'Letter of Intent,' yes. But 'Letter of Commitment,' no. So, I'm not sure how ironclad the terms of this letter are. That is, whether it has the full force and impact of a contract. Contract law states that in order for a contract to exist, there has to be an exchange of consideration. Prior to that, there is no contract. Even if one party offers consideration, if the other party does not, there is no contract.

If 'Letter of Commitment' is an established legal instrument with defined parameters, that's one thing. And yes, the banks are screwed. If, on the other hand, it's a term coined by the CCU publicity department for the purpose of trying this case in the press, that's something else entirely. I've learned to read these statements with a carefully jaundiced eye.

Given that the subsequent press notices have acknowledged that the Court did NOT hold the banks' feet to this fire...only retain their engagement through a subsequent hearing, it's becoming clear that there is enough in question to make this a case for adjudication.

And I can't see the courts forcing the banks into a deal that would do them harm.

> Myself, I think they're stupid for saying "things change, we don't care"
> and not protecting themselves.

Well, yeah....That said, I've not...nor, would I imagine, have you....known any banker to walk into a deal without due diligence and agreeing to shoulder all the risk, without agreeing to pocket all the benefit.

There is more to what's taking place, here, than that which has been presented.

And keep in mind that the press notices have been written by CCU. That alone should raise a few back-of-neck hairs.

The only reason I brought any of this up, it to 1) underscore the fact that days when CCU can do no wrong are over, and 2) that without public vigilance, the madness implied by these headlines could well result precedents sharply injurious to public economic health.

Clumsy tuning? I call it CHARACTER. Even the 'ancient' system gets you at the minimum, a 5khz resolution. Digital readouts are available if you need more. Heck, in a pinch you can even shove a bunch (8) of D cells in it for portable reception.

The 8 D cells add a HUGE amount of character when carried for any distance.

Share price does not indicate value. A share of one company that goes for $80 is no better a buy than one that sells for $5 if the earnings per share and other fundamentals are in proportion to the stock price. Many companies do stock splits when shares go up in price, in fact.

It's interesting that they have one version which is described as a 10:1
impedance matching voltage transformer, for 50 ohm coax, and the other described as a 9:1 voltage balun transformer, for 75 ohm coax. It could be that they are essentially the same inside (why would they want to make two different types?), but with different connectors. Neither are actually acting as baluns (although they be using balun transformers inside the can).

Some time ago, there was report published of tests which compared the received signals levels with - and without - this type of transformer.
From memory, it showed that, on most frequencies, there was a very noticeable increase of signal level into the receiver. Only on a minority of frequencies was there some (acceptable) reduction of level.
I've had a quick Google, but haven't yet found this report.

It was something that I needed to address that I have been experiencing in most of my radio receivers that engineers in China have trouble fixing. You see, I have a shortwave radio receiver that has the long wave bands that cover 144 kHz to 353 kHz without no problems. When I received the G5, this was something that I thought would replace the Yacht Boy 400 Pro Edition, but it did not make no improvement for me the LW DXer. I have owned previously the Sangean (Radio Shack) DX 380, 392, and 390 and since you mentioned you've been an RF engineer since 1992, well I have owned the DX-380 since 1992. I have dealt with this problem even when I used a longwire antenna. I thought hey its just another radio station on 150 kHz thats rebroadcasting a signal, but now since I have owned the YB-400 PE radio the station does not appear on the YB-400PE. It seems that the YB-400PE has its own LW tuned circuit seperate from the others like AM and SW.

I see why the radio was set at 144 kHz to 353 kHz
They could of extended the coverage to 519 kHz and keep the same tuned circuit.

You see, if you lived in Europe and you have received stations on LW from the AM broadcasters you probably have lots of overloading along with LW and MW radio stations cause of the 900 kHz signal being such a pain to get rid of. Here do the math

Above all, this problem has been an issue not just on LW but on AM (MW as well trying to receive a station on 550 kHz when you got another station from the 1450 kHz - 900 kHz = 550 kHz being a problem. This is one reason I had to one day take some radios apart and get them aligned the best as I can, good and some bad. I feel that we need to get this problem fixed on new radios. And about mini circuits Grundig does not use those parts anymore. So yes I may have to buy another receiver since Grundig is cheap garbage and lost its German quality.

Anyways, I got myself a loop antenna and coupler built to reject the intermod garbage and the signal from 1050 kHz is gone from 150 kHz. So everything is fine as long as you use a preselector or a 500 kHz low pass filter. Still I do appreciate spending $149.99 on something thats suppose to be crap on LW and gold on AM and SW. Engineers, give LW a chance for NDB DXers and Transalantic LW DXers. One day
I am going to be releasing information about transatlantic DXing and form a forum about this subject. This spring LW transatlantic DX is possible and I have the cassette tapes to prove and the minidiscs. Thank you very much.

Why should I buy something that cost $60.00 for longwire I cannot not even put up in an apartment????? RHF, I live in a apartment for now best thing I was going to do with the preselector is use it with a KA-35 antenna to eliminate images. I don't have no way for a good alternative to an RF ground. Plus I am not on the second floor elevation for to use outdoor active antennas. If placed outdoor antennas they would be vandalized.

Also I used to live in a one floor house with a huge yard to put up antennas now I have moved to an apartment. My new longwave antenna is a huge wooden frame wrapped with 5 turns of wire and I had to modify the longwave coupler with a extra set of turns of wire to couple the loop to the coupler then the main wire coupler connects to the radio with a mono to stereo connector. I will soon share this with others and form a blog about this apartment LW antenna remedy. I will also add new pictures of the loop antenna when I get some batteries for my camera to show this remarkable design. Please understand that if you have radios with the antenna jack that accepts

50 ohms to 75 ohms impedance some radios with jacks have connectors that are stereo like (RIGHT) for MW/LW and (LEFT (SW) you can use a mono to stereo adapter as well to connect your loop antennas to the radios jack. Catalog Number 274-374 I did this with the Terk AM Advantage loop antenna, which helped with interference and not coupling the loop antenna to the radio. This connector combines the mono signal and converts it to a stereo signal and reaches the right connection lug for the MW/LW antenna terminal.

They got it from you a white man that has raped them for many years, you institunalized rapist that's raped black people, period, not all white people are in your low-life category. I know the kind of white man you worship and you are about, trash.

Look at the video, look at yourself and look at your damn history sweating black people for the all mighty dollar to keep you on top. Your kind (not all white people), but your kind (like you) have sweated all people of color that were in this country or came here by other means.

Yes, that sometimes happens with Sony products. I know personally a gentleman whose Sony digital camera died after about thirteen months and they told him it would cost about $200.00 to repair. In polite company, I cannot repeat what he told Sony about their products and their company. He did not have it fixed; he bought a new digital camera, NOT a Sony!

But my own personal experience with nine (9) Sony shortwave radios (two ICF-SW7600Gs, two ICF-SW35s, and five ICF-SW7600GRs) has been fully satisfactory. My oldest one is about ten years old now and still functions as new, as do all the other ones. Therefore, I have never had any dealings with the Sony service department. But I am given to understand that those who DO have such dealings are left with a sour taste in their mouth.

But I can say that, again in my own experience (only), Sony shortwave radios are made with a great deal of integrity. That appears to be something one can NOT say about Eton/Grundig products, certainly their more expensive radios (Grundig Satellit 800, Eton E1 [especially], and so forth.

And isn't it funny how they ALWAYS announce these new, expensive models, advertise them heavily (see this month's MONITORING TIMES and POPULAR COMMUNICATIONS for the Grundig Satellit 750), announce an introduction date, and then they either do NOT actually make the product at all (see all the advertisements in PASSPORT TO WORLD BAND RADIO 2008 Edition for the Grundig Satellit 1000) or they "postpone" the introduction and make you wait, and wait, and wait, and wait.

Certainly in the case of the Eton E1, it APPEARS that the wait was NOT worthwhile. The Grundig Satellit 800 is more problematic in that regard; quite a few were well-made and, even among those which were not (including my own), it appears that after this model has been fixed by Drake, it STAYS fixed, something, apparently, that cannot be said of the E1.

I would not hold my breath while waiting for the introduction of the Grundig Satellit 750 nor would I be "the first kid on my block" to buy one!

Best,

Joe

&#65533;Sorry, Mark. Believe me. I feel your pain. I have eight years collapsing before me. You have only Clear Channel <http://www.bloomberg.com/apps/news?pid=20601103&sid=ap6ZxLNscTSU&refer=us>.
Have your dad call my dad <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/George_H._W._Bush>.
Maybe he can help.&#65533;

Translation: Go away, kid. You bother me.

They're calling in all the chits at the San Antonio headquarters of Clear Channel.

We can only imagine.

&#65533;Hi this is Mark&#65533; (silence) &#65533;Mark Mays&#65533; (silence) &#65533;Please don't make me say it&#65533;Mark Mays, President and CEO of Clear Channel.&#65533; (click!)

You're Mark Mays and your new wake up time is 3 AM.

Yesterday morning, you orchestrated the press release blast, which told how your family friend (that part omitted) and Texas Judge John Gabriel <http://www.paidcontent.org/entry/419-inside-the-deals-texas-justice-may-give-clear-channel-another-shot/> issued a temporary restraining order against the banks that were backing out of your buyout deal with BainCapital and Thomas H. Lee. The order read that the banks involved would have to complete the deal based on terms consistent with their commitment letter.

�Unusual.� That's what Lawrence A. Hamermesh <http://law.widener.edu/Academics/Faculty/ProfilesDe/HamermeshLawrenceA.aspx>, a professor of corporate law at Windener University of Law in Delaware called Judge Gabriel's action. As a rule, a judge doesn't issue a restraining order prior to holding a hearing to discuss a case. So we're sitting here in limbo until Tuesday, April 8 - the date of a hearing to determine whether this temporary restraining order should be graduated to a temporary injunction.

Translation: Only the lawyers are getting rich on this deal.

You're Mark Mays and how about the call you got while working damage control.

That's the front page of the most-read front page in the world. It's the first headline that most decision makers read in the morning.

My favorite line in 'todays Journal <http://online.wsj.com/article/SB120660493325368265.html?mod=todays_us_nonsub_money_and_investing>:
If it doesn't go private, Clear Channel will be relying on disgruntled employees to help drive growth in a tough economic climate.

Don't fret over that front page story, Mark. By Monday, most will be wrapping their garbage in it.

What was that famous line your father was fond of?

�We are not in the business of providing news and information; we're simply in the business of selling our customers' products.�

You weren't even that.

Don't think that mentioning your outdoor business instead of radio makes Clear Channel look better. How many unsold boards are you stuck with right now? And what do your projections look like? Thought so.

Even if you manage to pull off a miracle and call in enough chits and peddle enough influence to get you out of this mess, the name Clear Channel will always bring to mind tarnished goods and damaged merchandise.

From Barneys <http://www.barneys.com/b/;jsessionid=bdge8_Y5j7AdA_-7aK2Jr> to Big Lots <http://www.biglots.com/>.

How does it feel to want?

It's like that depression era song by Bessie Smith that was number one seventy-eight years ago today: �Nobody knows you when you're down and out.�

Remember those good ol' days when you were buying up everything - whether you needed it or not? There was Katz <http://www.katz-media.com/>, Premiere <http://www.premiereradio.com/>, AgriBroadcast <http://www.clearchannel.com/>, FoxSports,

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fox_Sports_Radio> Inside Radio
<http://www.insideradio.com/>, Duncan <http://www.duncanworldwide.com/report.asp>, program and marketing consultants <http://www.allbusiness.com/services/motion-pictures/4483715-1.html>, concert promoters <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Live_Nation>, and venues <http://http/www.boston.com/ae/music/articles/2006/01/25/live_nation_takes_over_clear_chan nels_concerts/>
- and the list goes on. You were forced to sell off the concert business when you tanked it and you stop publishing Duncan when radio billing started going south.

Bet you never thought you'd read the word collapse in the same sentence as Clear Channel back in the days when you convinced yourself the party would never end.

You were what Larry Flynt <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Larry_Flynt>was in the seventies.

Peter Guber <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Peter_Guber>and Jon Peters <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jon_Peters> in the eighties.

Dieter Zetsche <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Dieter_Zetsche> in the nineties.

Gerald Levin <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gerald_Levin> in 2000.

Buy it now and figure out what to do with it later.

Sure, you got conned by one of the best in the business�but now 'Randys
<http://http/en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Randy_Michaels> hanging out with Sam Zell <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sam_Zell> and calling the trades to spread rumors that he and Sam may pick through the pieces of Clear Channel just to bust your balls.

And you can't blame him for taking advantage of you.

This Clear Channel collapse isn't all bad news. In the weeks and months to come as Clear Channel properties are parted out as salvage for fair market price to smaller broadcast companies - emphasis on broadcast - those whose creativity has been stifled for the past decade - or those that were unwillingly forced out of broadcasting - will find new opportunities to restructure this industry.

In the end, Mark, you were just another empty tyrant in charge of an empire of straw men.

And the one's that got you where you are today are packing their golden parachutes as you read this.

You should've listened to the lyrics of that country song by your fellow Texan Kenny Rogers: "You got to know when to hold 'em, know when to fold 'em,/ Know when to walk away and know when to run /You never count your money when you're sittin' at the table /There'll be time enough for countin'

when the dealin's done.&#65533;

Without HD radio, you are still left with no less than 30 free viable Am/Fm radio stations.

With HD you get stations that sound a little better, but bascially are left with the same format choices already found on Am/FM

Clear Channel's Challenge
As Buyout Plan Flops, Radio Company Faces
A Changed Industry
By SARAH MCBRIDE
March 28, 2008; Page C1
For 16 months, radio giant Clear Channel Communications Inc.'s future has hung in limbo as the company battled to push through its proposed sale to Thomas H. Lee Partners LP and Bain Capital Partners LLC. With that deal now facing collapse, Clear Channel potentially faces another epic struggle: going it alone in a faltering radio industry.
The Clear Channel sale for the moment has fallen into a legal tangle over the failure to complete the transaction. Clear Channel and its private-equity buyers, Bain Capital and THL, have filed lawsuits claiming that a syndicate of Wall Street securities firms and banks has illegally balked at their obligation to fund the deal.
.....MY FAVORITE LINE.....
SHOCK RADIO
• The Situation: If it doesn't go private, Clear Channel will be relying on disgruntled employees to help drive growth in a tough economic climate.
• Background: Employees with stock were counting on a $39.20-per-share payout, but the stock will likely stay mired in the $20s if the deal doesn't go through.
• What's Next: Clear Channel and the private-equity companies are suing the banks and securities firms to force them to provide funding.
At issue is the credit agreement that the company would need to draw on; Clear Channel and the private-equity firms say that because of worsening credit-market conditions, the banks are trying to wiggle out of terms they agreed to when the deal was first agreed.
On Thursday, a district court judge in Texas issued a restraining order forbidding the banks from refusing to fund the merger. Later in the day, the banks filed a notice to try to move the suit to federal court.
If the deal isn't completed, Clear Channel will be back to square one in a business that has declined sharply during the months it has chased the sale. Since it agreed on a final sale price of $39.20 a share in May 2007, the economy has taken a hit, sending advertising into a tailspin.
Over-the-airwaves radio advertising, Clear Channel's trademark business, is shrinking. Outdoor advertising, which now represents almost half of the company's revenue, is still growing but at a much slower pace than expected even a year ago.
Boosting performance won't be easy, particularly since the company would be relying on -- and trying to retain -- any disappointed stockholding employees. Under an employee stock-purchase plan that ran until last year, employees purchased millions of shares, ranging in recent years from 144,444 shares in 2006 to 319,817 shares in 2002. Millions more shares over the years were given out in the form of options.

MORE ON CLEAR CHANNEL

Going forward, Clear Channel would have to incentivize those same workers. The company may turn to layoffs to cut costs, although prior layoffs over the past few years have left staff cut close to the bone, current employees have said.
The outlook is sunnier for billboard advertising, an area in which Clear Channel's revenue rose 13% last year. But analysts worry that broader economic woes might drag down the sector. RBC Capital Markets estimates that Clear Channel's outdoor-advertising growth this year will slow to 4%.
To perform, the company will have to focus on strategies such as aggressively pitching its new digital billboards, which change their images every few seconds.
Downgrade Coming?
More broadly, the company's hands could be tied financially. Fitch on Thursday said it would leave Clear Channel's credit rating at BB-, three levels below investment grade, if the privatization doesn't go through as management has "demonstrated a tolerance for greater leverage." Moody's said if the deal doesn't close, Clear Channel's ratings "have a high probability of being downgraded to speculative grade" because the company has demonstrated its "predilection for shareholder friendly behavior."
The Bright Side
Currently at a ratio for debt-to-Ebitda, or earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of 2.6 for 2008, Clear Channel has lower debt levels than most similar companies, says Bernstein Research analyst Michael Nathanson.
A squelched deal wouldn't be entirely bad news for Clear Channel. It would get a breakup fee of $500 million to $600 million, depending on the final circumstances of the breakup. It also wouldn't have to sell six radio stations in major markets like San Francisco, which was a Justice Department requirement of the privatization.
One quick fix the company could make to restore some confidence: more fully breaking itself into two, as posited by Bear Stearns analyst Victor Miller. While Clear Channel Outdoor Holdings </quotes/main.html?type=djn&symbol=CCU> Inc. trades separately, it's just a small portion of the company, as Clear Channel Communications still holds 89%.
That would separate the slower-growing radio business from the more promising billboard category, likely providing an instant boost to Clear Channel Outdoor's shares. Mr. Miller also suggested the company could sell its international outdoor business.
Under any scenario, the company will have to quickly address its radio operations.
On the Dial
While the company has managed to stay on track with some programs, such as pushing its online business and an industrywide digital technology called HD Radio, some businesses have suffered during the long period of uncertainty. At the time of the proposed privatization, Clear Channel said it would sell off its 448 radio stations outside top-100 markets.

Back then, it owned 1,150 stations; it is now down to about 1,000.
Unfortunately, in the current economic climate, where advertising is suffering in general and radio advertising in particular, large-market radio has been especially hard hit by the ad slowdown.

I thought NPR stood for National Petroleum Radio since they receive most of their funding from the oil industry. Yet another example of disguised payola.

Anyone who gives a penny to PBS et.al. during their frequent fund drives is a sucker. Thanks to big oil's money they don't need it, but they'll sure take it. Plus it sustains the mirage that they are advocates on behalf of the public interest.

Check out the corporate names as the credits roll by next time you watch a PBS program - Exxon-Mobil, Shell, Archer Daniel Midlands, Merck et.al., virtually all the globalist transnational corporate heavyweights that are destroying the earth, the water, the air, the middle class, the world.

Corporations don't give money away without expecting something in return and NPR and PBS oblige. They are just more sophisticated about doing so than the other networks.

You're welcome.... The active loop is of course directional and must be turned to receive the best reception. Also placing it in a window will increase reception., but then it is difficult to turn it.
If you already know this, then my apologies. I guess I am saying the obvious. As a wire antenna gets longer... it will of course outperform the loop.
Next camping trip... I will take both the loop nad a wire, and try a comparison.... the loop should be good outside as long as I take it in if it rains.....it's not weather proof.
I like to think of it as being very useful for certain situations.....,. it has a place in my SWL supplies....along with wires of different lengths, roll ups, fold ups.... etc.

Best regards, Rob

Do not assume that I have any use for Black racists such as you because I have no use for White racists. We must get along or else we all suffer. I see President Obama as the best hope for America today.
He could be for reconciliation between the races. I am not saying that everything would be great but better. Your racial hatred is not helping Obama.

Take a long vacation and say nothing until after the election. Better yet, just go away forever. You are bad news.

Eton's website had the June date weeks ago, but NOW says COMING IN 2008. So the June date has already been changed.

ALL of my radios from Eton has been trouble free and work the way they are supposed to work.

No shame in not understanding the tax part - few people do. Most people hear the "it's a tax write off" and assume that if one donates $100 to charity they may deduct $100 off their taxes. That isn't how it works, you can deduct the $100 from your gross income, not your tax liability. You do decrease your tax liability some but not to the amount you gave away.

Of course when talking about corporations they likely aren't paying any taxes to begin with so it is a moot question.

You need to keep in mind that there is a great deal of variability amongst these Chinese portables. I was just comparing my DE1103 to my Eton E5 and RP2100, each using the built-in whip. At a little after 0700 UTC, R New Zealand Int'l was barely audible on the DE1103 and E5. It was coming much better on the RP2100. On the DE1103 and E5 nothing at all was audible. On the RP2100, I was getting enough audio to be able to ID R. Australia in English. Don't get me wrong - I've long been a vocal fan of the sensitivity of the 1103 and the E5. However, I'm now concluding that my Redsun is more sensitive.

Due to the poor propagation caused by the sunspot minimum, I'm not hearing much above 17 MHz on any of my radios. I kind of long for a return of the sunspot maximum, when you can often hear signals on the 13 MHz-and-up bands all night long. I'm not hearing many international broadcasts above 17 MHz right now, even in daylight hours. I will have to scan 20-30 MHz range with my DE1103 and E5 to see how other signals might be coming through.

- Some time ago, there was report published of tests
- which compared the received signals levels with
- and without - this type of transformer.
- From memory, it showed that, on most frequencies,
- there was a very noticeable increase of signal level
- into the receiver. Only on a minority of frequencies was
- there some (acceptable) reduction of level.
- I've had a quick Google, but haven't yet found this report.

His life is public record. It is a smear attempt to dwell on his childhood because a child has little to do with where his parents (his stepfather) take him. What is important is that he overcame all these difficulties and where he is now. I am just as sick of white racists as the black racists are. Obama is not a racist because he would have to hate one of his parents if he were one. I like the way he talks, the things he says and his reconciliatory message. Obama will not cure all but he can help. We have a large Afro-American population and they do have valid grievances. The best way to get over the past is to make a positive step for the future.

- No shame in not understanding the tax part - few people do.
- Most people hear the "it's a tax write off" and assume that
- if one donates $100 to charity they may deduct $100 off their
- taxes. That isn't how it works, you can deduct the $100 from
- your gross income, not your tax liability. You do decrease
- your tax liability some but not to the amount you gave away.

true, True. TRUE !

- Of course when talking about corporations they likely aren't
- paying any taxes to begin with so it is a moot question.

PBS & NPR :
The Power of Donations {Sponsorships} UnderWriting by Corporates Insures Control of What You See and Hear

For the Corporations the Donations are usually from Excess Profits; and the Donations are used to Reduce their Corporate Profits : So that it does not look like they have THAT MUCH Excess Profits. - - - a r a a r a a r w g a - - -

Note - Corporations without Profits usually do not make Donations.

The Donations {Sponsorships} UnderWriting Insures what is Produced with the Money with the Limited Resources that are available to Produce 'things' -IF- The Things that they Want Produced are Produced : Then the Things that they Do Not Want Produced lack the Resources and Money to Get Produced.

This is the Secret of Matching Donations the Corporations put-up some Money that is Required to be Matched by PBS, NPR etc through Viewer / Listener Pledges. This Sucks-Up the Available Pledge Money and the Combined Moneys are used to Produce What the Corporations Want You to See and Hear -versus- Something else that they do NOT want you to see and hear.

Plus the Donations come with 'other' Strings : Seats on the Public TV / Radio Board or more importantly the Seats and Appointments to the Station's Programming Advisory Board.

http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/11773

The "Correct Way" to Install a Longwire Antenna and Balun
by Wellbrook => http://www.wellbrook.uk.com/longwire.html
We have all most likely done it the wrong way more than once . . .

A key-point that Wellbrook makes is the Five Metre "Noise Zone" that exists around a House and getting the Wire Antenna Element away {out} from this area.
http://www.wellbrook.uk.com/longwire.html Note - The above "Correct Way" installation will ensure that the Wire Antenna Element is 'outside' the local Noise Zone which extends up to Five Metres (16 Feet) around the House. Also the noise pickup is lower with the feeder close to the ground -or- buried under the ground a few inches.
-Why- The Antenna and the Balun are within the Local Noise Zone RFI & EMF {Interference Area} that surrounds most buildings up to distance of Five Metres (16 Feet).

We are a little racist and it is not too bad as long as it does not interfere with our judgment. Beware of those who tell you that we are all the same because they are lying to you. We have our differences and we need to work with people who are different from us. We are all doomed to live in a world of hate if we reject a very special human being such as Obama because he is part black or because of his middle name. Give him a chance! How could anyone be worse than Hillary Clinton or John McCain?

Thanks. There's certainly a lot of good reading there, and in the links in your other posts today. The info particularly in

http://web.archive.org/web/20030609000229/www.anarc.org/naswa/badx/antennas/SWL_longwire.html is exactly the sort of thing I was thinking about.

However, there's one thing which I note (just a quick look) on several of the websites, and that is the transformer is repeatedly referred to as a 'balun'. It isn't. I suspect that it's because they are using the same transformer as the type used in a balun but, in this application, a balun it ain't!

I agree with your point.

Here is problem/opportunity (imho)

Some fiduciary "conservative" funds are not allowed by charter to buy anything under $5, and "reverse splits" in "cheap" penny stocks sometimes happen for this reason.

NYSE, New York Stock Exchange, under $2 stocks aren't publicized/listed in daily highlight/lowlight reports of many newspapers.

Of course they are all over the internet

NASDAQ exchange is seemingly somewhat similar

Caveat penny stocks players, because there seems to be somewhat more manipulating, cheating, scalping, pumping-dumping, chicanery-trickery with "cheapos" than with the "high priced"

I see Citadel, Radio One, the Spanish radio chain, Westwood etal are under $5.

You, say in the sales departments of stations that are nevertheless seemingly doing nicely, are encouraged to post your experieces and perceptions.

Is now the time to load-up, and/or is your industry dying, as the movie industry was thought to be in the 1950s because of television

These are blunt, flawed ideas and I apologize to any offended: your corrections & opposing ideas are encouraged

I appreciate your comments. Maybe, things will be for the good in the long run. But for someone like Lookout, he is a very serious and a dangerous person about his racism. I have seen it first hand from him.
Someone like him can never be trusted. You can never turn your back to a person like him. He will for sure knife you in the back and smile in Like I said, it's semantics. The mixer produces two 3rd order products.

"Questions About High Definition HD Radio"

Q: Why do I get drop-outs or silences on the HD2 Services?

A: This is a sign of marginal signal strength at your radio. It is important to remember that the HD Radio multicast channels (HD2, HD3, etc), unlike the HD1 channel, do not have an analog signal for the radio to 'fall-back to' when digital reception is lost. So a listener with marginal reception that is losing the digital signal will experience periods of silence until the signal is regained.

http://www.wpr.org/hd/hd_faq.cfm

"Is HD Radio Toast?"

"There are serious issues of coverage. Early adopters who bought HD radios report serious drop-outs, poor coverage, and interference. The engineers of Ibiquity may argue otherwise and defend the system, but the industry has a serious PR problem with the very people we need to get the word out on HD... In other words, everything you can find on the regular FM dial... The word has already gotten out about HD Radio. People who have already bought an HD Radio are telling others of their experience (mostly bad) and no amount of marketing will reverse this."

http://www.fmqb.com/article.asp?id=487772

Most automakers won't even touch HD, because it simply doesn't work - there are no analog backups for the HD channels, it jams, and causes interference. Wait until consumers figure out that their "defective" HD radios don't work.

Right, Eduardo - almost 50% of listening is during rush-hours. Aside from that, no one is buying home HD radios - LOL!

A better move would be to improve the AM receiver by using a decent sync detector an a variable Q IF.

Properly aligned and with the audio mod, a DX-302 is a perfectly acceptable

Because there is a subset to SWLer/Dxer types; those who actually HEAR the CONTENT of all these international newscasts we've been LISTENING to and care a lot about the "software", as well as the hardware. I got my R8B in 1999. I enjoyed it more for GHFS and USCG than any stupid broadcasting station. I can still listen to airliners over the Pacific, so the hardware's OK. But I can do that on my AR8200MK3B out of the little pouch on my backpack, why do I need all this other shit?

Longwire Antenna Balun Question ?

Ian,

The Magnetic Long-Wire Antenna Balun
- A Balun It Ain't ! - But It Works :o)

NOTE - This is a Resource Message for Shortwave Radio Listener (SWL) Newbies.

Some people as a result of the coining of the Word "Balun" [Bal-Un] for Balanced-to-Unbalance Matching Transformer :
Also like to use the Word "Unun" [Un-Un] for the Unbalanceto-Unbalanced Matching Transformer.

"Balun" a specific Contraction becoming an inclusive Buzz Word relegated to commonly misused technical Jargon.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Balun

Most of these Matching Transformers used between Single Wire Antenna Elements and Coax Cable are 'not' Baluns but Ununs since the Match-up an Unbalanced Antenna Element with an Unbalanced Coax Calbe feed-in-line.

Many Manufactures have come-up with Trade Marked Names

BBC America sure does like Billy Mays.I was watching some BBC America tv news a few nights ago and up popped a Billy Mays screaming at the top of his lungs tv commerical.There is something wrong with his hearing.Maybe that is why he screams so dang loudly.

One time In 1971 when I was in N'Awlins, I saw an ad in the newspaper about a 1955 MG restored car for sale.I phoned that phone number.Next day, the guy who owned that car for sale, we went riding in that car.Every single word he was saying, he was shouting at the top of his lungs.He said he worked offshore on an oil rig.

FS: DAK MRC5000 dual-cassette boombox with AM/FM/SW coverage. This is rare in that it has digital tuning which is rare for a boombox with shortwave coverage. Shortwave coverage is 3.2 - 7.3 mhz and 9.5 - 21.75 mhz. Has "mini jack" on back for external antenna. In excellent condition but one speaker does not seem to work. When using headphones both channels work so could just be loose wire or something. $25 obo plus shipping. Picture below.

Prussian Blue is for useing on Shootin Irons.
I expect as how in a coupla hours I will get in my big old long tall 1978 Dodge van and drive over to that Exxon gas station for $2.00 worth of lawn mower gas.Yesterday, I knocked out about one third of my front yard, that tall grass taller than my knees is tough stuff, I always save some for the next day.I dont see how my little walk behind/push it lawn mower with that 3.75 horsepower Briggs & Stratton engine does it, the blade is awfully dull too, maybe someday I will sharpen it up.Every time I mow my yard, it gets mowed three times.Push it forward a little bit, pull it back and push it forward again and so on and on,,,,,,

Blacks should be happy their ancestors sold them into slavery to Jewish slave traders. Their standards of living in white countries are immeasurably higher than they would be in Africa. Not that I expect the selfish ingrates to shut their yappers and say "thank you" any time soon. And why should they, when whites are stupid enough to hand them everything they clamor for on a silver platter?

There's "acceptable" and there's "very good", entirely different things.
A DX-302 modded and aligned is on the low end of "acceptable" at best.
It's acceptable as a beginner's radio, that's as much credit as I'm willing to give it.

I own all the radios being discussed in this thread, so I thought I'd add my impressions:

1. The G5, E5, and the 1103 are basically the same radio in in slightly different boxes. Very sensitive off the whip, decent audio, which is even better if listening through earphones. They are tiny, but I have no problem even with my fat, puffy, little fingers. I'm also really impressed by the selectivity/audio tradeoff on the narrow filter. The DE1102 is also similar, but even smaller.

2. For DXing the Sony 7600G or GR gets the nods. Handles external antennas much better and the selectable sync really helps dig out DX in crowded band conditions. The lack of a tuning knob is a drag. It does resolve USB/LSB better that the previous radios.

3. The Radio Shack DX-398 is the same as the Sangean ATS-909. Not very sensitive off the whip, but handles externals like a desktop receiver does. Smaller tuning resolution increments allow good SSB clarification. These radios do eat AA batteries like candy.

4. The KA2100 is the N American version of the Redsun RP2100. I was lucky enough to acquire one of these just last week. It really rocks! Awesome sensitivity, big numerals on the digital display, large enough speaker to deliver quality audio - which is helped by the inclusion of separate and contiuous bass and treble controls. Probably the best FM reception of any portable I own. Also, ties with the 7600GR for best MW reception. It's larger than the other radios in this thread, but still portable. While it does not receive SSB-clarified signals, an after-market BFO is available and can be attached to the IF out receptacle.

Some folks also include the old Grundig Yacht Boy-400 in these comparisons, but I think it's clearly inferior.

I had one for many years, only real complaints I had was the filters were too wide, and it would lock up once in a while, and the batteries had to be removed to reset everything.

I had a lot of fun with it.

The entire movie can be seen at this site. Only a little more then fifteen minutes long. But should be seen. The producer.. Geert Wilders, a citizen of the Netherlands, has been targeted to be killed on sight by Muslims. He knew that he could be killed for this, and went ahead anyways, believing this film needed to be seen by everyone.

The U.N banned the film as "anti-Islamic". No surprise there.

Go to the main page and then down to where it says "This is the official "Fitna" Movie"
Click on that and watch..... best of luck......

This isn't hard to understand. This is a two part term, which refers to the type of transformer. "BAL" refers to balanced and "UN" refers to unbalanced so the possibilities are BALBAL, UNUN, or BALUN.

A long wire is unbalanced and a coax is unbalanced so the transformer type you would use is a UNUN. If you had a dipole, which is balanced connected to a coax you would use a BALUN.

You need to take more care making such a determination as the radio input response will not be flat. Also complicating the observation you are making is (I assume you are using the whip on the radios) the receive antenna impedance is all over the place over frequency. You would have of to make a number of comparisons over frequency in order to

They are not on the summer schedule yet.

At 19:00UTC they were on 15,315 (Best), 15,525 and 17810. For some reason the transmission on 15,315 is delayed a few hundred milliseconds from the other two frequencies even though they originate from the same transmitter site.

No long-winded explainations, but I'm very satisfied with the Kaito KA 2100. Good sound and sensitivity. I just wanted a reliable, well-built portable that also runs on AC and automatically switches to battery if the power goes off. I don't care about SSB so that's not an issue with me.
The Sony is battery only, so it was out of the running.
The Kaito KA 2100 is the exact same radio as the C. Crane CCRadio-SW and is $50 less from Universal Radio. The Kaito KA 2100 is the best

Hi
I always thought the FRG-7 was an excellent radio, although I have never been fortunate to own one myself. It has a 5 star rating on dxing.com and they reckon it is "very stable"
If I saw one going for the right price I would snap it up as quick as I could, you could always sell it on if you didn't like it. I have seen them go for as much as ?190.00p here in the UK on ebay

3155. Boycott Canadian Seafood

Canada's annual slaughter of baby seals has begun. The Canadian seal hunt is the largest slaughter of marine mammals in the world killing over 1,000,000,000 seal pups for their fur over the past four years. Despite worldwide pressure to stop this atrocity the Canadian government continues on.

Canada has gone to great lengths (even passing laws that make it illegal to watch) to block the world from seeing what they are doing but their efforts have failed. The disturbing video can be viewed at http://www.hsus.org/index-seals.html (WARNING:CONTAINS GRAPHIC FOOTAGE)

From the Humane Society of United States website:

"To date, over 3,200 restaurants and grocery stores have joined the Protect Seals campaign. Some of the national corporations that have joined the ProtectSeals campaign include Whole Foods Markets, Ted's Montana Grill, Legal Sea Foods, Publix Supermarkets, Trader Joe's, Oceanaire Seafood Room, Earth Fare, WinCo Foods and Jimmy Buffett's Margaritaville Cafes.

They are making clear to Canada's fishing industry that there are certain practices that are simply inconsistent with responsible, humane marine stewardship and that the commercial seal hunt is one of them. Until Canada's fishing industry rises to a higher level of compassionate marine stewardship by giving up its support for and engagement in the commercial seal hunt, thousands of socially conscious companies are electing to shift their seafood purchasing away from it. To join them, click here for the ProtectSeals pledge form.

It is the connection between commercial fisheries and the seal hunt, and the economics of both industries, which makes a boycott of Canadian seafood products a logical next step in ending the annual hunt. And it is American consumers and businesses that purchase Canadian seafood who have the power to convince the Canadian government and individual fishermen to stop the slaughter of seals.

Commercial seal hunting is an off-season activity conducted over just a few days by a few thousand fishermen from Canada's east coast. On average, the fishermen who participate in the commercial seal hunt earn a tiny fraction of their annual incomes from sealing. Out of a population of more than 30 million people, less than 5,000 Canadians participate in the commercial seal hunt each year.

Sealing accounts for a tiny fraction of the value of Canada's fishery. Even in Newfoundland, where 90% of sealers live, the economic contribution of the seal hunt is marginal at best. Ninety-eight percent of the landed value of Newfoundland's fishery comes from fish, while less than 3 percent comes from seals.

The bulk of Canadian seafood--roughly two thirds of it--is exported to the United States, generating more than $2.5 billion (CAD) annually for the Canadian economy. This amount dwarfs the small economic contribution made by the seal hunt. The landed value of the 2007 seal hunt is estimated to be in the $12 million (CDN) range.

The Importance of Snow Crabs

Since nine out of ten sealers reside in Newfoundland, it makes sense to target the fishermen in that region. One way to get them to listen to the international outrage over the seal hunt is to hit them in the pocketbook, and that means snow crabs. Prior to the launch of the ProtectSeals boycott, snow crabs were the most important source of income for Newfoundland's fishing communities.

The vast majority of Canadian snow crabs come from Newfoundland and other sealing provinces. By eliminating just this one product from their menus, American grocery stores and restaurants are sending a direct message to the very industry and individuals responsible for the seal hunt. Other grocery stores and restaurants are boycotting all seafood from sealing provinces, and still others are boycotting all seafood from Canada. We welcome all of their help.

Sign the Pledge

The Canadian government, Canada's fishing industry, and individual sealers face an important economic decision. Until Canada's commercial seal hunt is ended for good, the ProtectSeals network will continue its boycott of Canadian seafood products.

If you own or run a restaurant or grocery store that sells Canadian seafood, your choice not to sell Canadian seafood products, such as snow crabs, can play a vital role in helping us end the seal hunt. By signing our pledge form, you will help us demonstrate to the Canadian fishing community that continuing the seal hunt puts at risk the most lucrative parts of its industry. Click here to sign the pledge to boycott Canadian seafood.

Fast Facts about Canada's Seal Hunt

It's a cruel slaughter.

* Fully 95% of the harp seals killed over the past five years have been under three months of age. At the time of slaughter, many of these defenseless pups had not yet eaten their first solid food or taken their first swim--they literally had no escape from the "hunters."

* Video evidence clearly shows sealers routinely dragging conscious pups across the ice with boathooks, shooting seals and leaving them to suffer in agony, and even skinning seals alive.

* In 2001, an independent team of veterinary experts studied Canada's commercial seal hunt. Their report concluded that in 42% of the cases they examined, the seal did not show enough evidence of cranial injury to even guarantee unconsciousness at the time of skinning.

It's a reckless cull.

* Over the past three years, nearly a million seal pups have been slaughtered for their fur.

* The last time sealers killed this many seals--in the 1950s and '60s--the harp seal population was quickly reduced by as much as two thirds.

* Global warming is compounding the situation. In 2007, the Government of Canada continued with the seal hunt despite estimates by Canadian government scientists that as many as 90 percent of the seal pups in the southern Gulf of St. Lawrence died because of poor ice conditions.

* Scientists around the world have condemned the Canadian government's management plan for harp seals as reckless, unsustainable, and irresponsible.

The seal hunt brings in very little money.

* Even in Newfoundland, where 90% of sealers live, income from sealing accounts for less than one-tenth of 1% of the province's economy.

* Sealers are fishermen who engage in several fisheries throughout the year, and sealing revenues account for only about one twentieth of their total incomes.

Killing seals may harm fish stocks.

* About 3% of a harp seal's diet consists of commercially fished cod. However, harp seals also consume many significant predators of cod, including squid. Removing harp seals may mean an increase in cod predators.

* The Canadian government clearly states there is no evidence that killing harp seals will help fish stocks recover, and scientists have expressed concerns that culling seals may in fact impede the recovery of ground fish stocks.

If you oppose the seal hunt, you're in good company.

Polling shows 79% of American voters oppose the Canadian seal hunt. This opposition cuts across all regions of the county and all political parties. (Penn, Schoen & Berland, 2002).

* In 2007, the U.S. House of Representatives unanimously passed a resolution calling on Canada to bring its commercial seal hunt to an end.

* Nearly 70 percent of Canadians holding an opinion are opposed to the commercial seal hunt outright, and even higher numbers oppose specific aspects of the hunt such as the killing of seal pups. Only 4% said that they would be very upset if the hunt ended. (Environics Research, 2005)

* Close to 80 percent of the people who are aware of the Canadian seal hunt in the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Germany and France oppose it as well. (Penn, Schoen & Berland, 2002 and MORI, 2002.)"

I played around with a Sony 7600 about 3 or 4 years ago in a Sony Store when I was shopping for my first shortwave. At the time, I wasn't impressed with it. I didn't like the ergonomics or the sound, and I thought it was pretty damned expensive for what it was (they were asking over $300 for it at the time, though it seems to be widely available today for $150; the latter price seems much more reasonable). Since this is the last of Sony's shortwaves, however, and since it's likely to soon be discontinued, I figure I should give it another shot if I can find one locally with a good return policy.

I tried out the Grundig G5 at a local Rat Shack the other day and thought it was pretty impressive for a $150 radio. Much better than its predecessor the Yacht Boy, IMO. Yes, the buttons are small, but compactness is exactly what I want from a portable! I had no problems operating it, though I suppose it might be problematic for someone with stubby fingers or with poor eyesight.

I'm intrigued by the Kaito KA1103 as it appears to be almost identical to the G5, but $50 cheaper, and unlike a lot of people it seems, the faux-analog interface appeals to me (I've always found analog interfaces easier to deal with than numeric displays). Sucks that there's no dedicated volume control, but I bet I could get used to it.

I'm interested in the 2100 because it looks like the Grundig 350, which I liked quite a bit but was forced to return because of the drift. I figure the 2100 won't have this problem because it is PLL synthesized. Drift seems to only be a problem with analog SW receivers.

I'm surprised by the negative comments I've been hearing lately about the Sangeans, as the 909 still commands a relatively hefty price tag (over $250) and they used to have a good reputation.

It'd be nice to get some perspectives on this from some objective marine biologists and from the seal hunters themselves. One can only assume that the species isn't being overhunted if it still exists in sufficient numbers to support an industry. What would happen to the other wildlife in the region if the baby seals were allowed to live?

What would happen to the hunters? Would they wind up on the dole?

And what exactly is the bahavior we are supposed to regard as unethical here? Is it the _way_ the animals are killed, or simply the fact that they are being killed at all? If the latter, then I'm sure the seal hunters would be willing to switch to a more humane way of killing the animals (if the current way is indeed inhumane) in exchange for the European embargoes to be dropped. If the former, well, I notice there are no worldwide protests against the killing of calfs. Is a seal's life worth more than a cow's?

"Fifty percent of 2007 cars offer iPod integration"

"Playlist magazine reports that about half of all new 2007 automobiles support iPod integration. Telematics Research Group calls it "the most sought after feature" for customers. This number is way up from the 12% iPod support in 2006 model year cars. You can only imagine how our Internet-addicted lifestyle (aka our "crackberry-style living") will continue to grow and develop over the next few model years. I fully expect standard in-seat video integration and wireless Internet consoles to join iPod support as standard options."

The real issue is what to do with the money from the remaining station and subsidiary sales. The investment bankers want to keep it as a dividend, and the banks want it to go to them as principal and interest payments.

Oh pa-lese. There are plenty of reasons like not to vote for Obama, but his heritage isn't one of them. As Barak himself has said, if he

Oh go to hell with your criticism. What do you REALLY know about the seal hunt and the way of life of the people there? Fuck all!!!. First... mailpanda originates in Asia or Australia.... my guess is Australia.... like they have any business criticising Canadian east coast sealers who have been hunting this way for generations.

Why don't we go after Australians who raise cattle and sheep for slaughter. The poor defenceless animals.

Actually, the 7600GR does have an AC receptacle, even if it doesn't come with a wall wart when you buy it. I use the same one that came with my Sony SW77. The KA2100/RP2100 radio certainly seems to be the best buy under a hundred dollars - though a DE1103 is worth looking at. It's real close between the 7600GR and the G5/E5 for the best radio in the mid-$100 range.

All these radios are great. That's the reason I like to collect radios - sure beats having to decide which is the very best. EBay gives you an opportunity to try them all.

Oh... and the poor little Bambi deer that people shoot... go to hell asshole..... we have been fishing and hunting in Canada for generations and we aren't going to change to make you feel better, you jerk. A lot of us Canadians have been brought up in families with the fishing rod and the .22 rifle and the Lee Enfield .303 rifle. Although the government has been trying to take our guns from us. Not easy... they have a long ways to go yet.

You feel you have the right to tell us how to live.???????

Maybe I don't like the way you live asshole...... maybe I should tell you how to live. How would you like that you goddamn little dictator????

Until you go and live with the hunters and fishermen and learn their ways, and understand their families, and learn their history..... you can go to hell. Don't you dare to step on us!

Oh.. by the way... during the summer planting and fall harvest seasons... yes we have lots of Mexicans and people from Caribbean countries up in Canada working the fields.
And we have some Mexicans trying to sneek into Canada too. (Like on inflatable rafts across the Niagara River.. the idiots.)

Animal Medical Health and Animal Health Products (that's where I go when I need to buy another 33 pound bag of Pro Pac dog food for doggy, www.propacpetfood.com) store are in the same building on I-20 Frontage Road, there is a wall and a doorway that seperates the clinic and the store.They have a Rooster and three or four Chickens behind the building.The Rooster and Chickens are not pened in or anything like that.Sometimes, I think about buying some egg laying Hens and keep them in my back yard for fresh eggs.

The east coast sealers have their traditional way of doing things.
It's not my business to question them. It's not their business to question me.

Just to hazard a guess... they have traditional spiked clubs that they use. I imagine that some may have been passed down from grandfather to father to son, and they are not wealthy.... cheaper then blowing .303 ammo, or ammo for whatever rifles they have or don't have.

I take it you also hate fisherman, hunters of all types, ranching, chicken farms and the like. Likely you despise those vegans that kill plants. And what about those awful forestry workers that chop down trees.

But HD radios cost a whole lot more than the $40-$70 DTV converter boxes.
Many or most of which have an audio output. All somebody needs to do is come up with a boombox.

There's something like 19 million bits per second in an ATSC transmission.
They could spare the 300-500 thousand bits per second per audio channel for several "stations" and not even notice it. And that's a lot more bits (and fidelity) than what an IBOC channel can spew).

They already do this in the UK with their DVB-T networks.

- That would be Prez "BHO" !

Cuhulin - Now Think About It :

The Liberal Media can Name Him Barack "_" Obama and intentionally 'ommit' his Legal Middle Birth Name of
"Hussein"

But what then will the Liberal Media Do when it comes to putting his Initials into Play in the Head-Lines
"B_O" -or- "BO" does not have the same 'Feel' {Smell}
as : FDR, JFK, or LBJ.

Who in "The Press" will be the first to Break the "BO" Taboo and use "BO" in a HeadLine ? Will "BO" made the News when "BO" is used.

? Will Prez "BO" has a negative meaning an imply Presidential BO {Body Odor} ?

? Will the "BO" Adminisitration give new meaning to what is wrong with Washington ?

BO Plans Trip to Europe.

BO Visits Disaster Area.

BO Wins a Second Term !

So that is why - I say they will be using "BHO" without ever mentioning : What The "H" - The "H" Is All About !

And for some Tax Payers His Initials will be a slighly different meaning BOh as in :

Bend Over -here- I Comes Again . . .

The Day After the Election - Will You Read :
Barack Obama Wins the Presidency
- "BO" To Take Over The White House in 2009 !

yes it's 'bo' - and that is something to think about ~ RHF

In the end, they are probaly so close that IMHO, you should consider the ergonomics and other "features". The ICOM is based upon a long line of radios and has the ergonomics of a radio, e.g. lots of knobs and switches.

The Drakeis based more upon their line of satellite TV receivers and while it has the perfomance from a long line of high quality communications equipment, it has the ergonmics of a modern TV receiver. E.g. lots of buttons and indicators.

I prefer the older style ergonmics, you might prefer the modern style. If you plan to control the radio via a computer, the Drake allows you to control more functions, the ICOM less. The ICOM needs an RS-232 to TTL converter, the Drake has an RS-232 port in it already.

As for reliability, the ICOM has one "gotcha". The programing for the microprocessor is loaded into battery backed up RAM, instead of EPROM. Eventually the battery dies and the radio has to go back to ICOM for reprograming. Until then the radio is unusable. You can buy a third party upgrade kit which replaces the RAM with an EPROM.

Just to stir things up, I suggest that you also consider the Kenwood R-5000 too.

Geoff.

I happen to love both Canada and the U.S. Over my lifetime I have spent a lot of time in both countries and have relatives in both.
Canadian citizens and U.S. citizens.....
I feel at home in either country.
I would have no trouble defending either country as well. My cousin's son is in the U.S. navy on a Los Angeles class sub. they live in Pennsylvania.
My oldest boy is in the Canadian Army..... My father was an officer in the Canadian Army.
I have relatives in Santa Rosa California who have served in the U.S. military. (Only met them once.,... years ago at my grandmothers funeral)

Mixed up family..... go ahead and say it....

3234. ibiquity Uses Misleading Analogy Comparing FM to HD - Setting the Record Straight

I keep hearing how HD radio is like the advent of FM. This implies a fundamental misunderstanding. For Ibiquity to use this analogy is purposely misleading.

FM didn't replace or displace any existing technology like HD radio does. If that had been the case then AM broadcasting would not be around today. To compare FM to Ibiquitys monopoly on digital radio is foolishness. FM added value. The Ibiquity system does not. It adds nothing that isn't currently available.

It does obsolete millions of existing radios and destroys existing broadcast services. Now how is that like FM?

DX Ace,

It is an 'odd' act of rejection for someone who claims to R71A was the benchmark for many years. It was the standard receiver used by three-letter agencies for monitoring. It even found its way into the military. Sensitivity is good. Selectivity can be exceptional, and when working crowded bands for a contact deep in the noise, there are few that are it's rival.

In stock form.

For hobbyists, not so hot. Audio is poor, and like most rigs built for professional users, it really doesn't deliver it's best performance without a superb antenna. Don't misunderstand...most any antenna will get you going, and performance will be very good. But to get the best out of R-71, you really need as professional an antenna and transmission system as the agenicies for which it was built.

That said, you can still find an array of filters for it, ceramic, crystal and mechanical. Ergonomics are reasonably good, with most every function on its own switch. And, in the hands of someone who knows what they're doing, it's quite the cannon. Even on a random wire.

R-71 does not have a few of the more luxurient features that some in the hobby consider essential, today.

Drake R8B was built more in line with today's hobbycraft users' needs. Again, don't get me wrong...it's a very high performance receiver....but it's not intended for the kind of installation you'd encounter on a hidden island where men-in-black are listening to racks of receivers for the clandestine, untoward, and subversive. R8B has a cleaner layout than R-71, with much more luxurient features, ear pleasing audio, and ergonomics more in line with the needs of a less military user.

Side by side, the Drake will be more pleasant to operate for long periods of time than R-71. And on simpler antennae will produce the same or better results.

I had an R71 for many years, and still miss it, today. And R8B wasn't around when I bought mine.

But, if I were looking for a heavy hitting receiver, today, and those were my choices, I'd probably have more inclined toward R8B.

Widening the field abit, I'd recommend looking also at AOR's AR-7030+, Palstar's R30 (and its variants), Ten-Tec's RX-320D, RX-350, RX-340, and if you can find them, Lowe's HF-150, HF-225, and HF-250. Though HF-150 isn't in quite the same class as the others. Basic, small...but its lack of features is more than offset by it's potent performance.

Mono FM Radio was touted as "Static Free" AM Radio

- This implies a fundamental misunderstanding.

Yes yours is a "fundamental misunderstanding" of iBiquity's intent and use of the Analogy.

- For Ibiquity to use this analogy is purposely misleading.

No iBiquity used the Analogy very selectively and you are

FM Radio attempted to supplant AM Radio as the Dominate

THE BIG LIE - In-Band On Channel (IBOC) by iBiquity is by

I once owned a Yaesu FRG-7700 from Gilfer. What is interesting is that when I had some serious noise issues here, a fellow from our now defunct FCC Monitoring station south of here showed up with what I guess would be their 'covert' vehicle, and it had a FRG-7700 in kind of a rack on the passenger side.

There are Seals in Alaska too, I wouldn't doubt some of them get shot or clubbed in the head.I dont know for sure, but I think every U.S.State or almost all of them have some Deer, lots of them.Mississippi has an annual Deer Hunting season, po little Bambis are off limits though.

Every once in a while I see a funny Dallas Auto Painting & Collision Body Repair commercial on tv.(Rick Dallas owns that auto painting and body repair shop in Ridgeland,Mississippi.Ridgeland is a suburb city, North side of Jackson in Madison County) What it is, two Deer are riding along in a car out in the country at night time, one of the Deer is driving the car.They see a naked man (of course he has pants on, but you can't see that in the tv commercial) standing in the middle of the road, stareing at the headlights.Suddenly, the naked man darts off the road and into the bushes.The Deer that is driving the car says to the other Deer,,,, It's almost like they want to get hit!

It served me well and then I bought a Drake R7 in 1984. I used them both for a few years, then I got the Kenwood R-5000 and sold the Yaesu.

I had some better filters installed in the '7700 from Gilfer, and I certainly heard a lot of stations on it. I guess what got me back into the hobby back in '82 or so was the digital readout.

That was certainly ground breaking territory, back then. And a lot of kids I knew were drawn to the hobby because of it. I was still using a Hammarlund BC-794 Super Pro that I'd aligned within an inch of its life.
Finding frequencies, even with the analog dials, was a snap. Still, it turned off a lot of my friends, who were determined to go digital.

Of course, that was when the noise floor was low, and the bands were full of stations like WNYW. And BBC/WS was still largely an entertainment medium. So, that variable IF served me very well with some fine audio.

Except for the Hammar, and a couple of Nationals that I'm putting up for sale, everything else I've got has a digital readout. Digital readouts aren't as fun as spinning the analog dials. But the rigs today are a whole lot easier to work.

No kidding. An entirely new level of monitoring was possible. Which led me into providing audio of international broadcasts for News.

Plug in the freq. and > either they were there or not, what fun!

Yep. And you could set up and trap stations as they were coming on.
No more hunting for one station while keepng an ear on another. Miss nothing.

I bought a Switchcraft router out of a stereo store, and set up my shack with several reel recorders. If something interesting broke, I could route to a waiting recorder with the punch of a couple of buttons, without disturbing what was being recorded elsewhere.

I did it for about 30 years. Started in the 50's, as a kid. I was saying something to someone at one of the TV stations and someone from the News department came over and asked where I was getting my information.

So, I showed him my radio at the house. Mostly, I just listened to whatever I found. If something interesting would come up, I'd tape it.
And then, I started getting calls asking if I'd heard anything about such-and-such, and it mushroomed from there.

The hardest day was when Bob Collins died. I knew Bob. Was listening to Waukegan traffic that day. I knew his voice. I knew he was up. I heard the distress call...and the final, "We're going in."

I knew what had happened. And I was working for CBS at the time.
But, FAA, NTSB and the state and local agencies all have protocols for how information is disseminated. So, I had to decide whether to honor my obligation to CBS, or to let the agencies do their jobs.

I took the phone off the hook, and let the story work its way through channels according to procedures. Took quite a dressing down, but God forbid it should happen again, I'd do it the same way.

I've never made a lot of money monitoring for news. But, it did pay for some of my better radios. And a really nice motorcycle.

I quit providing for most news operations when what I was giving them hit the air twisted into something that served more political goals then journalistic obligations. I still do it from time to time. Mostly on request. But only for small operations.

- - Joe,
- -
- - You just point-out one of the two natural Killer-Apps for
- - FM HD Radio's HD-2 Channels : TV Audio {Sound} !

- But HD radios cost a whole lot more than the $40-$70
- DTV converter boxes.

That is True.

- Many or most of which have an audio output.

That is True.

Currently I using a Comcast Cable Set-Top-Box and it's extra set of Audio Outputs to Fill-the-Room with 40 Channels of Digital Stereo Sound using a 2.1 Set of Self-Powered Speakers.

Altec Lansing VS2421 3-Piece Multimedia Speaker System
http://www.walmart.com/catalog/product.do?product_id=8154598 Using an L&R RCA "Y" Adapter to 1/8" Stereo Plug.

- All somebody needs to do is come up with a boombox.

Actually a Set of Self-Powered Speakers will do nicely for use in one Room.

-Or- amd FM-Stereo Transmitter for the Whole House effect.

- There's something like 19 million bits per second in an
- ATSC transmission.

Wow that many - I had no idea.

- They could spare the 300-500 thousand bits per second per
- audio channel for several "stations" and not even notice it.

Yes that could/would work.

- And that's a lot more bits (and fidelity) than what an IBOC
- channel can spew).

=BUT= The object of my post was using the HD-2 Audio Channels of the new FM HD-Radios as a method of Re-Broadcasting TV-Audio-Sound to each and every AM/FM HD-Radio :
1 - In the Home
2 - At Work / In the Office
3 - In the Car & Truck
4 - Portable "Pocket" Radio
4 - Portable "Headphone / EarBud" Radio
- - - and the ATSC HDTV Set-Top-Box can't presently do all that. Maybe in the future -but- not now.

- They already do this in the UK with their DVB-T networks.

MZ - Can't Argue with you ATSC -aka- HDTV is far superior to so-called HD-Radio. ~ RHF

Radio has lost the battle to TV for being the # 1 Media Choice by the time of the first Color TVs and has been TV's second fiddle for more than about 50 Years.

With all the New Media Choises Radio may well be # 3 now.

=BUT= Whether Radio is # 2 or # 3 : Radio Has To Be All That It Can Be : Even -if- It means putting TV-Sound on the HD-2 Channels of the new FM HD Radio Stations.

IBOC : The Killer-App for FM "HD" Radio's HD-2 Channels
http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.shortwave/msg/08e05095a43bec7b
=PS= The 'other' Killer-App for the FM HD Radio Stations
is a No Brainer Too. It is already being done on a small scale -and- IF done on a Large Scale with the FCC's Approval : Could change the face of Radio Boradcasting in the USA.

- This isn't hard to understand. This is a two part term, which refers to
- the type of transformer. "BAL" refers to balanced and "UN" refers to
- unbalanced so the possibilities are BALBAL, UNUN, or BALUN.
- A long wire is unbalanced and a coax is unbalanced so the transformer
- type you would use is a UNUN. If you had a dipole, which is balanced
- connected to a coax you would use a BALUN.

Dang "Cato",

I am just "M II"ing You - Trashing Canada and Bashing Canadians like "M II" and a few other Canadians do to the USA and Americans here just about every-other-day.

You know you reacted to my Post : Just like many of the Way It Should Be.

Be Proud To Be A Canadian : I Am Proud To Be An American.

Keep up the good work. Suggestion: Check out the

- That would be Prez "BHO" !

Cuhulin - Now Think About It :

The Liberal Media can Name Him Barack "_" Obama
and intentionally 'ommit' his Legal Middle Birth Name of
"Hussein"

But what then will the Liberal Media Do when it comes to putting his Initials into Play in the Head-Lines
"B_O" -or- "BO" does not have the same 'Feel' {Smell}
as : FDR, JFK, or LBJ.

Who in "The Press" will be the first to Break the "BO" Taboo

? Will Prez "BO" has a negative meaning an imply

BO Plans Trip to Europe.

BO Visits Disaster Area.

BO Wins a Second Term !

The Icom IC-7700 arrived last week at the main dealer/distributor in South Africa but has been embargoed for delivery to customers by Icom Japan. Apparently due to some fault found in initial deliveries in the U.S.A.

I will not be buying it anymore though as their pre-arrival estimated price of $4285 has now ballooned to US$8,000 (including 14% VAT). That's a lot more than I am prepared to pay for that radio.

So I am looking at an Elecraft K3 or Perseus SDR instead.

Do you think he could kill more people cheaper then than Bush?

$2 trillion / 1 million war related deaths = $2000/per person.

If he can do it cheaper, we can lower taxes!

I think the only hope for republicants is to continue to eliminate

I've seen some homebrew programming for the R8B. I wouldn't exactly call it a friendly interface.

It's funny that the AR7030+ was shown to be canceled in Japan via a post to this forum, but the news never really made it elsewhere. Anyway, I'd take a 7030+ over a used R8B, but I can handle menus.

Pro gear nearly always chooses high dynamic range over sensitivity. The assumption is you will have serious iron on the front end or a preamp. I got in the mood to do some antenna building a week ago and increased the size of my "indoor" loop for my Wellbrook ALA100 to 20ft (6ft x 4ft; eating up a bit of a spare room.) It now forces a few more local MW station to turn on the attenuator in the old 7030, but no overload problems. I've use 67ft of wire on the ALA100 when in the boonies, but I can't vouch for how the radio would work in an urban area, i.e. MW overload. However, it was just silly how well the set up could pick up NDBs in the daylight. I was in Nevada and picking up Canadian beacons.

There really should be more emphasis on antennas versus the radio.

Back to the Drake, if you have button mania, wouldn't an older R8A (crappy sync) and an external synchro demod be another option? I read about Sherwood's being hooked up to the R8. I never heard or saw this in the flesh.

M...Sushi - Ditto That !

But a very good Shortwave Radio / Receiver can sit-on a Desk-Top; and with few exceptions Real Antennas take up a lot of Real Estate and can cost some Big Bucks themselves to put into the Air.

If the power to the "wall wart" goes out do the batteries automatically take over in the Sony?
Actual AC input was a feature of the KA2100 that was important in my application. The KA2100 also has an input jack for a wall wart but it is not supplied with the unit and for what I need, not useful anyway.

Read the reviews on Radiointel.com and Eham. My suggestion would be a receiver not on that list - the Degen DE1103.

Prime time is an anachronism. Obsolete concept, as it were.

Dear Sir,

I am an SWL with fifty years experience. I have owned several portable shortwave portables over the years and the best one is the Sony ICF-SW7600GR. I now own five (5) of them; the other shortwave portables I own which are currently in use are two (2) Sony ICF-SW35s (which I keep in the glove compartments of our cars for use "whenever").

The quality of construction of the '7600 is the best of any shortwave portable I have seen and this is borne out by the fact that my oldest '7600GR was purchased in 2001 and still functions as new, as do my other, newer, ones. (So do my older Sony ICF-SW7600Gs - purchased in 1998 and 2000 but which are now put away, as the 'GR is superior.)

The disadvantages of this model are well-known: no tuning knob (but, frankly, I have little patience with most tuning knobs on portable SW radios with their raised "pips" as opposed to speed dimples), mediocre sound quality with music (perfectly fine sound quality with voice, however), and no AC power supply in the package.

With the exception of the tuning knob "problem," the others can be easily resolved. You can buy external amplified computer speakers for about $20.00 which will render music sound quality just fine (or you can buy a $10.00 audio cable and run the sound from the radio's line output to your audio system; the sound through headphones is excellent) and you can buy an external AC power supply at any Radio Shack (their model 273-025 along with the free Adapt-a-Plug model "B").

With regard to that power supply I should like to comment on a question posted here:

"If the power to the "wall wart" goes out do the batteries automatically take over in the Sony?"

Yes they do. The reverse is not the case, however. If the AC power is restored, you must manually turn on the radio again.

You should pay no more than $150.00 for a new Sony ICF-SW7600GR. Overall, I feel it is the very best compact shortwave portable radio available new.

Best,

Joe

3276. Panaxis ACC100 Part 15 FM Transmitter Frequency Selection and Minimum Separation

I have a Panaxis ACC100 low power transmitter that I want to use on my farm to rebroadcast audio so that I can tune it on other FM radios in the house, barn, garage, etc. I am wondering how much frequency separation I need if I re-broadcast an FM station. For example, if I decided to re-broadcast a station that I can only hear with my external antenna, is 200 kHz of separation enough? For example, say I wanted to receive 88.1 mHz on a receiver with an external antenna and re-broadcast it on the Panaxis on 87.9 mHz, is that enough separation? The reason I am thinking of transmitting on 87.9 mHz is becasue most of my radio around the house will tune down that low, but most won't tune much further down than that.

J&D Schnoor,

The thing usually is to find an FM Channel assignment in your 'local area' that is NOT Assigned to an FM Radio Station : So that you are not causing any Interference to any of them -or- Your Neighbors.

Check-Out this Webpage and Link
! Find Un-Used Frequencies on the FM Radio Dial !
http://www.radio-locator.com/cgi-bin/vacant

This is a feature on the Radio-Locator website.
RADIO LOCATOR - http://www.radio-locator.com/

EXAMPLE - For Zip Code 95383 + State CA :
We Found 39 Vacant Frequencies on the FM Radio
Dial in 95383 (Twain Harte, California).

http://www.radio-locator.com/cgi-bin/vacant?select=city&city=95383&state=CA&x=13&y=3

The Graph on the Result's webpage Shows the Predicted Signal Strength at each Frequency on the FM Radio Dial.
Red indicates a Strong Signal,
Green indicates a Weak Signal.

Read the Attention Note at the bottom of the webpage.
ATTENTION : Before Transmitting on an FM Frequency, always Check to see if the FM Radio Channel is truly Vacant by Listening with an FM Radio. Your Audio Device will work best on an Empty FM Radio Channel and you will be less likely to cause Interference with 'other' People's FM Radio Reception.

Most web radio stations are 128 kb/s or less. Double that should be plenty for a shitty transport layer like mobile radio transmission.

As an atheist, I find your argument humorous as can be. Allah and God are the same monotheistic fantasycrap. They are both total bullshit. Anybody who believes in either one has defective DNA and should be removed from the gene pool. I hope y'all kill off each other so the rest of us can get on with our lives.

It won't work. You need at least 4 or 5 channels of separation.

Ah, but the Wellbrook ALA 100 and a roll your own loop is pretty compact. Granted with the weak dollar, a Wellbrook ALA 100 costs more than some radios. To this day the Bushies claim they don't have a weak dollar policy. Here is the latest from the WSJ:
http://online.wsj.com/article/SB120519657936325885.html?mod=googlenews_wsj
This really sucks because much shortwave gear is imported, and there are no domestic substitutes.

Here is an example where the loop worked really well. A few weeks ago
I was checking out the local TIStations and heard a bible thumper mixing with one. I'm not much for logging, but I wrote this one down.
The TIS was on 1620. I rotated the loop to null the local TIS and got KSMH out of Sacto. This is from the south SF Bay.
http://www.ihradio.org/

You don't need a Kiwa to get a deep null. The ALA 100 does just fine.
I have a small 2ft on a side loop I use for DFIng. Try nulling with a long wire. Ain't gonna happen.

Sadly all the lovely mint condition boatanchors had to go under instructions from the ball and chain.

The magnificent Eddystone 940 that is just superb on MW, with it's magnificently engineered tuning wheel, went to my DX pal Gary Deacon in Cape Town. He also got a very nice Hallicrafter's SX-100 from me.

The lovely imbuia solid wood GE radogram from the 50's went to a local ham here in Montagu.

They all went for free as there is no markt for them in South Africa, although they fetch high prices on eBay in the U.S. and UK.

3291. CANADA'S LONG HISTORY OF ECOLOGICAL DESTRUCTION & LIES

From http://www.canadiansealhunt.com/canadadestroying.html

Seeing beyond the misinformation & Canadian ecological destruction:

Canada has a proven history of neglecting the environment & of ignoring valid scientific information. The Canadian government claims that a wild population of a species is healthy until the moment that harvesting is no longer profitable. It is only after the economical advantage of a hunt is lost and that the population is decimated that the government chooses to protect an endangered species.

Beluga Whales - In 1982 Canada left the IWC which is the International Whaling Commission. The Canadian government had been repeatedly warned about the unsustainability of whaling, yet the government neglected to stop this practice.

As taken from the Government of Canada's website below are statistics about the 'harvest' of Beluga whales.

The total cumulative numbers of belugas caught for commercial purposes, uncorrected for sunk animals, were about:

9,000 in western Hudson Bay (1949-1970);

9,900 in eastern Hudson Bay (1752-1916);

14,500 in the St. Lawrence Estuary (1868-1960).

The current population of Belugas in the St Lawrence Estuary is approximately 1000 which is less than 10% of the original population prior to whaling. 1000 is far from a healthy population size, especially considering that Belugas are one of the most susceptible species to environmental pollution. Many whales have to be disposed of as toxic waste due to the high level of pesticide and chemical contamination.

The Hudson Bay area fared a little better, the current population there is estimated to be 25000. This still means that 50% of the population in this area was wiped out.

The global Beluga population has been listed as vulnerable on the IUCN Red List of Threatened species since 1994. Yet Canada still allows 800 Beluga whales to be harvested annually by aboriginals. This is why Canada is one of the few developed countries that is not a member of the IWC.

Clearly Canada has failed Beluga whales, but Belugas have been lucky compared to other whales.

Humpback Whales - 'These giants of the deep are slow swimmers--making them easy targets for whalers in the first half of the 20th century. They were killed by the thousands for their blubber. Now protected, humpback populations have grown to nearly 20,000 worldwide--about 20 percent of their original numbers. Roughly 2,000 live in the northern Pacific today. But the protections must be maintained to ensure the long-term survival of this majestic species.'

The above quote has been taken from the government of Canada's website. What the government of Canada's website buries near the bottom of its page is that Humpbacks had been protected by the IWC since 1955, regardless of this the Canadian government continued to allow humpback whaling for an additional 10 years. This was 10 years after world opinion had indicated that the Humpback was endangered and should be protected at all cost. Whaling did not cease until 1965. The population was so low that it was not economically feasible to continue whaling this species.

Fin Whales - At least 7605 fin whales were taken by the province of British Columbia between 1908 and 1967.Fin whales dine primarily on Capelin Stock which is a fish species that crashed in the 1980s due to over fishing. On the eastern side of Canada the 'harvestable' population near Nova Scotia was 1600 animals in 1964. In 1973 it was reported that only 325 members still survived in this area.

Before whaling the North Pacific Fin Whale population was estimated at 45000. By 1975 this number declined to 8000.The fin whale is now highly endangered and is protected under the Species at Risk Act (SARA)

Other Whales - The whales listed above are some of the healthiest in population. Blue Whales at one time numbered 200 000 in the worlds ocean. Canada helped to reduce this number to 6000. Canada also participated in the hunting of the Right Whale, Bowhead Whale, Gray Whale, Sei Whale, Minke Whale, Killer Whale (also known as Orca Whale) and other whales. Clearly the point has been made that Canada practiced whaling until it was impossible to continue doing so.

Polar Bears - The polar bear population is threatened by global warming. This is due to melting ice. Canada has refused to sign the Kyoto protocol which would commit them to lowering the emission of greenhouse gases. Polar bears also suffer from high levels of PCBs and other chemical pollution. Canada has refused to effectively monitor corporations and force them to reduce the level of pollution and chemicals that are released.

Canada sells up to 700 polar bear hunting licenses annually. These are sold to trophy hunters. The meat is not used. The sole purpose of the hunt is for a trophy, and this only serves the very wealthy and the Canadian government in collecting additional taxes. (For more information concerning this please visit our sister website (Stop Polar Bear Hunting) The current polar bear population is estimated to be as low as 22 000 which classifies this species as 'threatened'. It's not until this species becomes endangered that the hunting quotas will be reduced. Canada likes to wait until a species is nearly extinct prior to taking protective action.

Other Species - According to the committee on the status of endangered wildlife in Canada, there are currently 516 plant and animal species at risk in Canada. Another 13 species are all ready extinct. Canada does nothing to halt the spread of pollution, to prevent ongoing habitat loss, or to attempt to reverse climate change. One of the major factors behind many species in Canada becoming endangered is due to over harvesting and excessive trade.

Over Harvesting - Once plentiful due to over harvesting these species are now extinct: Passenger Pigeon, Great Auk, & Eskimo Curlew.

Harp Seals - Canada claims that the seal hunt is needed otherwise the seal population will grow out of control. This is the same rhetoric that is used for hunting deer, and any wild population. Truth is Canada ignores reports that are economically counter productive. Reports about the collapse of the cod industry were predicted 30 years in advance, but these reports were ignored. If there is an endangered species in Canada, odds are this species was hunted for economical purposes

An over population of seals oddly enough was never considered a problem until it was discovered that 'culling' the seals could be profitable. The seals are not used for food. No one eats seals in Canada except for aboriginals, and they hunt their own seal and have nothing to do with the commercial seal hunt. Sealers like to bring up the the fact that aboriginals eat seals to confuse people. They pretend that aboriginals and the commercial seal hunt are the same. They are not. We are not opposing aboriginal seal hunting, nor are any of the environmental organizations listed on this website.

When Canada was discovered there was an estimated seal population of 30 million. The most optimistic estimate of the current population numbers it at less than 20% of that. If this is the case then the overpopulation reasoning is a hoax. Who decides what a population should be? Is 500 million humans too many? What about 6.5 billion? The human population is predicted to hit 9 billion in 2050. Assuming there is an 'out of control' seal population of 5 million which is a very optimistic number that is thrown around by sealers, then what of it? The web of life is interconnected, predators and a healthy environment will work to keep a population in check without human intervention. The intervention of the Canadian government in the past has caused nothing but endangered and extinct species. A more reasonable estimate is that the population is at 2 million.

In Summary - The Canadian government with the aid of sealers likes to misuse information. They throw words around like aboriginals, sustainability, and culling in order to confuse the public and to distract them from the fact that the seal hunt is simply there to earn money. It is politically popular in Eastern Canada to hunt seals. To oppose this hunt or to pass legislation against it would lose votes. For people who hunt and for their families this is a voting issue. For the rest of Canada it isn't.

Commercial sealers do not consume seal meat. They are not aboriginals. They do not live traditionally. They live like the rest of North Americans. They have houses, garages, automobiles, and super markets. The idea that they are protecting a way of life is foolish. The idea that they need to make a living is ridiculous. They have the same opportunities as anyone else. You can bet if the whale population was high they would continue to practice whaling, or if the polar bear still survived in that area of Canada they would continue to hunt it.

One argument of desperation that they like to use is the following. Apparently environmental organizations like to publicize the seal hunt in order to collect donations. It should be noted that all of the reputable organizations are run by individuals who are committed to saving wild populations and ending needless animal suffering. They would love for this issue to be over with, there's other problems such as polar bear hunting, whaling, endangered wild cats, the loss of rain forests, pollution, road side zoos, and bear farming, to worry about.

Sealing is done for one reason and one reason only. Greed. Sealers hunt seals to earn money. The seal is used exclusively for the fashion industry. New products are subsidized by the Canadian government but these are never profitable. One example would be seal oil capsules. Seal pelts are sold to high end fashion houses. Seals are killed for money and for fashion. Any mention of culling, aboriginals, traditional life, and eating are simply invalid arguments.

People are always willing to believe that an atrocity is reasonable if it happens in their backyard. Sealers believe it's all right to kill seals for fashion because they need to make a living. Kenyans also believe that it's all right to kill elephants for money, Rwandans believe it's all right to kill Mountain Gorilla's because they need to earn a living, and the Japanese believes it's all right to hunt whales for money. There's a trend here and the above examples could go on for pages. The main difference is that Canada is one of the most developed and wealthy countries in the world and there is no need for savagery.

Please visit our organizations page http://www.canadiansealhunt.com/organizations.html and consider joining and donating money to one of the many committed charities that we list. We strongly believe in all of the organizations that are listed. We are obviously not doing this for money. There is no advertising on this website. We are not affiliated with any organization. Like millions of concerned global citizens, we simply believe in making the world a better place.

I was looking for them since 0:00 UTC. The DRM crap signal was coming in just fine on 15,720. Looks like they when to the summer schedule today because I have them on 13,840.

If your favorite station seems to be missing in action look at the summer schedules.

Sadly all the lovely mint condition boatanchors had to go under instructions from the ball and chain.

The magnificent Eddystone 940 that is just superb on MW, with it's magnificently engineered tuning wheel, went to my DX pal Gary Deacon in Cape Town. He also got a very nice Hallicrafter's SX-100 from me.

I first started tuning shortwave radios when I was a kid 50 years ago, and the first receiver I ever tuned was my fathers SX-100. My fathers expression, way back then was "Tuning around." He passed away still passionate about SW listening and never said "DXing" or anything but "Tuning Around." I still say that to myslef when I sit down at my radio bench..."Time to tune around." I'd love to tune an SX-100 again, that's a fine memory. Thank's for reminding me.

The lovely imbuia solid wood GE radogram from the 50's went to a local ham here in Montagu.

They all went for free as there is no markt for them in South Africa,
although they fetch high prices on eBay in the U.S. and UK.

John Plimmer, Montagu, South Africa.

I agree that the DE1103 is quite a receiver for the money. I haven't used the 2100, but I understand it performs very well on MW and broadcast shortwave.

It could be that you got a dud 2100.

I may have issues with some Canucks, but somehow I don't feel as though it's a good idea to revel in a boat accident.

The FRG-7 is a good radio out of the box, but it is even better after two mods.
The first one is bypassing the signal chain that has the MW attenuator. Simple rerouting of the input signal to the unused contact of the preselector switch that is associated with the MW range does the trick. After that, you can use either the 50 Ohm antenna input or the high Z jack. The MW antenna jack is no longer used.
The second mod is to bump up the gain in the 455kHz I.F. strip a bit. Yaesu uses a partially bypassed common emtiier configuration for the two 455kHz I.F. amplifiers. This consists of using two series resistors for the emitter return instead of only a single resistor. The bottom (cold) resistor is the only one that is bypassed. The reason for this is to introduce some negative feedback for stability. Since this device is running at such low gain in the first place, instability isn't really a factor. They may have run into gain variations from batch to batch, so this was one way of providing consistant gain.
If you want extra gain, simply connect the bypass capacitor from emitter to ground. This puts the emitter at AC ground.....the gain equation now changes. Instead of the gain being Rc / Re, is now becomes Rc / Re'.
A simple way to calculate Re' is by using the formula [25mV / Ie]. This is usually 25 Ohms or less, depending on the emitter current that the device is running at. A good way to get some extra gain without disturbing the DC operating point of the device. Thermal stability is unaffected.
Gain of the receiver is similar to an Icom R-75 or a Drake R7 after this mod, and MW sensitivity is as good as the best out there.

I know what you meain.....gone are the days of tracking front ends, or tunable preselectors that are integrated within the receiver itself.
I have an old Grundig Satellit 210 and Satellit 3400. Both of those units use Variometer tracking for the lower single conversion bands, while the dual conversion SW ranges use a 3-gang tuning capacitor. Even the trimmer capacitors are high stability ceramic types that you typically see in Hewlett Packard test equipment. Very good long term stability.
Upconversion types of front ends with input bandpass filters are fine, as long as PIN diodes or relays are used for input filter switching.....and as long as the 1st mixer has good multitone characteristics. It is almost as if somebody forgot how to use good quality components. With the price of the SD5000 series of Quad FET mixers down to the under 4 dollar range, there isn't much of an excuse to not be using them in new designs that are selling for the 200 dollar plus range.
Mini-Circuits even has the LAVI-XXX series of mixers that have an IP3 in the +40dBm range. I characterized some of these devices when I was working as a consultant at Motorola a couple of years ago. These things only get better as time goes on.
Interesting post!

I agree with the dual conversion approach. If a high enough 1st I.F. is used, a 33MHz low-pass filter can eliminate that upper sideband image response from the 1st mixer.
There is at least one mixer spur program available as a free download from RF Cafe. It is an older one called RF Workbence.
It is interesting to look at a spur chart, and see how high-side injection generally has fewer in-band spurs than low-side injection. I know.............there are some rare exceptions!

You NEVER choose a 3rd order product as the desired signal. You choose either the upper sideband or the lower sideband output of the mixer.....the undesired sideband is commonly called the image. 3rd order products are a different story.....it is not a matter of semantics in this case.

3rd order products will occur in a mixer, but I haven't ever seen a case where they would be desirable.

Hey dxAce....as we know, there are assholes in every country of the world. Just the way it is. You may have reasons for having issues with some of us Canucks, and we might have reasons for some issues with some Americans.
But all in all, most of the Americans I know are great people. I might have disagreement with someone's politics, or beliefs, but they have the freedom to believe what they want, just as you and I do. And I will support someone's right to believe what they want, even if I disagree. As long as their belief does no harm to innocent people.
But when someone starts to find happiness in the deaths of others ,,,and I don't care whether it's Canadians or Americans, or innocent people from whatever country.... I get pissed.
The only ones I might be happy to hear about being killed are terrorists like Abu Musab al-Zarqawi. I must admit.. I was really happy that you guys got him.... it was a great day......

"Taliban fighters are guilty of nothing but standing in defense

Canada's Mission in Afghanistan - March, 2008

John Manley - Former Canadian Deputy Prime Minister and Finance Minister
- Chair, Independent Panel on Canada's Future Role in Afghanistan

"The Taliban may have been a lot of things, but they weren't corrupt"

- speaking on bushite nazi forces abusing women and children, oppression Christians, stealing humanitarian aid, pushing heroin, and denying our children an education on who is TRULY good or evil. All the while, bombing our families indiscriminately as the demon antichrist forces responsible for the crimes of 911 in New York City. Bushite of the nazi air forces are enemies of Freedom for Americans. See the bushite, bill the bushite for We, the People, is the truth, the light, the way. A bushite nazi soldier who refuses to phone Coast to Coast talk radio to demand Americans support the public arrest of General Ahmad who financed the terror attacks of 911, is an enemy worth billing to defend our dying freedoms held in contempt by censorship. You can not find a single soldier on Earth to publicly support George W. Bush without immediately being recognized a traitor, a liar, an enemy of freedom for Democracy.

Taliban fighters are guilty of nothing but standing in defense of the innocent victims of 911. Bushite antichrist forces are the worst of religious fundamentalists. They refuse to arrest "judges" who order the bushite dumfuk to murder those who speak for women's rights through the Koran. They refuse to arrest "judges" who order bushite dumfuk to murder Christians guilty of nothing but respecting Mohammed.

/ / KBR's Tiger Team stayed at the five-star Kuwait Kempinski Hotel, where its members ran up a bill of more than $1 million. This outraged the army, whose troops were sleeping in tents at a cost of $1.39 a day. The army asked the Tiger Team to move into tents. It refused. \ \

See? KBR is now privately running hospital care for the dum-uk grunts, so, what would you expect but rat infestations?

Let honorable Soldiers know, who are the enemies that get them KILLED for demon lies. CBC, the BBC and CNN is the terrorist enemy by forbidding US, The People, from seeing the meaning of iron flowing like water from the towers, prior to the imminent collapse for the neocon traitors. As planned - boogahboogah. Just because they hang on the fact they are here to mislead ourselves for needless wars to die YOU for, doesn't make the criminal intent they publicly express unchallenged against Humanity, any less horrific in it's dupliciting of war crimes by smiling ~ 'unknowingly'. To go silent, is to except freedom to live denied.

Real Jews don't murder innocent people to steal their rights to Life for money.

Again, demonic zionists are ENEMIES of the Jewish faith. They lie to cheat at murder for money. Money paid for by American tax payers to murder innocent Christians, Jews, and Arabs. The pictures of zionist offspring, signing their nazi family name to cluster dud land mines, were FIRST used against Jewish northern communities in Lebanon! Way truth.|. yahduhyahduh.. Checkcheck. Johnny calling America! we have lift off with receivers, i think I got a connection.. Listen:

Freedom for America

George Norry, demon enemy of Freedom for America, must be demanded to allow open discussions on the fact that the war crimes committed against Iraqis, are crimes against US all. Crimes committed by the neocon traitor liars, who are 'escaping' responsibility for 911 also, as the true enemies of all Life and God to believe as Justice. Where's the reason for George Norry to be happy about godless tyranny destroying GOD'S undefended America I ask YOU?

/ / Just FIVE major U.S. banks control 97% of all the bank-held derivatives in the United States, a concentration of power and risk unsurpassed in the history of finance. \ \

/ / JPMorgan will take over Bear Stearns' $13.4 trillion contracts \ \

Understand this: JPMorgan received 13 TRILLION in derivatives by excepting the American tax payer gift of two hundred million, to take a billion dollar public building off our hands as 'the losers'. Then this: of all the billions in free tax monies given to the EXTREMELY wealthy [some are actual trillionaires] of the FIVE private banking industrialists, done to "bail out" America of this mortgage meltdown, none of that TAX money goes to the scammed home owners, who's costs have directly increased due to the transgressions of hedgers who privately take the real money for themselves escaping into the Cayman Islands, and leave US, the bogus credits to default on by disappearing public pensions, stock, ect... Example: where is the 13 TRILLION that JPMorgan inherited at the cost of more than 200 million American taxer played? How could a multi-millionaire stock holder of Bear Stearns lose all their money, if the company is still holding 77 trillion for public leveraging? What kind of bankruptcy of Enron book keeping is that where our loot is unfounded? "lost" to market forces? But JPMorgan inherits 13 trillion? Try FRAUD. Like did you know, Mr. Trillion Aires isn't even on the hook for covering the initial mortgaged loans of mortgaged loans? Or that, the Royal Bank of Canada popularly paid out .02% interest on Canadian savings accounts just for spite? 'Knowing' you don't even have the strength of conviction to raise your phone demanding fairness for our forsaken Worlds, because, for starters, CBC, CNN, with the BBC an George Norry ain't going to take our calls for free communications, for, the neocon zionists committed 911 with Bush's business partner General Ahmad to rob you all - and die our sons and daughters are, dying our sons and daughters are. Does George Norry really care?, do Americans even care?

/ / Hallburton subsidiary KBR told employees at a water injection plant in Iraq a sand-like substance scattered around the plant was just a "mild irritant," workers recall.

It turns out to be sodium dichromate -- a highly toxic chemical which can [as will] lead to cancer even with limited exposure. \ \

See? Bushite will kill bushite for a stolen nickel. Did these employees know their company robs from soldiers by charging themselves a $100.00 for a single bag of laundry?, or keep slaves to serve the nazi grunt yumyums? Or poison water supplies?, stealing oil revenues?, over billing America while Championing unchallenged by CNN Bush whores more needless wars to profit US further dying as innocent victims on? If the sacrifice of soldiers lives is going to mean anything, it going to mean how long it took, Americans to care for themselves as really worth saving.

ABCNEWS.com : FBI Called off Terror Investigations
http://abcnews.go.com/Primetime/Story?id=131907&page=1

Now think American: Why do you suppose this is anything else but treason involving the escape of the 911 terrorists? Obstruction of Justice is seriously criminal. Understand: CNN, CBC, and the BBC news producers know the neocon bushite committed 911, [I've told them myself] but refuse open debate through dialog to continue murdering ourselves. They are all of Humanity's true enemies by forbidding the knowledge to defend ourselves judicially. In Iraq, American tax payers pay the salaries of lawless mercenary goons who gun down our families at random for entertainment, and all they report is McCain unchallenged, that openly supporting lawlessness, torture and theft of Iraq, is the only way to war "al-Qaida". Not to arrest the guy who financed the 911 operation, General Ahmad, no, but to murder our innocent families by those at Guantanamo, who practice Satanic ceremonies to the demon Moloch. Maj. Gen. Geoffrey D. Miller. You can't make this up. Where is CNN celebs concern for soldiers who beat children to death for pleasure escaping unaccosted? CNN Heroes?, like those who murdered more than 200,000 innocent People in Fallujah for traitor Sattler? Fight back for Christ

Bushite who war Humanity for Bush are enemies of God as Love, attempting to escape those who actually committed 911, like General Ahmad. When a bushite bomber of the air forces die, all Creation celebrates the victory over lawless tyranny. A good bushite, is a dead bushite halted as a thief from murdering more of our innocent selves indiscriminately.

Where is Christ in Canada when CTV reports there is no evidence that mercury causes Autism?.. Not reported is that vaccines cause brain damage 100 percent of the time, because they contain mercury to poison YOUR child. Type 'mercury vaccine' in Google, and ask yourself, how can some paid hundreds of thousands of dollars in salary as a zionist "expert" miss such findings, along with thousands of corrective emails, as an openly confessed enemy of Love in Christ, as Justice for Life? Do you believe those of Israel's military, who purposefully targeted Jewish communities in Lebanon are anything but, enemies to Life as Love for God's Son the Messiah? Where is a love for Jews in Israel, where this issue of Zionists murdering Jews for money in Lebanon isn't on their front pages demanding Justice for Jews in Any Town, Universally? Better Right: Who are the actual Jews Here? - and what about this "God" business.. I mean, really..

These personal Usenet accounts closed by Google I've had for years. No debate was offered, no opportunity for me to even ask formally what the ungodly enemy of Life complained about, Why? Because the truth would have prevailed, and bush whore zionist enemies of God can't have free thoughts expressed by Man, for they would be understood in the streets by the Jews and Christians, arrested, tried, as prosecuted for lowly treason as enemies to Justice. For example: Condi, the zionist demon witch, dropped seven million land mines on more than 170 towns and villages in Lebanon to MASS MURDER our children indiscriminately for decades. Example two: Google has done nothing over zionist pirates who vandalize, every day of the year, page after page of alt.religion.islam, soc.culture.israel, and soc.culture.palestine from Earth's free speakers. EVERY DAY. A zionist enemy of CHRIST screams in joy over such crimes, as the silencing of the crying families going further unaddressed by CNN and CBC, who smile such denials, of my simple public demands to have the truth set US free naturally. FACT: Nazi Israel STEALS our Homes as the innocent forsaken by corporate news americans. Now, those criminals in Israel wish to steal my name also, further, as my, Johnny Wizard King of Earth thang - not so fast pilgrim.. I don't know who you think you are but, I am a good man, not a thief of Peoples lives. As Son to God Creator of the Heavens and Hell, my will has intent to defend life, as I am a fighter for Justice in all my Love resides Holy and Righteous.

YOU as my "American" listener, will be expected likewise as CNN and CBC has broadcasted You, to do nothing to defend your own child from their refusals to report the fact that mercury is a highly toxic heavy metal that harms all of God's children. and YOU, like FOXNEWS TRAITOR LIARS, will kill your own offspring before acknowledging our great strengths of character as unparalleled in wisdom, for the Ages We Are. Instead, "The Experts" of FOXNEWS and CNN, will tell US as deeply ignorant on subjects you know little of nothing about, they will tell US silently not to bother bushite CRIMINAL enemy of Humanity personally to defend our innocent selves, but instead, evil thought "Socialized Medicine"'ers, being total losers to Life and wiser folk by simply doing the math as ourselves. [Americans pay twice as much and get near half the coverage that Canadians do - !no middle men!.] It's all about talentless corporate multi-millionaire mercenary pirates, seeking our freedoms in America to die profitably, as they stand on the growing pile of rotting bodies, telling US all, we was right all along to do nothing for ourselves - like speak openly for Rights granted All in a Free Universe of Possibilities. Pick up your phone cowardly dying American, and demand Justice for 911, for, they could be You again. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad, and we have video of iron flowing like water from the towers. And... murder is illegal in all States. As just because the victim was an Iraqi child, casts their lives no less than any other of Humanity's Greatest.

Again, I, as the Son of Man born to GOD will remind ALL Americans, bushite have murdered more than a MILLION innocent people indiscriminately in Iraq, to thieve for the traitor neocon liars. Thousands of videos document those in the air force who target the murder of helpless children for example while chanting "whore yeh" in praise of the lawlessness to continue carnage against our better wills. Worth a death sentence by trial then firing squad, as blatant war criming traitors. Pick a Side: An innocent family?, or a UNARRESTED bush whore nazi rapist, a torturer and thief who believes some how Men of Earth do not exist to hunt them down with the Law of the Land for it. Not in Johnny World I'll tell you my friend, not in my world. Bushite are antichrist forces of evil who war GOD with supporting torture as our INNOCENT families of Humanity, all for the escape of the zionist neocons personally responsible for the demonic crimes of 911 going unadressed. Canadians will know, General Hillier has publicly pronounced Canadian Soldiers will not defend innocent people from being tortured to death under his criminal authority as enemy. Treason against Canada of the lowest order is what Hillier has spoken for himself cowardly. It's official: I am now in Command.

TOP ISSUES

The DEA has openly acknowledged that bushite in Afghanistan are pushing heroin into our streets. Innocent people are still being kidnapped by KNOWN bushite to be tortured as the Innocent to death. The 911 perpetrators such as Bush, Cheney, Condi, Myers with Rumsfeld and Ahmad, have still gone unarrested. Support my demands for national radio hosts like George Norry and Art Bell to allow US open discussion on these subjects, with open line callers to work ourselves through this struggle against lawless tyranny defeated with reason to be somebody worth the effort, or don't. George Norry has told US he's into killing kids, and going ballistic against any soldier who would refuse a criminal order given by neocon. A "great patriot" fighting the NWO?, or a traitor that to this day, happily watches Humanity be poisoned deliberately, and can't find the care to empower ourselves by simply allowing open line calls from real people who demand a halt to such extreme evil criminality passed off as foolish newsertainment?

I DEMAND OUR VOICE FOR AMERICA

I DEMAND nazi America respond to my Public calls on the fact there is no defense for the criminal war act of attacking Iraq. It is only through censorship, that bushite enemy of Life confuse the viewer. A so named "American" believes falsely as an idiot, Johnny Wizard's position must be challengeable with words, but it is not. Murdering People in Iraq does nothing to serve Justice, but is a criminal act against God and Man. We, The Free World forces had 100 percent access to go wherever we wished, without dropping a bomb, or shooting a child prior to the indiscriminate carnage that started the Iraqi war crimes. To murder in Iraq, in violation of America's War Crimes Law, UN Charter, and the Bible, LOWERS ANY, ANY, bullshit excuse for why American GIs cowardly sacrifice their lives today for the neocon zionist liars. It is only to thieve, rape, and murder an innocent other the bushite ENEMY chants "whore yah" over the willful indiscriminate bombings of our communities as the once civilized. Corporate America pirates "Freedom" by smiling in silence over bushite beating to death innocent children for pleasures. TV bushite hate the Blacks as leaving Katrina victims undefended with demands US whites think like they do absent any real care or love for life and God. Why? Because THEY'RE ugly rich. Like the Hedge Funders who still are paying themselves salaries with an obscene take of in around 1.5 billion a year in such "failures" of national management skills. They take from ALL disenfranchised being Talentlessly criminal as truly, the despicably evil. All TV nazi pundits at FOXNEWS and elsewhere will be publicly tried for war crimes. Taliban fighters are guilty of nothing but standing in defense of the innocent victims of 911. Today, in Afghanistan, bushite bomb and torture indiscriminately while oppressing women, Christians, and children, push heroin, and steal everybody's donated cash. Real Christians will bill enemy liar bushite for GOD and man until these undisputed truths are openly discussed with the facts in Our names. Death to the bushite torturers, rapists, and thieves, death to the enemies of a free America liberated from the tyranny of censorship.

TV NEWS CENSORS ARE OUR MORTAL ENEMIES

Did you hear! The Khadr team found a bushite manufacturing evidence in the military commissions trial. Death sentence for the bushite enemy, or will we instead silently except more crimes against ourselves as the innocent victims? Clearly, bushite are enemies of Freedom in America. We decide. Why must all Humanity die for TV America's contempt for Justice?, to not even fight for OUR dying rights, as if, My rights were theirs to steal. Support my demands for a real Public debate or die unworthy to the neocon's treachery.

HOCUS POCUS
* Only in America you Win 287 million where it really means 96 *

These TV experts on America, who refuse to defend American People from poisons in our foods, water, and vaccines, who just nazi lie and broadcast without challenge their top standings among themselves as sell-out corporate Bush whores, are the enemies of every living person who cares about counting votes to determine our real winners. Take a stand, be a man, dial the phone, your not dying alone. Help me.

God Damn the Corporate News American

I DEMAND a public debate with Americans on the FACT that George Walker Bush is a war criminal. Example to Humanity: the Iraq conflict has no cause. Period. Despite demon Bush repeatedly LYING that Saddam wouldn't let the inspectors in.

Saddam wasn't found in violation of 1441. VERDICT: No reason to murder more than a Million Innocent People indiscriminately to thieve from for the zionist neocons liars responsible for 911. Soldiers who war GOD for Mr. Bush are enemies of American Liberty, and deserve to die before the innocent they target as 'no cause' war criminals.

We can not be defeated, for we never have been even challenged on what is globally, well documented as indisputable. Support my continuing demands for open communications to benefit any as Justice for all. All war profiteers will be sought for prosecution as the worst of criminality. AEGIS, CACI, and Blackwater will pay with their worthless lives through public trials for first degree murdering our families never forsaken in my living forever name. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of Christ in America.

A New Life

A new life was brought into our world, and a bushite pondered that Heart, and threw it off a cliff for entertaining laughs. Laughs in knowing such action could make every child of Earth cry, that such action could make many American men feel helpless in knowing, such an enemy to Life, would dare steal the image of America as Once Great, risking itself continuing on with no more of a death threat than a small fine if anything. However. If we publicly demand the puppy killers be tried quickly for a tossing off a cliff for fairer sentencing, then the torturers and rapists might soon fear, they're never gonna get away from US either. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of God as our great Love for Liberty.

We shall Start with public demands for the formal arrest without bail of traitors Bush, Cheney, Condi, Rumsfeld and Myers for the crimes of 911.

As for our British Loves, call for the immediate public arrest of the con man Peter Power, as the probable cause for the 'al-Qaida' crimes of 7/7. Along with Ian and Tony Blair with their phony cop who was caught guilty for lying as our media over and over again, to then finally confess, he gunned down an innocent man for no 'known' good reason as an escaping MURDERER. And to never forget why the bushite will continue to die rightly: All for, The Queen's Best soldiers, who kidnapped barefooted children from Iraq to be beaten to death on prized video for their godless pleasure of hate for Justice

NEW GAME TO PRACTICE UP WITH

Turning Point: Fall of Liberty
http://www.gametrailers.com/game/5117.html

Boy, this new game is something, not just another, 'questions are stupid. lets just kill whomever-shoot-us-uppers', a computer game of life maybe worth the buy, if for only the reality concept..

New York City is over run by thieving bushite nazi savages, so you, as one of the few proud and brave of a, left to die leaderless, Corporated into lawlessness, America, give the bushite nazis, the real welcome they deserve with fire works. (As freedom killing terrorist liars, the blind to reason bushite always are. [unless seeking forgiveness for such cowardice]) Like it or not. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad, and we have video of iron flowing like water from the towers. And... murder is illegal.. So, DIE BUSHITE DIE by trial and jury we WILL stand for God and Country to defeat evil Nazi tyranny, guaranteed. It's written in the stars. Your paying for some crime. What are YOU good for? The Man says, Evidence is Everything. ..and a person accused of a criminal offense without any public evidence to surmise, is still innocent to anyone. Justice Will Rule when we know what true freedom is gained, by enforcing anti-torture in all cases, then actively hunting down, as Reagan's War Law States, the bushite personally responsible for crimes against Humanity in our stolen Names. We have the demon repuglicons who are voting on the support of torture as something other than TREASONOUS that excuses a murder of an innocent other, as godlessly sadistic. [For even the True Satanist, or True Atheist, would bill these grunting bushite torturers without even sweating about what's right or wrong. thinking.] Those censors like Rush Limbaugh or Shaun Hannity that refuse our wiser minds, do so because Freedom defeats them in seconds - to be the disturbing groveller to self destruction that they confess to be, hiding from nobody. However: In Johnny's America, they's not down burning in the fiery pits of hell symbolically to teach US all a valuable lesson, Theys got millions from us for "our" continual wanting of yet more mass murders as worst than any fictions since dreamt, and I, the Wisest Godman on Earth, instead of having Coast to Coast public interest, have mostly zionist crazed insults from extreme sexual dysfunctionals, offering to whore to a hundred and 50 something countries - just to fuk you up as lost again to the cause of Liberty. SEE? My critics can't criticize me on my facts, because we are truly dying here forsaking ourselves, truly dying as victims, because of the corporate media refusing to HONESTLY take our continuing challenges to report on. Look, CNN and FOXNEWS hosts have multi-million dollar salaries to cover nothing as important enough to honestly gauge US on, while I, I got hunger pangs feeding my growing costs. Support giving generously to me as my fledgling company, and soon, god willing, I'll be able to leastly afford myself a bus ticket with a tape recorder to get myself down to Washington DC, where I should be giving answers to the People whose questions have not as of yet, arrived from departure. Even with the speed of the Internet and everything, we are still putting harmful chemicals in our vaccines, foods and waters, that do nothing but kill us quicker. Stupid proved a million times over, or, no.. master genius of a new world order, whatever, it must stop, and it must stop now. But, not according to CNN, CBC, BBC, FOXNEWS, and newspaper editors who are much more into money taking by blindly supporting in print, the killing of innocent Peoples in Our Name through Israel, for the stolen cash kickbacks, by just claiming they don't hear US really screaming.. Ever? Never?

Sad, but without your generous dollar donation to the cause, (meaning more than being near less than nothing you people'll please give me in return,) i may yet go short again, so our bankers can take even greater monies by investing in our denied "failures". How about supporting my rise to demand public debate on Justice actually Ruling: by Publicly arresting for Public Trial by TV Jury, Mr. Bush and Cheney immediately, for the crimes of high treason as a major misdemeanor. 1. They closed down investigations following the 911 crime scene leads, designed by the lawMakers of the Land to capture the actual terrorist bad guy leaders of true evil - you know, the Crooks. (Obstruction is serious!) NOBODY disagrees?, publicly? ! SEE? CNN CBC AND FOXNEWS ain't really taking our calls for listening then are they for Justice? It could be dreamed that we are only refused for to be, not valid as fairly recognized. Like, how absurd! that Obama's preacher suggests supporting WAR crimes AGAINST HUMANITY, is a crime against God too? See, corporate America couldn't give a dying soldier a clean glass of water to save his forsaken life, because hey!, who cares? CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS certainly don't care about escaping the bushite enemy responsible for the lives lost through the crimes of 911, and so on.... but my friend... do you?? Believe I mean.. In Justice winning a Freedom for all included? Leaving US to silent media condemnation, is to leave yourself a place as History. When a bushite dies, I celebrate the saving of innocent lives.

All irrational bushite dumfuk are godless enemies of Humanity, and worthy the death sentence to defend our dying innocent families they target as theives to murder for the zionist neocon liars. Who actually committed 911.

So,

Send this post to your favorite talk host, newspaper, or bar message board if sparing me a few dollars from Japan seems rather obscure. All for the sake of knowing a brother's down on his luck to find some love for Liberty in America.

King Johnny Wizard

P.S. I seriously need to eat.
Please help me, by supporting our cause to not starve to death. If you appreciate my words in defense of the once great Human race, donate a few dollars to this cause. Justice and Freedom for all, especially God as Just, and worthy our praise for Peace. Donate me leastly five dollars for milk and bread please.

How They Voted: Torture Bill
http://www.cbsnews.com/stories/2008/03/11/ap/congress/main3927680.shtml

These be criminals of the worst order. In America, today, the standing Reagan Law, demands that these bushite enemies of God serve a minimum of 25 years, for knowingly supporting the war crimes actions of torturing innocent Peoples to Death. As President, with the Armed Forces in tow, we will arrest, try, and convict all these demon enemies of freedom for Americans.

Look, we have to realize: everyone knows a bushite cop killer thief is a cowardly enemy of America, who wars God and Humanity

as OUR ENEMIES for the criminal escape of the neocon Zionists responsible personally for 911.

Proud bushite enemies of God and Man state:

http://www.forum.militaryltd.com/tun-tavern/m10997-zarqawi-had-close-call-marines.htm

"Heaven Won't Take Marines and Hell Is Afraid They'll Take Over."

See? A bushite is an enemy of the Family, who rapes and murders for the demon antichrist thieves. Dishonorable to the core of what it means to be a free man, they die in cowardice, too afraid to defend what's right as true. A liar, a thief, a murderer, that is what a bush whore nazi grunt who states life must die for as lawlessness. They war Humanity as bush whore slaves for the escape of the neocon liars of 911. (General Ahmad funded Atta) They support torture by silence, they support raping women by silence, they support robbing The Peoples by silence, and they support killing themselves for FOXNEWS to continue LYING to America about what it costs to be Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of freedom in

A Zionist liars website:

I didn't do 911?, least not responsible for closing outstanding criminal investigations on who personally was responsible: Bush and Cheney, Zionists. Not Jews. Zionists believe Israel should not be defended from war criminals who bomb Jewish communities indiscriminately to murder children with millions of landmines. Condi, zionist witch, ordered the dropping of near seven million land mines on Lebanon, with the first strike targets to be JEWS pin pointed by the anti-Israeli racist nazis. Jews, who are so, no matter where we eek out a significance. CBC, CNN, and FOXNEWS with George Norry refuse to take my challenge for public accountability as Zionist enemies to Life. Nazi Israelis steal innocent peoples homes, period. Who's in charge here Kangaroo?? Eh?

Conspiracy of Conspiracies

March 7th, 2008, George Norry
'Why is it that we can never find the big foot?'

Ask the more good than bad Alex Jones why he refused to ask Lou Dobbs why he hasn't reported that General Ahmad funded Ahmad? I know why.. Because Alex Jones once again, with Dobbs, whored for the demon antichrist's escape for the treasonous acts of 911 committed in his name.. What is Alex Jones when he alleges George Norry, who's into killing innocent kids, is anything but a traitor deserving the death sentence through public trial? Justice as Freedom?, or more go nowhere NWO shadow government bullshit to escape the ungodly zionist neocons personally responsible for the crimes of 911. I demand a Presidential debate with America where Alex Jones can't hang up on US, while claiming to ourselves as the audience, that the truth tellers hung up himself, honest John. Alex Jones suggested yesterday that ALL those who criticize himself on anything, without naming names, are just jealous. Again, Mr. Look! it's a Prison Planet is not qualified to lead a Peoples towards freedom through Justice wanting. (Qualified to lead the news however, granted, one of the best, IF NOT THEE. (Except for Zionism, Health Care, Immigration, feminine Rights, Banking Issues, and a.. Trade Law))

Mr. George walker Bush is the primary CAUSE for almost all the criminal transgressions against God in America and abroad, since the demon stole the initial election back in 2000. Alex's contention that Mr. Bush and Cheney isn't worth attacking personally with our Laws on treason for defense, (all because theys not responsible for nuting, as his NWO "Puppets",) IS Tyranny of the worst order. Ask anyone, including Alex if he could get his chumped "ego" out of the way. Truly, "Socialized medicine" can also mean paying half as much, with double the coverage. Middle men are our answer givers when it comes to Americans questioning the system of injustices inflicted. Did you know: Private Insurance Companies can clear 70 percent of money invested? NOW... wHy wOuLd wE Do tHaT? If we had the free choice to decide for ourselves I mean, "I" am asking "You"??

Justice is what ALL want for 911. The State of Vermont just ordered all State troopers to not stop Bush on arrestion for High Treasons. Newsworthy in corporate America? YOU decide, or don't. Mexican troops, funded by American tax payers, are selling dope in America for Bush and Co. openly now.. Who are you going to call?

Who IS running this bushite nazi liar show, where they, our elite corporate media masters, kill our stupid kids with their flagrant naked monster lies, while refusing all calls for clarity, Johnny America really wants to know. Like immediately. Help us out here some man, don't be evil.

Petraeus Threatens to Murder More Innocent Peoples!

/ / Gen. David Petraeus said. "We can feel it and see it, and what we're trying to do is rip out any roots before they can get deeply into the ground." \ \

As the President, I will demand Petraeus explain himself. If he refuses, I will order the military to arrest him on sight for lowly treason. We know already, that every bomb that goes off to murder indiscriminately, that isn't credited by bushite THIEVING enemies, is blamed on bin Laden, without the least of any investigation, according to Petraeus' own staff, as so reported on PBS. He, Petraeus is an enemy of AMerican GIs, by refusing to order them all to hunt to kill the neocon terrorists responsible for 911. TREASON is anyone's book. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of God in America.

THIS IS TREASON

Bogus Iran story was product of Pentagon spokesman

Porter identifies Bryan Whitman, the Pentagon's top spokesman, as the culprit for the spurious [TREASONOUS] account.

Fifth Fleet commander Vice Admiral Kevin Cosgriff denied that his ships had been close to firing on the Iranians. So did destroyer commander Jeffery James. \ \

Remember, these bushite are trying to con leaderless America into a another needless conflict, where we die for their growing riches as war mongering privateers of this, our 'popular will' contesting as defeated already.. Johnny America for Presidential Election Questions! Or, go back to dying needlessly then as dunfukked "Bushite", you losered.

President Clinton - "We look like [DYING] idiots, folks,

THE 'ESCAPED"] to murder people all around the world," to
"America" silenced by censorship practiced by the demon enemy George Norry, making lawless and godless, synonymous with good will and charity. Where's the reason for George Norry to be happy about godless tyranny destroying GOD'S undefended America I ask YOU? George Norry is what is referred to in the bible as a Demon.

Fight back for Freedom, Fight back for God, or rightly die a cowardly victim to eternal life's desperate struggle against the bushite's tyrannical barbarity where indiscriminate bombings with torture and rape is not worth getting anyone publicly arrested over, and courts with lawyers are banned to practice by the war criminals left in charge without questions given or answered, while YOU continue to pay dying in silence.
Pick up YOUR phone, and make the call to talk radio to-day.
Demand Justice for America, demand Justice for God.

Demon Livney "The world should respect ANY ACTION taken by

So, UNGODLY nazi Israel can put millions of innocent people in concentration camps, because hey, it's to protect the enemies of Mankind who routinely steal innocent peoples homes, while murdering our children indiscriminately with land mines for Satan. U.S. Army Sergeant Logan Laituri - "The problem that we face in Iraq [AND ZIONIST AMERICA] is that policymakers in leadership have set a precedent of lawlessness where we don't abide by the rule of law, we don't respect international treaties, so when that atmosphere exists it lends itself to criminal activity," ..by rapists and torturers who OPENLY practice a hatred for G-D unprecedented in world history. The Nazis of WWII have nothing on bushite enemies who sing and cheer on video available at YouTube for the murders of innocent god loving children. (Just like REAL DEMON censor George Norry advocates publicly by the way without contention) Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of a liberating Mankind. Accountability is what ALL PEOPLE WANT. The term "Socialized medicine" is a CON to CHEAT YOU better health care through science ruled by wiser men greater than Alex as mathematically provable. Justice is Freedom, Not Alex Jones liberty where America is destroyed just as Alex says it will be, and there is nothing YOU can do to save yourself. George Norry has ruled that Alex Jones will always be forbidden to speak of General Ahmad on HIS broadcast, and ALEX AGREED TO SUCH TERMS. Don't even bother to pick up your phone to call someone who cares for "Freedom" in "America" - unless you're going to blame Arabs, Aliens, the Illuminati, or big foot.

Phone Coast to Coast and ask the demons how it figures the NWO plays more a significant role on 911, than "The Puppet" false accuser, Mr. George Walker Bush, enemy of GOD and Man?

/ / "I grabbed her little sister and put her in front of me . . as the bullets began to fly, the blood sprayed from between her eyes, and then I laughed maniacally." [, then were heard the cheers of godless bushite dumfuk traitors obscening to God and Man as the unholy enemy.]

Are you telling me, an American Father, wouldn't gloriously kill this lawless bushite TRAITOR and his demonic ilk, for our love of girls everywhere? Or like those that speak zero defenses for Haditha's confessed MASS MURDERING irrational women and child killers? Support our calls for open debate on our international warring our lives by forbidding US speaking for freedom's stake. "A free man shall not be imprisoned" is not ideology, it is the freedom to be freely communicated. To except CNN and FOXNEWS is unbiased when it comes to kidnapping and torture, war criming and poisonings, is to except corporate news interests do not serve the interests of defending US, the dying forsaken public. The waves are ours. Let Johnny speak for public challenge on Coast to Coast.

Bushite are Traitors

Look, you may ask yourself, how could any 'human' in America, promote the needless deaths of American kids to feed the greed of EVIL neocons personally responsible for 911. Well, here's YOUR proof. This "American" traitor michael thistle and co., argues not a word against US because it knows we're godly as true, and the demonic bushite, a soulless enemy of God and Freedom. A bushite is an enemy of every human struggling against tyranny. Don't believe US? Just ask the silent censor of screams for Justice michael_thistle.. Happy George Norry, CNN, or CBC that REFUSE our calls for true liberty similarly. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad, and we have

SEE? Soldiers who Hunt to kill a bushite, hunt to kill the enemy of every living person. They are enemies of truth, as enemies of Justice for Life. It, as a zionist KNOWS, is an enemy to freedom and God in Britain by supporting indiscriminate warfare, such as torture by suggesting we have no power to demand evidence to form OUR conclusions on who is good or evil.

Heaven Won't Take Marines

Did you know: American tax payers openly pay the salaries of death squad goons who murder defenseless innocent families in Iraq TODAY as The Enemy?

Support my call for open communications to demand Justice for any, as freedom for all.

George Walker Bush, "The Puppet" is GUILTY of TREASON a thousand and one times over already. We all love Alex Jones, but this nwo bullshit doesn't apply to the lawless demon enemies who inflict harm on our humanity because they confusingly tell US, they enjoy it. Murder, rape and pillage for the sake of murdering, raping, and pillaging. Look, I'm sure we'd be able to easily work out our differences, if George Norry's amerka would take our calls for clarity, on Justice ruling our ways to a fool's paradise where those accused of a crime without any evidence would be US, as the INNOCENT forsaken in God's good name.

Look, November 7th, the demon antichrist stated he and the neocons ordered the murder of more than a million innocent Iraqis indiscriminately because, he was simply enforcing UN resolution 1441. HE LIED. [how else could the UN officially declare bushites as war criminal? NO CAUSE!!] And multi-million dollar salaried, "American" reporters, who full time, claim to represent American interests while you slog double full-time for corrupt private bankers, refused to call him on it to defend ourselves from his easily provable demonic tirades against God as the innocent. On the scene, and still today... YOU, as American are TRULY dying for George Walker Bush's continuing LIES. Johnny Wizard is Forever King of this moment being. If you can't believe it is important for you to raise your cries for justice likewise, we're all going to be done for lost to indifference. Defeating the neocon is serious business my brothers, serious business.

You and I

Our Demon Enemy Lying Leader Mr. Bush speaking recently, "You and I believe in accountability", "People should be responsible for their actions", "My number one priority is to protect you" "All human life is precious and deserves to be protected." Just words from the demon in HIS nation that drops 47,500 lbs. of bombs to indiscriminately murder Iraqis while paying [whoknowswhere] salaries to 80,000 al-qaeda in a nation the antrichrist forces occupy, all the while, holding George Norry a great host for supporting the war crimes of bushite thieves who target innocent children to steal further from our undefended Graces. As George Norry happily sends CONNED or cowardly America to their treasonous doom, for the zionist neocons personally responsible for the terror crimes of 911. The George Norry is an enemy to God and Humanity by conning Americans into not allowing open line communications on any relevant human interest story involving the criminal sacrifice of Justice for America. No, instead, more bullshit on AREA51. AREA 51 where toxic waste is illegally burned for cash profit at the loss of REAL American lives paid for in CENSORED collateral. You die as An American for the treasonous con of Coast to Coast hosts who forbid open dialog on the reasons for why YOUR nation wars innocent others to thieve from. Remember, the REAL DEMON George Norry gives an endless stream of bushite dumfuk who endlessly praise George for supporting the neocon murders of more than a million INNOCENT PEOPLE by forbidding truth to be sought concerning our circumstances. And YOU, yes YOU, are meant to feel alone in your concerns on the fact that the neocons are trying to escape their rightful arrest for the crimes of mass murder. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad. George Norry is a DEMON traitor who's con is on just playing happy as a polite demonic sadist, who silents on for the murder of soldiers - who are as dumb as we come. George Norry deserves to be TRUTHFULLY exposed for what he denies as America's privilege, freedom and justice for all.

GLORY OF THE CORPS - A Real Man Speaks for Freedom

Coast to Coast hosts wont take our calls, but they did take several demons on Wednesday, one in particular who figured he could be a "god" too, by supporting the indiscriminate murder of Iraqis to defend the evil zionist neocons in hiding. But, what did GOD in Iraq have to do with the bushite responsible for the DEATHS of 911?, or the DEATHS of all Arabs in around the naive age of 15? George Norry didn't ask.. Another demon witch allowed on our air said at great lengths, she appreciated that the demon antichrist Bush lies continuously to dying soldiers because that's the only way to blindly defeat terrorists.. (evil = good) George speaks nothing but happy silences in trusting warmly with dying US all for ignorance as belligerent criminal negligence. Again, the demon enemy of God refuses US to open communications on any relevant subject involving the sacrifice of American lives. Staying happy, he figures that's all it will ever take to defeat Americans lost in doubt on his contempt for all Peoples lives, is to simply forbid knowledge from escaping his charade. He told US previously, he'd go ballistic against any soldier who refused a criminal order. So, when marines are asked, as reported, if they'd murder their own parents without reason for the glory of the Corps., would George Norry shoot "them" as traitors for asking simply now why would WE do that? See something here my friends behind these great words of wonder? Demand open communications regarding our demands for the arrest of those truly responsible for the crimes of mass murder in America on 911 back in New York city.

innocent. And worth MY protection. NewsCorped America is not

> God didn't will it. Man willed it.

Well, a criminal willed the murder of another, and now it thinks it can't be arrested because it says for US to do so, would be anti-Jew. And no, I'm sure Johnny would word it in today's climate, arresting a murderer for murder. See? A true "Jewish State" would be one where all people were treated fairly, as the actions of a peoples who believed in God as holy an' righteous. Not thieving terrorists killing people to steal further from our good graces.

Bushite are using Satanic Rituals While Torturing the Innocent

http://media.switchpod.com/users/democracynow/ftp/dn2008-0111-1.mp3

Bushite enemy to Innocent prisoners "Satan is your God now." (seen on many bushite tanks "666" Praising Satan while chanting, "whore yeah, whore yeah", while raping, thieving, and murdering as antichrist enemies of EVERYONE - including GOD, if can you believe what is witnessed before all.)

Bushite ENEMY interrogators use Satanic ceremonies ordered by Maj. Gen. Geoffrey D. Miller, during the torture of INNOCENT People to death they kidnapped, all because American religious males refuse, "Christians", so far, refuse to kill SATANIC bushite on sight for true freedom and Liberty. Do not except the excuses of bushite nazis, that being openly Satanic for Bush's Skull and Bones, and the Bohemian Grove, is to war for Freedom and Democracy in the New american Century. The Son of Man States to all religious PEOPLES: Kill a bushite to defend God in America. If necessary, You, as a dying America, shall give every last drop of Christian blood you have to bill the unarrested Satanic General Miller and his praising DEMONIC ilk for their murderous treasons against GOD and Man. (Atheists included die too with these routine indiscriminate bombings don't you know anything.) All because America still refuses to demand Justice for 911. Make the call, be a man. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad. Bush, "The Puppet", needs to be tried PUBLICLY for 911, putting mercury in American vaccines, torture, Afghanistan, Iraq, and the Military Commissions Act.

Still cowardly as evil is always ignorant. More committed to colonies for the French like Haiti, than Freedom for the Human beings granted the rights to Liberty.

Joker to the Thief

We laugh with Jon Stewart regarding the seven Christians set up by the bushite to be al-kinda, to be put to death, or serve life term prison sentences as the Innocent. BUT remember, CNN is serious. Pro-zionist CNN, with salaries in the tens of millions, will lie cheat and steal from Christian Americans while smiling. Sending you to death while cashing in on all the 'free' loot. Funny?

/ / He said they [the innocent humans] are like dogs and if you allow them to believe at any point that they are more than a dog then you've lost control of them \ \ Who'll save the life of an innocent Dog from the savagery of the bushite enemy grunter though...

If the Editor disagrees, love him anyway - if the paperboy shrugs, take the moment to explain - DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONS ARE CRITICAL. So says Johnny the Dictator. (realize: the tabulations haven't even been formally released, and CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS told US who won before ANYONE was granted the opportunity to force such MEASURED conclusions. We were asking for a re-count before the count was even measured. If mathematically, 2 plus 1 doesn't equal 3, we are doomed. I want to participate in the President's Debate for Freedom's cause - Liberty and Justice for All. Paper ballots, paper ballots, arrests, arrests. Otherwise, we shall be politically entertained by McMcCain! Help us! help us! No funny.. 100 years of dying Humanity as murder victims sound laughable? Zionists of today, all abled men bill for Justice to defend our innocent lives, for, they as Satanic liars steal from US as the ungodly. Real Jews don't murder innocent people to steal their rights to Life for money. Nothing worse than a Zionist nazi "jew" with money they never earned, but stole in the names of the suffering Peoples. We, the Jew of Jews now kill 'lawless' bushite daily for the pleasures of all Humanity. People: I am your Leader commanding you to take action to save ourselves. Pick up a phone and call someone to care about this sacrifice of liberty to tyranny for the Bushmob version of 'paradise' by FEMA. We want accountability. Arrests most specifically. Listen, I want to participate in the Presidential Debates. Get me in there.. come on.. I'm taking over the World. John Brain's the name, and fooling the game. Who's in? To think: wow man, Johnny, the boy wonder, and God - as science to the core of the unknown we bring we to say, Man, we are Being kinda foolish to our reason for being here quiet like. I mean to discuss things.. oh yeah, right, King me. Join the Human race to reach a new world of intelligent development through design thought out as understood, not faithed in blindly, so some private wall street banker can walk away with our lives through leveraging the market by ignorance. A Hedge Fund manager can "earn" a salary exceeding 1.5 billion dollars. Something there just isn't right, isn't right. It's an issue relevant to our current circumstances. Circumstances that should carry more interest than an Alien from another world - not Johnny though... anyone but Johnny America.. he makes me look bumd

I state my case, and I state it well.

You Better Watch Out

God is coming to town for bushite nasties on his sled of make defense of ourselves the innocent. The innocent that a 'lawless' bushite holds for ransom in pain dying. Hell hath zionist criminal waging war against Life as our shared Universe, 'escaping' those who personally carried out 911.

Bush, Cheney, Rumsfeld, Condi, and Myers as topped suspects.
Other 911ers will tell you no no no, it's impossible to apprehend them all, for the arrows can go on for never. Bush personally closed criminal investigations on 911 immediately after the terrorist event of no questions occurring. The Bush administration were well aware of their PERSONAL dealings with the Taliban prior to the "Pearl Harbor" event conveniently occurring. And they were all most certainly aware of the plans in place to: within weeks, invade Afghanistan for Enron to stave off criminal proceedings. Walla! Johnny G wills every able bodied man, woman, and child to defend ourselves against bushite that indiscriminately murder ourselves for cash profit. Stolen profit. Ours. By the Will of US alrighty, we shall recognize...

The King Has Arrived

Look, let's "say" Peter Power didn't do the crime he did, and told us so for our own benefit, it would still SUIT Peter Power for him to be arrested immediately for the crimes of 7/7. For it is Peter that alleged HE was running terror drills at the same time and locations of those that murdered many good people from London. London England. Privately, with his bud at Scotland Yard he's saying. I'm sorry, all Bobbies do not want to kill indiscriminately so Peter Power will score a few extra BILLION dollars to hypno mug us to say we can't find'em no matter how hard we look.[ILLUM I NATII]. Americans are just poorly being spoken for, by those who lack the skills to win justice denied from the average Joe who knows so.

A Dying God

Look, these soldiers who war for enemy Bush are not warring for freedom as Justice for Ourselves.

Evidence is Everything

there is more than enough supporting impeachment of washington insiders, but the news media refuses to say so to defend our dying interests.

Let's demand CNN, BBC and CBC respect our interests by publicly advocating accountability in respect to the terrorist acts of 911. Their position of neutrality is unwarranted in respect for our victimized selves due to indiscriminate warfare. The Iraq war has no legitimate cause, for they are warring to bring about an end to what they started/starting. Nazi fascist Cowards, as enemies to every man woman and child speaking.

the great Iraqi People. A soldier in the air force, is a dishonorable nazi savage, worthy the death sentence for assisting in bombing Humanity indiscriminately as zionist enemies of Christ, attempting to destroy Johnny's America with their provable DEMONIC LIES. Death to the bushite enemies of Life, who lawlessly war Creation with torture and slavery to 'escape' the neocons for 911. Your magic TV exec excuses don't mean squat when the facts are so readily available. But a bushite don't read, or write, or think freedom. Zionist enemies of ALL Our humanity, murder to believe US won't ever hunt them down by Law to defend ourselves over. Hammurabi LAWS to bill the false capital accusers first, and everything else will fall into place. [note: Hammurabi founded Civilization.]

Christ Begs America

If there is ever a reason Christ begs Americans to joyously, with pride, bill a bushite terrorist enemy of God, it is with the actions General Sattler took in murdering more than 200,000 defenseless innocent people in Fallujah. At youtube you can see and hear these grunts cheering "whore yeah" in praises to the demon antichrist, while committing horrendous war crimes Nazi Germany would have been proud to see the bushite die for. They walk through the city, killing every woman and child they find hidden. No Joke: first strike targets - Health Care Clinics. I am serious.

Can not even an American scream mercy for ourselves as "The People"? Bill a bushite demon enemy for the love of children everywhere. While demanding emergency water, food, and medicines be trucked in by the plane load. Do it or truly die American, do it or die. Christ grows angry with Americans who refuse to even pick up their phones to express outrage, it's as if, Americans, er.. I guess amerikans, couldn't care less for our dying Humanity. Support our rise for debate worldwide my friends, worldwide. America sucks.

Exit strategy: Outlaw lawlessness. Murder, rape, and the thieving of billions from America as STILL wrong.

I'd like to see Americans enforce the law of the land, and advocate the public execution of those responsible for torture. Again, the TV celebs pretend there is actually some possible meritable argument to support these truly demonic actions as criminal. Bushite have admittingly kidnapped innocent people, then tortured them to death for the pleasures of doing so, 'knowing' also, that they couldn't be held accountable to US, the human species. All for hating us so as loved by Life. They say, we're too weak to stand for freedom's defense against naked tyranny - While Johnny says otherwise: Death to those who advocate torture in war time, for there is no legitimate argument, but for the practice of censorship to understand why the Laws against torture have never failed for defense, but, for the treasonous actions of a Bill O'Really, who recently reported internationally that the majority of Americans support torture, because it means.... blahblahblah -- Bill Bill. For, it warrants the death sentence in America. Still. Bushite are the enemies of US

Today, there is nothing more i wish, than to hear bushite nazi savage thieves for the neocon die rightly, before the innocent they target for murder. All in an attempt to 'escape' those truly responsible for the crimes of 911 a bushite whore practices, as an enemy to Christ and America.

I AM AMERICA

Sattler ordered the murder of more than 200,000 innocent people in Fallujah, and they speak nothing but lies on how such demonic behaviors are godly as just ignored. Our Lives forsaken, as they hold their very own to die sacrificed for the unelected traitor neocon. I AM AMERICA.

America MUST demand war crime trials for the propaganda CNN broadcast "Anvil of God" regarding the demonic actions of Bravo company. They forgot to tell America importantly, nazi forces forbade the population from leaving, gunning originally for everyone between 15 to 55, but sided instead to murder infants and the elderly too, when beginning the Zarqawi campaign by bombing hospitals as first strike targets. As such, the bushite murdered many good doctors and nurses - so all to send bushite snipers on hospital near rooftops gunning for every seriously injured woman and child who tried to get help from the Humans. While driving down residential streets, grenading every home of humans being. Remember that when you hear these dishonorable bushite thieves die rightly for god and country.

See?.. women and children, who the enemy bushite forbade to leave the city with their innocent families, who, as were all living in the entire city of mosques conveniently found labeled therefore by bushite, "Insurgents" (or did leave earlier, and had our innocent families reportedly indiscriminately murdered two miles or so down the road by the most evil war crime act of recorded history.)

Importantly, there was no evidence made awared of, that legitimately offered PUBLICLY, from the UN or the U.S. to indicate a refugee camp anywhere, but for maybe a small group photographed - then some belligerent bushite bogus pocus - all headed up by a blatant traitor to America named Sattler. Reminder: after the indiscriminate carnage, they couldn't find near anyone for weeks who would take money offered to any citizen freely who survived for their satanic benefactor. So insanely disturbing as ungodly evil doing, war criminal Sattler called a halt to giving out charitable considerations from Americans to the unseen surviving victims - all in an 'escape' attempt to make it look better for US, the paying audience. So, where did our stolen values go to then eh? (Sattler's pocket no doubt.)

911 Leaders Saying They Are Jesus
http://rss.nfowars.net/20070802_Thu_Alex.mp3

911 financier Ahmad = al Qaida, and we have molten iron on video flowing like water. Demon Bush Jr. gave US zero, while closing criminal investigations immediately after the terrorist offense of no questions!, no questions! Case closed. But no, the American media rarely if never mention these facts, while insisting Bush's deathly war criminalling is as only a puppet, look away! look away!, leaving without challenge on the, teen like naivety of wearechange.org's consistence that "we", who demand justice for 911, who might also hold the opinion that zionist behavior does not blindly equal being Jewish, should not be allowed to speak Justly for our public challenge, because bushite Amerika has no defense for censorship against ANY of our judicial wanting, as documented positions on behalf of the suffering to death victimized public. Why? Because we are Just. Well, I try to be anyway. (I've spoken as written for YEARS, with NO ONE WORLD WIDE countering in the public realm, but for the strangely odd insult. Bushite do exist, don't get god wrong, but dumb evil bushite brood in darkness with censorship like all zionists do, selling to be 'godly' honorable men, when in truth, they'd murder anyone of US for a stolen nickel given to a neocon. I, as open line talk radio producer, win every time, always, forever, never fail. [er.. yet..] Why? Because I treat YOU fairly. America should do the same. We are all in this together. Zionists like robbing then killing defenseless innocent Christians, and Jews, while just lying that they don't without scened factual TV perception. Demon 911 WITCH, zionist Condi 'okayed' the dropping of more than SEVEN MILLION land-mines on Lebanon, purposefully done to indiscriminately murder ourselves for generations. Jason might foolishly call you an "anti-Semite" in fear for speaking such not understood truths. And importantly, not because they can publicly disagree so in open debate, so sides to not allow US to rise in acknowledgement to bring about Justice as demanded, for ALL as ANY. (Gee, who's the neocon now eh? (we're all sinners.))

If Americans really want 911 Justice:

Help US out by putting the video of molten iron flowing like water out there in the minds of any who have doubts, tell them

hypno mugger Bush, gave US zero to substantiate his public falsehoods, and tell US about Ahmad as more than a passing fact that means little of nothing, then, WE, The People, will believe this has more to do with Justice for Humanity, than the American suffering movie goer ego being, "leading the free world", by voicing no public concerns on the criminality of the bushmob shysters. Left happying in the George Norry, as a TRAITOR to a dying America not hearing. An enemy of Liberty to the, tried to be free soldier, who is led TO DIE still un-wittingly by lie for the misfortuned neocon bounty of global tyranny through coast to coast story lining. Look, the peenackers will tell you freakishly, that they work to lie to us all, to take advantage of a plain to view weakness. I swear. See? in Johnny's world, that "the Army" person would have been the FIRST questioned, then likely arrested. But look, it hasn't even been acknowledged as evil doing in progress. (Every time you read, "The Army says..", become aware.)

It should be noted, ungodly bushite enemy commanders call every car bomb in Iraq, al-Qaida, without even pretending to do freedom operations for YOUR protections, as just another dead body in the rubble. (Likely caused by Aegis for cash profit.) So then, look my friends, Amerka refuses to demand justice to save the lives of their very own sons and daughters. And when, WE, Humanity, beg them to answer our calls for accountability, they refuse but for to LIE, stating publicly, "God" would grant robbing from innocent others, to enrich their great unholy tyrannical demon liar. They know easily that the bushmob did 911, and they like it. No, they crave it. They Couldn't Care Less

The 82 Airborne, in assisting in defending the world wide distribution and production of heroin, tells of murdering innocent farmers, that would never raise a gun in anger, are those they openly confess to target for first degree murder as labeled the, second tier Taliban. That's when not defending American Pension thiever ENRON'S pipeline managed under their extremist Muslim fundamentalist regime of intolerance for public communications, as the continuing thieving of 80 percent the Humanitarian Aid given by Canada to feed the STARVING, and school our children of the impoverished Afghanistan, as so reported. Eighty percent. 80. 80 percent stolen. I'm telling YOU: CBC couldn't care less about what Canadian soldiers are actually dying as COWARDS for: "Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad" = "bush's ungodly partners in crime" CBC national radio management needs to be arrested in Canada for high TREASON. Please, be a Patriot, and demand these zionists allow open communication with the facts to save the lives of Canadians soldiers they hold in contempt to die as the bad guys committed to no better good.

The Pentagon's Power to Jail Americans Indefinitely
http://www.jonesreport.com/articles/270307_pentagon_power_jail.html

Look, CNN, CBC, and FOx News know the bushmob did 911, but will smile while watching your son or daughter sent out to die CONNED by their demonic hatred for US freely communicated. How do I know this? I made the effort of making the phone calls.

Equal rights for all in God's name is self evident. Self evident to ME anyway... but well.. who am i?, right - I'll tell you as I have for more than a decade as a living fiction forsaken for lack of anybody anywhere understanding in totality what I am here on Earth as true Son to Man - a 'understandable' timeless stand in for G to gain recognition through as honest broker. [I've been everywhere around forever, and.. blahblah.. I know people really don't care to know of ancient wisdoms, truths that guide the order to the Universe, cause often they think I'm beyond their comprehension as a 'better than', when all power is in equal respect for others as our hurting brothers and sisters suffering with tyranny by our collective willful ignorance on Justice.[God's bestest is Just for every reason being thus]] I am one serious genius by no accident in words you have as much right to contend for yourself being, if you'd only believe we have some good ideas here to really defend ourselves with.

Please my American friend, help US speak out freely Coast to Coast. So we together can start, on demanding Justice for all, as innocence in serious jeopardy. Dadullah is most likely an individual who holds at least some control over official military functions of NATO in the region. So, we're going to seed loyalties of the rare Patriots in the force to recognize our need to isolate who supports, not talking FREELY for peace easily in Afghanistan without question. No evidence was brought against Laden, therefore, the Taliban were True Patriots, and bushite traitors are pure racist nazi filth ridden, toxic, as being cowardly dishonorable as despicably evil, enemies to us all. Put US in Command.

Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad

Who IS running this bushite nazi liar show, where they, our elite corporate media masters, kill our stupid kids with their flagrant naked monster lies, while refusing all calls for clarity, Johnny America really wants to know. Like immediately. Help us out here some man, don't be evil.

Look: Aegis's workforce, for American PAYING profit, has been publicly disclosed through CNN to be shooting people in Iraq indiscriminately for your money, and when the Pentagon was contacted by Nick Roberts about what would be done, they responded, nothing would be done by Johnny's America but to increase the multi-hundred-million dollar contract with demon enemy Tim Spicer to continue. Now... why you ask? Because the neocon liars, steal money by lying to cowardly American kids about what they mindlessly, without thought, give their souls for. Tim Spicer openly hires South African goons to commit hardships for American GIs to die without end for, in lawless tyranny. Peace sells less money for the neocon war profiteers to murder the innocent American as. (Iraqis, along with the rest of Humanity's Men, WILL eventually learn this truth, or life for you will end.) As an Arab hating bushite, (like what you'd find as a publicly proud practiced hatred for all Humanity, by an Amerkan dumfuk soldier in Google's alt.religion.islam), they say nothing for Freedom by Justice, but root themselves to Spicer's monsters who like killing black guys, as world renown mass murdering racist nazi filth. Well said Mike. The world is not a poorer place because of the deaths

Youy know fuck all about the seal hunt....or the families that have been sealing for hundreds of years now. Yes.. seals are animals, oh so cute and cuddly... it they looked ugly you wouldn't give a shit.

Just to let the assholes know... sealers can face stiff penalties
If the seals are not killed quickly. pretty well the whole seal is used. Very little waste. And the particular seals that are harvested are not an endangered species.
So go to hell.
Tell me you jerk off... do you eat chicken or ham or beef?
The poor defenceless chickens are only weeks old when they are killed. Young cows, sometimes cute little baby cows are killed for food,
Oh.... they don't have the big cute eyes and look so cuddly like the seals? Go to hell.

When was the last time you protested against Kentucky Fried Chicken? (Or KFC as it's called now) Tell me jerk, do you wear

Can't answer the questions huh???
Anyone in your family hunt? Do you wear leather? Do you eat chicken? Or beef?
I just want to see how much of a hypocrite you are. Or how much of a liar.
You want to criticise others for the way of life they have lived for hundreds of years passed down through their families?

You have no respect for traditional ways of life in relatively isolated areas. People that struggle a bit more to live a life. Fish and hunt the way their families have done for generations... hundreds of years now. It's the life they know.

You know fuck all about the seal hunt asshole. Only what leftwing liberal/socialists have fed into your little weak mind.

And for anyone to laugh when they lose family in a tragedy on the hunt is sick.
Anyone who does that can go to hell and fuck off.

At that point.... I get pissed....

Be quite, when I want you to talk I will throw a stick at you.

And chickens don't get clubbed to death you idiot, or cows or any other that gives food.
But you are to stupid to see that aren't you?
Or is that what you lot over three do, club an animal to death you fucking neanderthal.
When you walk do your hands drag the floor?

Now go and sit and do something with your right hand.

I am NOT cheering at those who died, any human lose is bad, but no one gives a shit when men club seals to death do they.
There must be better way, a bullet is faster than any club or will that take the fun out of it.
